Proposes Move Whether Treaty Is Signed Or Not

VIENNA, Austria, May 3 (AP)—Russia tonight was reported demanding withdrawal of all occupation troops from Austria by Dec. 31 whether an Austrian state treaty has been signed or not.

Diplomatic sources said U.S., British and French envoys attending the five-nation conference to complete a treaty settlement did not immediately accept Russia's surprise proposal.

Austria, also taking part in the talks, was said to have agreed to the Soviet move.

No Official Confirmation

There was no immediate confirmation of the reported Russian proposal from official spokesmen for the five conference delegations.

The reported development topped the second day of discussions toward preparation of a final treaty text for possible signature by the Big Four foreign ministers in mid-May.

The envoys moved through 14 articles of the draft treaty and, although several difficulties still have to be settled, they now face a major point of the negotiations: how to revise the terms of the Russian-Austrian war reparations settlement.

Legal Processes Involved

Under Article 33 of the draft treaty agreed on by the Big Four in 1949, the occupying powers must withdraw their forces from Austria 90 days after a settlement is ratified. Complicated legal processes are involved that could delay the withdrawal of forces well beyond a Dec. 31 deadline.

There were unconfirmed reports that Soviet Ambassador Ivan I. Ilyichev indicated willingness to cut down the 90-day period in order to achieve a still earlier troop withdrawal.

Reports said the ambassadors encountered trouble today on two questions: repatriation of refugees and the size of the future Austrian army.

WINS THIRD TERM — Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro, Jr., shown casting his vote, won a third term in Baltimore's City Hall when he defeated Republican Samuel Hopkins yesterday. Complete unofficial returns from the city's 531 polling places gave D'Alesandro 119,097 votes to Hopkins' 94,960. Hopkins conceded less than three hours after the polls closed. (AP Wirephoto)

Billion In New Asia Military Help Planned

Johnson Discloses Figures Following White House Talks

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) said today the administration plans to give nearly a billion dollars in new military aid to Korea, Indochina and the Chinese on Formosa.

Johnson, the Senate Democratic leader, reported the figures following a White House conference he described as "helpful and hopeful."

A Senate Foreign Relations Committee spokesman later supplemented Johnson's report by saying the amounts he mentioned do not include the actual "hardware" of military aid, such as tanks, planes and guns.

3½ Billion Program

Such things, he said, are included in a $1,400,000,000 subtotal of President Eisenhower's 3½ billion dollar total aid program. The $1,400,000,000 is for nations around the world, Europe as well as Asia, and hence the amount for Korea, Indochina and Formosa could go well above their combined total of $968,500,000 in Johnson's report.

There was no breakdown of the $1,400,000,000 available, it being regarded as a military secret.

President Eisenhower and other administration leaders talked for an hour 40 minutes with 29 key Congress members, in a prelude to congressional consideration of the President's 3½ billion dollar foreign aid program.

452 Million For Korea

The bill carries $1,717,000,000 for military aid funds, $712,500,000 for economic aid and another billion for defense support payments to free countries around the world.

It had been previously disclosed about two-thirds of the total would be set aside for Asiatic countries. However, there has been no breakdown, prior to the partial one Sen. Johnson reported today.

Johnson said the administration plans to give 452 million dollars in military aid to Korea. The next largest slices of military aid would be 417½ million for Indochina including South Viet nam and 99 million for the Chinese Nationalists on Formosa.

General Killed While Leading Private Army

Battered Remnants Of Insurgent Force Continue To Retreat

SAIGON, South Viet Nam, May 3 (AP)—A general of the Cao Dai religious sect was shot dead tonight while leading his private army alongside Nationalist troops against retreating Binh Xuyen rebels with whom he once was allied.

Bullets spewed from an armored motorboat by Binh Xuyen commandos felled Gen. Trinh Minh The, a handsome young officer who in recent weeks has stalwartly supported Premier Ngo Dinh Diem in efforts to restore order and unity to South Viet Nam.

The ironic end of Gen. The (pronounced Tay) came as he was crossing a canal bridge in the Khanh Hoi region southwest of Saigon, a marshy triangle enclosed by canals that was believed to have been cleared of the rebels.

Defense Secretary Tran Trung Dung had announced only a few hours earlier that four of Gen. The's black-clad battalions—perhaps 2,400 men — had joined with government forces in a final drive against the Binh Xuyen.

Diem's Strength Grows

This was taken as another sign of Diem's growing strength in the face of rebellion and the displeasure of Chief of State Bao Dai.

Gen. The was prominent in the National Revolutionary Committee which Saturday declared Bao Dai deposed—an action expected to be confirmed tomorrow in a national congress convoked by Diem.

The Cao Dai general withdrew in March from the united front of opposition to Diem which had been formed by the Binh Xuyen, the Cao Dai and the Hoa Hao religious sect.

He had insisted that the united front avoid armed conflict with the government and had been ignored by Gen. Le Van Vien, commander of the Binh Xuyen army.

Civil strife, Gen. The declared then, could benefit only "the Communists and the colonialists."

Rebel Force Cut To 2,000

Today he was virtually commanding the second phase of the battle of Saigon against his former Binh Xuyen allies. It was the first time government and Cao Dai units had fought side-by-side.

As the fighting continued through the night, Vien was reported falling back farther south toward Go Cong, 30 miles from Saigon, with the battered remnants of his army, reduced from 5,000 to about 2,000 since it attacked government forces here last Thursday.

Gen. The's death leaves Gen. Nguyen Thanh Phuong, Cao Dai commander in chief, the sect's dominant figure. He, too, is a backer of the Revolutionary Committee and a Diem ally.

Roger M. Blough Named U.S. Steel Board Chairman

NEW YORK, May 3 (AP)—Roger M. Blough, 51-year-old lawyer and son of a truck farmer, today became board chairman of the $2,350,000,000 United States Steel Corp., the world's biggest steel enterprise.

He succeeded Benjamin F. Fairless who reached the company's retirement age of 65 today and stepped aside, as he put it, to surrender his responsibilities to "capable and younger hands."

Blough was elected at an organization meeting of the Board of Directors which followed by one day the annual stockholders' meeting at which Fairless announced his retirement.

Joined Big Steel In 1939

Blough's first connections with U. S. Steel were in 1939 and 1940 when he acted as associate counsel for the corporation during the investigation of the steel industry by the temporary National Economic Commission.

He was appointed general solicitor for United States Steel Corp. of Delaware in 1942. In 1951, when U. S. Steel merged its subsidiaries into U. S. Steel Corp., Blough became executive vice president-law, secretary, and a director of the corporation.

Fairless Remains On Board

He became general counsel and vice chairman in 1952.

Blough also succeeded Fairless as chief executive officer of the corporation. Clifford F. Hood, president of U. S. Steel since 1953, was designated as chief administrative officer and will be in charge of the operations.

Fairless, continuing as a member of the board and of the finance committee, was appointed chairman of the newly formed executive advisory committee of the board.

A Navy spokesman said a collection of inflamable gas exploded yesterday beneath the control room of a test cell at the laboratory. The blast caused structual damage to the building and dismantled instrument panels, he said.

President Given Formosa Report By Emissaries

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—Adm. Arthur W. Radford, fresh from a trip to Formosa, said today there is "no question" the Chinese Reds are building up their air strength on the mainland opposite the island.

The chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and Asst. Secretary of State Walter Robertson spent almost an hour with President Eisenhower, reporting on their recent Formosan visit.

But neither would discuss their report in any detail with newsmen.

Radford and Robertson flew to Formosa late last month for talks with Chiang Kai-shek, the Chinese Nationalist leader. While they were there, Red China's Premier Chou En-lai broadcast an offer to discuss Far Eastern tensions.

Prisoner Escapes

Virginia State Prison Camp officials identified him as James E. Morton who is serving a two-year term on a burglary conviction in Norfolk.

Children Need Discipline, Love, Mother Of Year Says

NEW YORK, May 3 (AP) — Be loving and forgiving, but use discipline when necessary. That is the way to bring up your children, the American Mother of the Year, a 75-year-old Utah farm woman, said today.

Mrs. Lavina Christensen Fugal, mother of four sons and four daughters, and grandmother to 34 children led off her advice to other mothers with "love your children," but said, too, hard work and devotion to God helped create a good family.

Mrs. Fugal, who was widowed 10 years ago, knows all about hard work. Her gnarled strong hands tell of years of picking fruit on her small farm, of preserving food by the hundreds of quarts, of the endless household chores, of the struggle to send her eight children to college.

"We never had a family car, we had a truck," she said simply. "The money went for schools."

She is the daughter of Danish immigrants who embraced the Mormon faith and settled in the little town of Pleasant Grove nearly 80 years ago. She remembers her mother digging out rocks and brush from the farm with her bare hands.

"I've had more blessings than it seems to me one person can stand," she said, close to tears," and for this I am indebted to Our Heavenly Father. We've had trials, financial difficulties, disasters —our one recourse has always been our Heavenly Father."

Baltimore Mayor Elected To New Four-Year Term

BALTIMORE, May 3 (AP)—Baltimoreans elected Democrat Thomas D'Alesandro Jr. today to a third straight term as mayor and sent a Negro to the City Council for the first time in 24 years.

His victory over Republican Samuel Hopkins was the 22nd straight for D'Alesandro, 51, son of an Italian immigrant, since he entered politics in 1927 as candidate for the State Legislature.

Dixon Tops Field

The unofficial totals also showed Democrat Walter T. Dixon, Negro, and head of a business school, topped five other candidates for three Council seats from the 4th District in north Baltimore. Complete returns from the 73 district polling places showed 13,766 for Dixon to 13,722 for Democrat Solomon Liss, the next candidate. Warner McGuinn and Walter S. Emerson, who served 1927-31, were the last Negroes on the Council.

Besides the mayor's chair, Democrats also swept the comptrollership and City Council presidency and appeared to have retained all 20 seats on the Council.

Woman Makes Strong Bid

The strongest bid by a Republican candidate came from Mrs. Margaret W. Sparrow, a 3rd District housewife, who trailed the closest Democrat, incumbent J. Joseph Curran, by 377 votes in return from all but one of the district's 150 polling places.

The 214,057 of 398,000 eligibles who turned out in day-long fair weather set a record total vote for a municipal election in the nation's sixth largest city. The previous high was 202,000 in 1932.

Hopkins, 41, widower and bank official, was the only Baltimore Republican in the State Legislature in 1950-54 but had lost in a race for Congress in the middle of that term.

Prospects Good For Atomic Test Explosion Today

SURVIVAL CITY, Nev., May 3 (AP)—The federal government, which warns that one hydrogen bomb can crush everything in 80 square miles, will try again tomorrow to demonstrate what would happen on the outer, survival fringe of such a blast.

Federal Civil Defense Administrator Val Peterson headed back from Washington toward this atomic proving ground when weathermen tentatively predicted that favorable winds at dawn tomorrow might permit firing an atomic bomb with the power of 40,000 tons of TNT. The blast has been postponed at intervals since April 26.

The weaponeers and Civil Defense experts in this test are using an ordinary type fission bomb, but of high power, as a measuring stick to determine the effect of a full-scale hydrogen bomb.

U.S. And Turkey Sign Atom Research Pact

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—The United States and Turkey today signed the first agreement for cooperation in the peaceful uses of atomic energy under the new Atomic Energy Act. President Eisenhower said: "This may be a historic day."

The agreement permits the leasing of uranium to Turkey and the release of information necessary for building and operating a research reactor in that country.

It must be submitted to the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, although the committee has no power either to approve or disapprove it. It cannot take effect, however, until it has been in committee hands for 30 days.

Ike Opens Tax Files

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—President Eisenhower today gave the Senate and House Government Operations Committees a new grant of authority to examine income tax returns.

Ferrell's Death Demanded; Jury Considers Fate

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 3 (AP)—Opposing lawyers pictured ex-prosecuting Atty. Arch Ferrell alternately today as a calculating, vicious killer and a victim of a murder prosecution that misfired.

The state insisted that evidence in Ferrell's two-week-old trial proved "beyond a reasonable doubt" that the ousted Phenix City prosecutor and former Chief Deputy Sheriff Albert Fuller killed vice foe A. L. Patterson.

But defense attorneys argued with equal vigor that Ferrell established an unshakeable alibi that cleared him of any part in the slaying of Patterson, the Democratic nominee for attorney general.

The case went to the jury at 4:40 p.m. (CST) with the state demanding death in the electric chair.

Patterson was shot to death at Phenix City last June 18 after winning the attorney general's nomination on a pledge to smash the reign of racketeering that had made his community notorious as a hangout for gamblers and other vice lords.

Fuller was convicted of first degree murder on March 11 and sentenced to life in prison. The third defendant, former Atty. Gen. Si Garrett, is suffering from a mental disorder and hasn't been called to trial.

Prosecutor Cecil Deason, a fiery courtroom orator, branded Ferrell as a scheming killer who tried first to steal votes from Patterson in the attorney general's race and then murdered him when they failed.

The state contends that the crippled former state senator was slain because he had vowed to clean up Phenix City and also to have Ferrell and other officials there removed from office for "malfeasance."

Gunpowder Found In Radio City Bomb

NEW YORK, May 3 (AP)—A small homemade bomb found in Radio City Music Hall yesterday contained enough gunpowder to kill anyone nearby, the Police Bomb Squad said today.

The bomb had been timed to explode at 6:30 p. m.—presumably Sunday night when 4,500 persons were in the theater—but the timing device was faulty and there was no explosion.

Cleaners found the bomb, a cylinder three inches long and 1¼ inches in diameter, wrapped in a black sock, under an orchestra seat at 4:45 a. m. yesterday.

Spanish Fleet To Be Modernized By U.S.

MADRID, Spain, May 3 (AP)—The U. S. Navy has agreed to modernize the Spanish fleet, the American Embassy said today.

The agreement was signed in Madrid Saturday, the announcement said, and provides modern equipment will be supplied for an "initial group" of 20 Spanish warcraft. Other vessels are to enter the program later.

Linda Christian Loses Ty Power But Gains Million

SANTA MONICA, Calif., May 3 (AP)—Linda Christian today lost Tyrone Power but gained a million dollar divorce settlement.

A Superior Court judge awarded the Mexican-born actress an uncontested divorce from Power, third generation star of a famous theatrical name.

"He wanted to be alone," Miss Christian, 30, said between crying spells.

Power's first wife, French Actress Annabella, used a similar story in 1948 to win $50,000 a year alimony.

Senate To Speed Decision On Ike's Trade Program

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—With opposition to President Eisenhower's foreign trade program dwindling in the Senate, agreement was reached today to limit debate and speed the bill to a final vote possibly tomorrow night.

The debate limitation agreement was offered by Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Texas), approved by Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican chief in the Senate, and adopted with almost no discussion.

Both Knowland and Sen. Byrd (D-Va), floor manager for the measure, expressed confidence that the bill would be approved substantially in the form it came from the Senate Finance Committee.

It would extend the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act for three years from June 12. It would also give the President authority to reduce tariffs up to 5 per cent each year during that period in return for trade concessions from foreign countries.

Executive Says Guaranteed Pay Business Threat

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—A business executive told the U.S. Chamber of Commerce today the guaranteed annual wage is "a beautiful rose" but that it has thorns which can scratch.

Demands of some unions for a guaranteed wage may endanger the expansion of some businesses and bankrupt others, Frank B. Cliffe, vice president of the H. J. Heinz Co., Pittsburgh, said at the chamber's 43rd annual meeting.

He advised business leaders to find out where the thorns are and "how much they can scratch you."

"Wrong Tool" For Job

Many firms, Cliffe said, have found it possible to regularize production and paychecks "with varying degrees of success." But he contended the risks are great for companies subject to seasonal fluctuations in sales or sensitive to the ups and downs of the business cycle.

"While I am in strong sympathy with the desire for steady work and correspondingly steady pay," Cliffe said, "the demand for a guaranteed annual wage seems to be using the wrong tool for the job.

Benefits Outweighed

"Certainly the destruction of an employer's willingness to expand and experiment and the bankruptcy of other employers who could not survive the additional load of payments demanded would harm employes far beyond the benefits they would have received."

In a speech before the chamber's trade association section, Atty.-Gen. Brownell told the businessmen the Justice Department's antitrust policy is aimed at "making real strides towards either cracking restraints on entry of new businesses into an industry or controls over price."

Certified Mail Stamp

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—The government announced today a special 15 cent certified mail stamp will be issued June 6, with its first day sale here.

Compromise Bill Provides Postal Pay Hike Of 8.8%

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—Senate-House conferees today agreed on an 8.8 per cent average pay raise for the government's 500,000 postal workers—well above the figure President Eisenhower has said would be acceptable.

The increase under the measure approved by the conferees, would be retroactive to March 1. It represents a compromise between the 8.3 per cent boost voted by the Senate and a 10 per cent bill passed by the House.

The President has indicated several times that he would not sign a bill providing for more than a 7.6 per cent boost.

The compromise bill would cost an estimated 178 million dollars a year as compared with 169 for the Senate measure and 220 million for the House.

It would give each postal worker a minimum 7 per cent raise. The remaining 1.8 per cent of increase would be accounted for by a reclassification plan demanded by the administration to remove inequities from present pay scales.

British Miners Strike

DONCASTER, England, May 3 (AP)—An unofficial strike shut down Britain's biggest coal producing area today and spread swiftly to other important pits.

By nightfall 44,600 miners had walked out, halting the flow of coal from all mines in the Doncaster area and some in neighboring Yorkshire regions.

The strike started two weeks ago in a dispute over pay for piece work.

Tear Gas Barrage Forces Defiant JP To Surrender

BETHEL, Vt., May 3 (AP)—Authorities, firing tear gas shells, tonight forced into surrender Manuel Miller, the justice of the peace who defied with a rifle attempts to remove his wife to a mental hospital.

Miller crawled out of the gas-filled house onto the front porch roof and gave himself up.

Mrs. Miller was brought out of the home over a ladder in a basket-like stretcher, apparently overcome by gas.

Miller, a mild mannered school committeeman and former selectman, came out of the house through an upstairs window. He was handcuffed by authorities and taken away.

Mrs. Miller was taken first to the porch roof where doctors tried to revive her. Later she was taken from the roof to the porch where physicians continued to work over her.

The 47-year-old Miller had flourished his rifle at a U. S. marshal and the Vermont public safety commissioner and ordered them out of the house saying:

"I will prevent any intruder from crossing my threshold."

Mrs. Lucille Miller, 44, publisher of a mimeographed anti-Communist paper called the Green Mountain Rifleman, was adjudged insane in Federal Court at Burlongton April 18.

When U.S. Marshal Dewey H. Perry showed up at the Millers' rambling six-room home this morning to take Mrs. Miller to St. Elizabeth Hospital in Washington, D.C., Miller refused to admit him.

Later, Public Safety Commissioner William H. Baumann tried to enter the house with two newsmen. Miller, wielding the rifle, met them inside the door and ordered them out.

President Given Formosa Report By Emissaries

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—Adm. Arthur W. Radford, fresh from a trip to Formosa, said today there is "no question" the Chinese Reds are building up their air strength on the mainland opposite the island.

The chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and Asst. Secretary of State Walter Robertson spent almost an hour with President Eisenhower, reporting on their recent Formosan visit.

But neither would discuss their report in any detail with newsmen.

Radford and Robertson flew to Formosa late last month for talks with Chiang Kai-shek, the Chinese Nationalist leader. While they were there, Red China's Premier Chou En-lai broadcast an offer to discuss Far Eastern tensions.

Prisoner Escapes

Virginia State Prison Camp officials identified him as James E. Morton who is serving a two-year term on a burglary conviction in Norfolk.

Baltimore Mayor Elected To New Four-Year Term

BALTIMORE, May 3 (AP)—Baltimoreans elected Democrat Thomas D'Alesandro Jr. today to a third straight term as mayor and sent a Negro to the City Council for the first time in 24 years.

His victory over Republican Samuel Hopkins was the 22nd straight for D'Alesandro, 51, son of an Italian immigrant, since he entered politics in 1927 as candidate for the State Legislature.

Dixon Tops Field

The unofficial totals also showed Democrat Walter T. Dixon, Negro, and head of a business school, topped five other candidates for three Council seats from the 4th District in north Baltimore. Complete returns from the 73 district polling places showed 13,766 for Dixon to 13,722 for Democrat Solomon Liss, the next candidate. Warner McGuinn and Walter S. Emerson, who served 1927-31, were the last Negroes on the Council.

Besides the mayor's chair, Democrats also swept the comptrollership and City Council presidency and appeared to have retained all 20 seats on the Council.

Woman Makes Strong Bid

The strongest bid by a Republican candidate came from Mrs. Margaret W. Sparrow, a 3rd District housewife, who trailed the closest Democrat, incumbent J. Joseph Curran, by 377 votes in return from all but one of the district's 150 polling places.

The 214,057 of 398,000 eligibles who turned out in day-long fair weather set a record total vote for a municipal election in the nation's sixth largest city. The previous high was 202,000 in 1932.

Hopkins, 41, widower and bank official, was the only Baltimore Republican in the State Legislature in 1950-54 but had lost in a race for Congress in the middle of that term.

Prospects Good For Atomic Test Explosion Today

SURVIVAL CITY, Nev., May 3 (AP)—The federal government, which warns that one hydrogen bomb can crush everything in 80 square miles, will try again tomorrow to demonstrate what would happen on the outer, survival fringe of such a blast.

Federal Civil Defense Administrator Val Peterson headed back from Washington toward this atomic proving ground when weathermen tentatively predicted that favorable winds at dawn tomorrow might permit firing an atomic bomb with the power of 40,000 tons of TNT. The blast has been postponed at intervals since April 26.

The weaponeers and Civil Defense experts in this test are using an ordinary type fission bomb, but of high power, as a measuring stick to determine the effect of a full-scale hydrogen bomb.

U.S. And Turkey Sign Atom Research Pact

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—The United States and Turkey today signed the first agreement for cooperation in the peaceful uses of atomic energy under the new Atomic Energy Act. President Eisenhower said: "This may be a historic day."

The agreement permits the leasing of uranium to Turkey and the release of information necessary for building and operating a research reactor in that country.

It must be submitted to the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, although the committee has no power either to approve or disapprove it. It cannot take effect, however, until it has been in committee hands for 30 days.

Ike Opens Tax Files

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—President Eisenhower today gave the Senate and House Government Operations Committees a new grant of authority to examine income tax returns.

Ferrell's Death Demanded; Jury Considers Fate

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 3 (AP)—Opposing lawyers pictured ex-prosecuting Atty. Arch Ferrell alternately today as a calculating, vicious killer and a victim of a murder prosecution that misfired.

The state insisted that evidence in Ferrell's two-week-old trial proved "beyond a reasonable doubt" that the ousted Phenix City prosecutor and former Chief Deputy Sheriff Albert Fuller killed vice foe A. L. Patterson.

But defense attorneys argued with equal vigor that Ferrell established an unshakeable alibi that cleared him of any part in the slaying of Patterson, the Democratic nominee for attorney general.

The case went to the jury at 4:40 p.m. (CST) with the state demanding death in the electric chair.

Patterson was shot to death at Phenix City last June 18 after winning the attorney general's nomination on a pledge to smash the reign of racketeering that had made his community notorious as a hangout for gamblers and other vice lords.

Fuller was convicted of first degree murder on March 11 and sentenced to life in prison. The third defendant, former Atty. Gen. Si Garrett, is suffering from a mental disorder and hasn't been called to trial.

Prosecutor Cecil Deason, a fiery courtroom orator, branded Ferrell as a scheming killer who tried first to steal votes from Patterson in the attorney general's race and then murdered him when they failed.

The state contends that the crippled former state senator was slain because he had vowed to clean up Phenix City and also to have Ferrell and other officials there removed from office for "malfeasance."

Gunpowder Found In Radio City Bomb

NEW YORK, May 3 (AP)—A small homemade bomb found in Radio City Music Hall yesterday contained enough gunpowder to kill anyone nearby, the Police Bomb Squad said today.

The bomb had been timed to explode at 6:30 p. m.—presumably Sunday night when 4,500 persons were in the theater—but the timing device was faulty and there was no explosion.

Cleaners found the bomb, a cylinder three inches long and 1¼ inches in diameter, wrapped in a black sock, under an orchestra seat at 4:45 a. m. yesterday.

The Bomb Squad deactivated the bomb today.

Spanish Fleet To Be Modernized By U.S.

MADRID, Spain, May 3 (AP)—The U. S. Navy has agreed to modernize the Spanish fleet, the American Embassy said today.

The agreement was signed in Madrid Saturday, the announcement said, and provides modern equipment will be supplied for an "initial group" of 20 Spanish warcraft. Other vessels are to enter the program later.

Linda Christian Loses Ty Power But Gains Million

SANTA MONICA, Calif., May 3 (AP)—Linda Christian today lost Tyrone Power but gained a million dollar divorce settlement.

A Superior Court judge awarded the Mexican-born actress an uncontested divorce from Power, third generation star of a famous theatrical name.

"He wanted to be alone," Miss Christian, 30, said between crying spells.

Power's first wife, French Actress Annabella, used a similar story in 1948 to win $50,000 a year alimony.

Senate To Speed Decision On Ike's Trade Program

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—With opposition to President Eisenhower's foreign trade program dwindling in the Senate, agreement was reached today to limit debate and speed the bill to a final vote possibly tomorrow night.

The debate limitation agreement was offered by Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Texas), approved by Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican chief in the Senate, and adopted with almost no discussion.

Both Knowland and Sen. Byrd (D-Va), floor manager for the measure, expressed confidence that the bill would be approved substantially in the form it came from the Senate Finance Committee.

It would extend the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act for three years from June 12. It would also give the President authority to reduce tariffs up to 5 per cent each year during that period in return for trade concessions from foreign countries.

Executive Says Guaranteed Pay Business Threat

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—A business executive told the U.S. Chamber of Commerce today the guaranteed annual wage is "a beautiful rose" but that it has thorns which can scratch.

Demands of some unions for a guaranteed wage may endanger the expansion of some businesses and bankrupt others, Frank B. Cliffe, vice president of the H. J. Heinz Co., Pittsburgh, said at the chamber's 43rd annual meeting.

He advised business leaders to find out where the thorns are and "how much they can scratch you."

"Wrong Tool" For Job

Many firms, Cliffe said, have found it possible to regularize production and paychecks "with varying degrees of success." But he contended the risks are great for companies subject to seasonal fluctuations in sales or sensitive to the ups and downs of the business cycle.

"While I am in strong sympathy with the desire for steady work and correspondingly steady pay," Cliffe said, "the demand for a guaranteed annual wage seems to be using the wrong tool for the job.

Benefits Outweighed

"Certainly the destruction of an employer's willingness to expand and experiment and the bankruptcy of other employers who could not survive the additional load of payments demanded would harm employes far beyond the benefits they would have received."

In a speech before the chamber's trade association section, Atty.-Gen. Brownell told the businessmen the Justice Department's antitrust policy is aimed at "making real strides towards either cracking restraints on entry of new businesses into an industry or controls over price."

Certified Mail Stamp

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—The government announced today a special 15 cent certified mail stamp will be issued June 6, with its first day sale here.

Compromise Bill Provides Postal Pay Hike Of 8.8%

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—Senate-House conferees today agreed on an 8.8 per cent average pay raise for the government's 500,000 postal workers—well above the figure President Eisenhower has said would be acceptable.

The increase under the measure approved by the conferees, would be retroactive to March 1. It represents a compromise between the 8.3 per cent boost voted by the Senate and a 10 per cent bill passed by the House.

The President has indicated several times that he would not sign a bill providing for more than a 7.6 per cent boost.

The compromise bill would cost an estimated 178 million dollars a year as compared with 169 for the Senate measure and 220 million for the House.

It would give each postal worker a minimum 7 per cent raise. The remaining 1.8 per cent of increase would be accounted for by a reclassification plan demanded by the administration to remove inequities from present pay scales.

British Miners Strike

DONCASTER, England, May 3 (AP)—An unofficial strike shut down Britain's biggest coal producing area today and spread swiftly to other important pits.

By nightfall 44,600 miners had walked out, halting the flow of coal from all mines in the Doncaster area and some in neighboring Yorkshire regions.

The strike started two weeks ago in a dispute over pay for piece work.

Children Need Discipline, Love, Mother Of Year Says

NEW YORK, May 3 (AP) — Be loving and forgiving, but use discipline when necessary. That is the way to bring up your children, the American Mother of the Year, a 75-year-old Utah farm woman, said today.

Mrs. Lavina Christensen Fugal, mother of four sons and four daughters, and grandmother to 34 children led off her advice to other mothers with "love your children," but said, too, hard work and devotion to God helped create a good family.

Mrs. Fugal, who was widowed 10 years ago, knows all about hard work. Her gnarled strong hands tell of years of picking fruit on her small farm, of preserving food by the hundreds of quarts, of the endless household chores, of the struggle to send her eight children to college.

"We never had a family car, we had a truck," she said simply. "The money went for schools."

She is the daughter of Danish immigrants who embraced the Mormon faith and settled in the little town of Pleasant Grove nearly 80 years ago. She remembers her mother digging out rocks and brush from the farm with her bare hands.

"I've had more blessings than it seems to me one person can stand," she said, close to tears," and for this I am indebted to Our Heavenly Father. We've had trials, financial difficulties, disasters —our one recourse has always been our Heavenly Father."

Tear Gas Barrage Forces Defiant JP To Surrender

BETHEL, Vt., May 3 (AP)—Authorities, firing tear gas shells, tonight forced into surrender Manuel Miller, the justice of the peace who defied with a rifle attempts to remove his wife to a mental hospital.

Miller crawled out of the gas-filled house onto the front porch roof and gave himself up.

Mrs. Miller was brought out of the home over a ladder in a basket-like stretcher, apparently overcome by gas.

Miller, a mild mannered school committeeman and former selectman, came out of the house through an upstairs window. He was handcuffed by authorities and taken away.

Mrs. Miller was taken first to the porch roof where doctors tried to revive her. Later she was taken from the roof to the porch where physicians continued to work over her.

The 47-year-old Miller had flourished his rifle at a U. S. marshal and the Vermont public safety commissioner and ordered them out of the house saying:

"I will prevent any intruder from crossing my threshold."

Mrs. Lucille Miller, 44, publisher of a mimeographed anti-Communist paper called the Green Mountain Rifleman, was adjudged insane in Federal Court at Burlington April 18.

When U.S. Marshal Dewey H. Perry showed up at the Millers' rambling six-room home this morning to take Mrs. Miller to St. Elizabeth Hospital in Washington, D.C., Miller refused to admit him.

Later, Public Safety Commissioner William H. Baumann tried to enter the house with two newsmen. Miller, wielding the rifle, met them inside the door and ordered them out.

Governors Discuss Ike's Highway Plan

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—State governors argued over the highway problem today and some bipartisan support lined up behind the administration's many-billion-dollar road building plan.

Gov. Walter J. Kohler of Wisconsin, chairman of the governors' highway committee, told reporters he intends to continue a "no compromise" fight for the plan before a House Public Roads subcommittee tomorrow.

However, there is some opposition among the governors.

Govs. Averell Harriman of New York and George M. Leader of Pennsylvania, for example, have found some fault with the financial features of the administration's program.

The chief executives of 45 states were in the final day of a two-day meeting, called by President Eisenhower, for briefings by top government officials on major foreign and domestic policies and problems.

Highways, education and polio vaccine were under discussion today. In between times, some of the governors were doing a bit of lobbying on highways with their state delegations in Congress.

The administration highway plan is a center of controversy on Capitol Hill—much of it focusing on a proposal to use bonds to raise much of the money.

A Senate subcommittee headed by Sen. Gore (D-Tenn) has approved a rival bill by the Tennessean to finance highway construction through regular appropriations. It calls for boosting the two-cent federal gasoline tax to three cents a gallon.

Gov. William G. Stratton of Illinois called Gore's measure "completely unworkable." Gov. Marvin Griffin of Georgia said he, too, is for the administration plan and against any increase in the federal gasoline tax. Gov. Robert Kennon of Louisiana took a parallel stand.

Missing Witness Search Fruitless

MIAMI, Fla., May 3 (AP)—Police in the air and on the ground searched fruitlessly today for Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ferri with little hope of finding them alive.

The mystery that has shrouded them for three days still hid their fate. In the comfortable home from which they disappeared, investigators gathered blood samples for laboratory tests and searched for fingerprints.

Clues pointed to violence. There were bloodstains in three rooms and the carport. A vase was broken, and a drapery pulled from a wall. The drapery and blankets, stained with blood, were in the bathroom.

Ferri, 68, sold his heating and plumbing company at Fort Lee, N. J., 18 months ago and moved to Miami. He had been a government witness in the income tax evasion trial of Albert Anastasia in 1948, testifying that he did $8,700 work on Anastasia's home in Fort Lee. The trial ended in a jury disagreement.

Ferri had been subpoenaed for Anastasia's second trial at Newark beginning May 10. Anastasia reputedly was one-time executioner for Murder, Inc., in Brooklyn.

Stassen Bars Firm From FOA Contract

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—Foreign Aid Chief Harold E. Stassen told senators today he has barred a Los Angeles firm and two individuals from any part of a grain storage contract. He said an investigation has disclosed an attempt to play favorites.

He made the announcement to the Senate Investigations subcommittee, which has been looking into negotiations by Stassen's Foreign Aid Administration for grain storage facilities in Pakistan.

When the Pakistan grain storage story first broke several weeks ago Stassen announced that he had investigated the transaction and found no evidence of any improper conflict.

He said that, as previously announced, he has rejected all bids for the Pakistan job and will call for new offers. But he declared a ban had been imposed on the Agricultural Construction Co. (Tacco); Alfred E. Poulsen of Los Angeles, its vice president, and Robert H. Pinner, already dismissed as project engineer.

Peron's Backers Act To Separate Church And State

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, May 3 (AP) — Political forces supporting President Juan D. Peron have prepared the way for quick congressional action to cut the ties between the state and the Roman Catholic Church.

As congressional moves for separation shaped up, the Catholic hierarchy denied again it is interfering in Argentine politics as charged by Peron.

The Catholic Episcopate, composed of the country's cardinals, archbishops and bishops, published last night a letter sent to Catholic action societies. It said:

"The church not only has not pretended to enter the purely temporal and strictly political domain of party conflict, but also has taken all means and precautions to avoid even the appearance of it in activities of Catholic action."

Separation of state and church, thus abolishing privileges Roman Catholicism enjoys as the official religion in Argentina, will take some time because it requires amendment of the constitution.

But starting tomorrow, Congress is ready to call an election for a constitutional assembly which would make the changes.

Three forces backing Peron—the General Confederation of Labor (CGT), the Men's Peronista party and the Women's Peronista party—are on record as favoring a formal break with the church.

Meeting Of Turnpike Commissions Delayed

HARRISBURG, Pa., May 3 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission said tonight its proposed meeting with members of the West Virginia Turnpike commission has been postponed until "sometime in June."

The meeting, scheduled for tomorrow, was to discuss a point of juncture on proposed extensions linking the toll roads of the two states somewhere along the Pennsylvania-West Virginia border.

Golfer Ike Wins Over Thai Premier

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—Prime Minister Pibulsonggram of Thailand today answered the question Washington reporters wanted most of all to know from him:

Who won the golf match yesterday at the Burning Tree Club—President Eisenhower or the Prime Minister?

Politely, the Prime Minister said the President won "by perhaps four or five strokes."

Accused Killer Ambush Victim

FORT WORTH, Tex., May 3 (AP)—Badman Cecil Green, a reputed Texas gang leader who was accused of killing a wealthy oilman, died today after being shot down in an underworld ambush last night.

Green, 39, and Leroy (Tincy) Eggleston, 49, also accused in the slaying of William P. Clark in 1953, were blasted by guns from three car loads of assailants as they drove into a darkened drive-in tavern.

Eggleston, slightly wounded, has refused to say why he and Green kept the mysterious rendezvous. He claims he doesn't know who did the shooting or why.

Eggleston dived out of the car and was found later huddled in a house near the drive-in. Police first reported the bloody scratches on his arm came from buckshot, but Eggleston later said he was cut by flying glass.

"We just pulled up" to the drive-in, Eggleston said, when the shooting started. He said the shots came from three cars parked across the highway.

Mata Hari, the famous German spy, was caught and executed by the French. Her real name was Gertrud Margarete Zelle—a dancer on the French stage.

Indiana Senator, Governor Carry Feud To Capital

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—Indiana's Gov. George N. Craig and Sen. William E. Jenner, two Republicans accustomed to feuding back home, engaged in a hot name-calling match in the capital today.

First Craig charged Jenner with uttering "neurotic" complaints about the GOP administration's foreign policy.

Then Jenner said Craig was "a monkey."

Craig said he was "bitterly disappointed that this senator should represent the state of Indiana."

Jenner said when it came to foreign affairs, Craig was getting in "over his head" and was being used as a "monkey's paw" by Republicans attempting to seize control of the party.

Washington was the scene because Craig came here with other governors for a briefing from Eisenhower administration officials on foreign and domestic problems. An aide said Craig decided to blast Jenner now on account of a speech the senator made on Far East policy last Thursday.

Jenner had said that "appeasers are cleverly trying to change the Formosa Resolution from a courageous stand on the world conflict with communism to a minor difference of opinion about a few little islands off the coast of Asia."

Craig whipped out a statement objecting that Jenner accused officials of the GOP administration of plugging "appeasement." He expressed shock that any senator "should utter such a neurotic statement."

Bus Strike In London

LONDON, Wednesday, May 4 (AP)—London bus drivers and conductors went on strike early today.

Suit Will Challenge Advertising Practices

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—Asst. Atty. Gen. Stanley N. Barnes said today he will file suit in New York City "within the next several days" challenging certain advertising practices in the publishing business under the antitrust laws.

Barnes, who heads the Justice Department's antitrust division, said the complaint has been drawn up naming the American Assn. of Advertising Agencies, the American Newspaper Publishers Assn., and four other newspaper and magazine publishers associations which he did not name.

He said public statements made by counsel for ANPA and the AAAA after announcement of the proposed suit by Atty. Gen. Brownell last week, made a negotiated settlement impossible.

The association said the government is trying to make it "the guinea pig" in an attempt to change the antitrust laws through the courts rather than through Congress.

Elisha Hanson, ANPA general counsel, said the proposed action centers around the ANPA's listing of accredited advertising agencies who then receive a 15 per cent discount from regular advertising rates.

Mendes-France Bids For Political Comeback

PARIS, May 3 (AP)—Ex-Premier Mendes-France starts a political comeback tomorrow with a bid to take over the machinery of his Radical Socialist party and make it live up to its name. He would guide it from the middle of the road toward the left.

Their fondest hope is that ex-Premier Edouard Herriot, 82, will resign the party presidency in favor of Mendes-France, the dynamic little lawyer who lost the premiership Feb. 5 through the National Assembly's vote of no confidence.

Then Jenner said Craig was "a monkey."

Craig said he was "bitterly disappointed that this senator should represent the state of Indiana."

Jenner said when it came to foreign affairs, Craig was getting in "over his head" and was being used as a "monkey's paw" by Republicans attempting to seize control of the party.

Washington was the scene because Craig came here with other governors for a briefing from Eisenhower administration officials on foreign and domestic problems. An aide said Craig decided to blast Jenner now on account of a speech the senator made on Far East policy last Thursday.

Jenner had said that "appeasers are cleverly trying to change the Formosa Resolution from a courageous stand on the world conflict with communism to a minor difference of opinion about a few little islands off the coast of Asia."

Craig whipped out a statement objecting that Jenner accused officials of the GOP administration of plugging "appeasement." He expressed shock that any senator "should utter such a neurotic statement."

Suit Will Challenge Advertising Practices

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP) — Asst. Atty. Gen. Stanley N. Barnes said today he will file suit in New York City "within the next several days" challenging certain advertising practices in the publishing business under the antitrust laws.

Barnes, who heads the Justice Department's antitrust division, said the complaint has been drawn up naming the American Assn. of Advertising Agencies, the American Newspaper Publishers Assn., and four other newspaper and magazine publishers associations which he did not name.

He said public statements made by counsel for ANPA and the AAAA after announcement of the proposed suit by Atty. Gen. Brownell last week, made a negotiated settlement impossible.

The association said the government is trying to make it "the guinea pig" in an attempt to change the antitrust laws through the courts rather than through Congress.

Elisha Hanson, ANPA general counsel, said the proposed action centers around the ANPA's listing of accredited advertising agencies who then receive a 15 per cent discount from regular advertising rates.

Mendes-France Bids For Political Comeback

PARIS, May 3 (AP)—Ex-Premier Mendes-France starts a political comeback tomorrow with a bid to take over the machinery of his Radical Socialist party and make it live up to its name. He would guide it from the middle of the road toward the left.

Their fondest hope is that ex-Premier Edouard Herriot, 82, will resign the party presidency in favor of Mendes-France, the dynamic little lawyer who lost the premiership Feb. 5 through the National Assembly's vote of no confidence.

New Dodge Custom Royal Lancer . . . glamorous "hardtop."

What's all this talk about "Price Class!"

It gets to be a little confusing—this talk about what "price class" a car is in.

Because this new Dodge (it's selling like a house-afire) is making a clean sweep in every price field—from the costliest to the so-called "low priced three."

Take owners who are used to paying a thousand dollars more for a car. This new Dodge has them asking, "What more could I get—what more is there?"

Money can't buy more luxury, more new and exciting features, more built-to-be-stared-at beauty than the dashing Custom Royal Lancer shown above. It's up to 9 inches longer than competitive models costing more!

And how about owners of the so-called "low priced cars"? They're finding out that a new Dodge, with all its dashing length and flashing style, can be theirs for only a few dollars a month more than one of the small cars—19 inches shorter and far less exciting.

The Dodge Coronet 4-door shown below actually costs less than some models in the lowest priced class.

Parents Likely To Be Younger And Families Smaller In 1960

By JOE MILLER

NEW YORK, May 3 (AP) — Technology may change the way we live in 1960, but people are still going to look and act like people.

As a population, though, and as a statistic, we're in for some changes.

A major economic study soon to be published by the Twentieth Century Fund says there'll be alterations in the family pattern, in life expectancy, in income.

"America's Needs and Resources: A New Survey" took J. Frederic Dewhurst and his 25 research associates five years to put together for the fund. They measured the nation's economic strength and used it as a basis for predicting what 1960 will be like, barring atomic war.

To start at the beginning, the survey pins down the baby situation. The baby boom, which began in the early '40s, started to slow down after 1953 and only a slight increase in the under-5 age group is expected by 1960.

Nevertheless at the present rate of growth, a population of 177 million is expected in five years. Now it's somewhat over 160 million.

From 1940 to 1950 more people got married—and divorced—and more babies were born than in any previous decade. Wedding bells aren't ringing quite so often now, but there should be about 15 million marriages from 1951-1960. This is about 2½ million less than in the previous 10 years.

They married in haste during the war years, and repeated at leisure. One out of four marriages ended in the divorce courts after World War II. But pointing up the triumph of hope over experience, three out of four went right out and got married again.

Divorce rates now are down from the postwar peak, but they're still running higher than before the war and the over-all trend is upward. The survey doesn't think the end is in sight either, and this means that marriage counsellors will be doing brisk business in 1960.

On the other hand, husband hunting apparently is getting easier—or women more irresistible. Back in 1890 one-third of the women never married. By 1950 it was down to less than one fifth.

Men must be getting encouraged about matrimony too. In 1890 nearly 44 per cent had never married. Now only slightly more than one fourth of the men are holding out. These trends are expected to continue in the '60s.

Life expectancy keeps growing—and women still outlive men. A white baby boy born in 1900 could plan on reaching 48. If he were born today he could expect to celebrate his 67th birthday. White girls who had an average life span of 51 years in 1900, now can count on 73. In 1960 the expectancy should be even longer.

The average death rate is still higher for nonwhites, but the gap between the two has closed considerably since the turn of the century.

Parents are likely to be younger and families smaller in 1960. They'll have one or two children, born fairly close together. A return to very large families isn't expected.

The over-65 group, now 8 per cent, will make up 9 per cent of the total population in five years. Older workers may be more in demand then. Low birth rates during the depression will show up in the 20-34 age brackets in the late '50s and this will mean the over-40s and 50s will help to fill the gap workwise.

But young or old—the trend will be "go West" to work and live. The Pacific and mountain states are growing faster than the rest of the country. In the central section only Michigan will exceed the national rate of growth in 1960, and in the East, only Florida, Connecticut and New Jersey.

Florida and California are expected to grow fastest, with California to be the second largest state in the Union by 1960, supplanting Pennsylvania.

Migration from farms to cities will continue into the '60s, with the jostled city folks overflowing to the suburbs.

A prosperous 1960 overflowing to the suburbs.

A prosperous 1960 would have 69 of the total 177 million at work or in the armed forces. Unemployment, principally shifts between jobs, will not rise above 5 per cent of the working force—or 3½ million—at any given time.

Total national output in five years should reach 414 billion dollars at current prices. This puts total personal income at 315 billion and gives an average annual income of about $6,200 a family. That's a 3 per cent increase over current figures.

Increased productivity—meaning the average output per hour of work—would give the worker another two hours or more of leisure. The 37½ hour working week, compared to the present 40, may be pretty general in 1960.

No nation ever had it so good—and the future looks even brighter. It is only five years to 1960 but a lot can happen. It will be worth staying around for.

The certificate was presented by the Anti-Cruelty Society.

British TV Actors Want Viewers' Fee

LONDON, May 3 (AP) — British Equity, the actors' trade union, is trying to devise some method of collecting "admission fees" from those who watch television plays in their homes.

It is a difficult problem, officials admitted, but they were ordered to undertake it by Equity's annual meeting this week.

The proposal to charge home viewers of television plays was made by a television player, John Justin. Equity President Felix Aylmer asked whether he was advocating a form of subscription television. Justin said he was not suggesting any "exact method."

Players complained that they are paid inadequately. A good supporting actor, an Equity spokesman said, may get up to $176 for appearing in a television play of first importance. Fees are fixed by negotiation. Stars get more, but there are no inflated fees.

Religion Today

Map Of Nation, Dotted With Biblically-Named Places, Includes Many 'Saints,' Some 'Angels'

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

NEW YORK, May 3 (AP)—America has a host of "saints," and some "angels" and "devils" too.

It's dotted with "Edens," even though they may not all be garden spots.

And the land is laden with other biblically named places — Zions, Bethlehems, Canaans, Lebanons, Goshens, Hebrons, Salems and Jerichos.

"I'm convinced there is no other constellation of names that has figured so greatly in the growth of America as those derived from the Bible," said historian Dr. Moshe Davis.

His three-year research indicates more than 1,000 communities labeled with names from the Old Testament alone, about 650 of which got religious designations because of some connection with scriptural accounts.

Take Bethel, Vt., for instance. Like Jacob in the Bible, a founder slept with his head on a rock and next day marked the spot for a church.

(During Jacob's sleep at Bethel, he dreamed of an angel-trod ladder to heaven, called the place a "gate of heaven" and built an altar to God.—Genesis 28.

Today, more than a score of American towns bear the name of Bethel — Ark., Conn., Del., Ga., Ill., Ind., Iowa., Ky., Maine, Mich., Minn., Miss., Mo., Neb., N.Y., Ohio, Ore., Pa., Wis., N. M. and two in N.C.

Modern Edens—"and the Lord God planted a garden eastward in Eden" (Genesis 2) — have blossomed all over the map.

Communities named "Zion" — "For God will save Zion . . . and they that love his name shall dwell therein" (Psalms 69)—are located in many states:

Ark., Iowa, Ky., Md., Minn., Miss., Mo., Neb., N.J., Pa., S.C., Utah, Va., W.Va. and two in Ill.

There are some 240 places named after saints, many of them apostles, such as St. Paul — Minn., Ark., Ind., Kan., Ky., Minn., Mo., Neb., Ore. and Va; and St. James —Ark., Ill., La., Minn., Mich., Md. and N.Y.

There's an Angels, Pa., and Los Angeles (The Angels), Calif., and Tex., and towns like Devils Lake, N.D., and Devils Elbow, Mo.

Boy, 3½, Prefers Cigars To Candy

BETHALTO, Ill., May 3 (AP) — Earl Eugene (Gene) Welton, 3½, walks with a swagger, talks with a lisp — and smokes big black cigars.

His mother, Mrs. Earl C. Welton, concedes now she made a mistake in teaching him to smoke more than a year ago "as a stunt."

"He spends one dollar a week for cigars," Mrs. Welton said. "He would rather have them than candy. He stands and bawls until I get him one. That's how much he likes them."

The child, interviewed through a haze of cigar smoke, said he likes a pipe, too, but prefers cigars. Mrs. Welton says she was advised by the family physician the smoking wouldn't hurt Gene, who weighs 50 pounds and wears size six clothing.

Gene said he doesn't like to light his own smokes because he's afraid of matches.

"Burn my hand," he explained.

Bricklayer Charged With Death Of Son

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md., May 3 (AP)—Eugene I. Stillman, 31-year-old burly bricklayer, was formally charged by a grand jury yesterday with beating and kicking his young deaf-mute son to death.

The Harford County Grand Jury returned the charge after morning and afternoon session during which they heard testimony about the death of 4-year-old Ronald Stillman.

The boy died in a hospital Feb. 18. An autopsy showed he had suffered a ruptured intestine and the cause of death was peritonitis.

15 Polio Cases Reported In Chicago Since Jan. 1

CHICAGO, May 3 (AP) — Fifteen cases of polio have been reported in Chicago since Jan. 1 — the largest number for the first four months of any year since 1910.

Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the Board of Health, said today three of the polio cases developed over the past weekend.

Up to this time last year Chicago had two polio cases.

Only one of the 15 polio cases—an 18-month-old boy who incurred the disease two weeks ago—had been inoculated with the new Salk polio vaccnie. He was inoculated with vaccine produced by Cutter Laboratories of Berkeley, Calif. The Cutter vaccine has been withdrawn, pending tests, by the U. S. Public Health Service.

Nevada Atom Tests, Despite Delays Have Doubled Rate Of Knowledge

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

CAMP MERCURY, Nev., May 3 (AP)—Why stage atomic tests in Nevada, and why the delays when they are done here?

Dr. Alvin C. Graves, chief weaponer of the Atomic Energy Commission, gave succinct answers in an interview this week:

Nevada tests have at least doubled the rate of knowledge of how to make new atomic weapons and their effects, as compared with the rate if only Pacific sites could be used.

What that means in averting war by creating an atomic edge for the United States, Dr. Graves leaves to your imagination.

Scheduled shots are delayed usually because of super-safety precautions to avoid injuring anyone by radioactive fall-out, and the AEC "has a right to be proud of its record."

"Up until 1948, we had only one atomic weapon, of only one size or yield, deliverable only by a large plane," Dr. Graves said.

"Since then, out of the test program, we have learned how to make smaller, varied, lighter weapons for the Air Force, Army and Navy. Some can be carried by fighter planes, some are adapted for artillery shells, antiaircraft shells, depth charges, almost any military application for which high explosives work.

It took two years to shoot three Pacific tests in 1946-48; three years in 1948-51 for four Pacific shots. In Nevada we will soon have completed 45 shots in four years."

One Nevada test requires a maximum of 25 men, compared with 140,000 in the Pacific. Total money costs are far less, valuable scientists lose less time from their work; distance and other problems are far easier, Dr. Graves said.

Strict standards to control fall-out make tests harder to get off in Nevada, said Dr. Graves.

Radiation experts set a permissible standard of 15.6 roentgens of radiation for a person per year. The AEC divides that by four, permitting only 3.9 roentgens per year for any community in the area where atomic clouds may go.

After about 140 miles, the fall-out is usually down to 4 roentgens or less, and the radiation rapidly becomes much less at distances beyond, Dr. Graves said.

Wind changes which may alter the fall-out are often cause to cancel a shot. But other factors are considered in reaching the final decision. One is whether all vital experiments are set; whether clouds will interfere with getting essential samples of the atomic cloud, whether atmospherics might make the blast wave bounce dangerously to smash windows in cities many miles away.

All these and other factors are weighed in reaching the decision to go ahead.

Map Of Nation, Dotted With Biblically-Named Places, Includes Many 'Saints,' Some 'Angels'

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

NEW YORK, May 3 (AP)—America has a host of "saints," and some "angels" and "devils" too.

It's dotted with "Edens," even though they may not all be garden spots.

And the land is laden with other biblically named places — Zions, Bethlehems, Canaans, Lebanons, Goshens, Hebrons, Salems and Jerichos.

"I'm convinced there is no other constellation of names that has figured so greatly in the growth of America as those derived from the Bible," said historian Dr. Moshe Davis.

His three-year research indicates more than 1,000 communities labeled with names from the Old Testament alone, about 650 of which got religious designations because of some connection with scriptural accounts.

Take Bethel, Vt., for instance. Like Jacob in the Bible, a founder slept with his head on a rock and next day marked the spot for a church.

(During Jacob's sleep at Bethel, he dreamed of an angel-trod ladder to heaven, called the place a "gate of heaven" and built an altar to God.—Genesis 28.

Today, more than a score of American towns bear the name of Bethel — Ark., Conn., Del., Ga., Ill., Ind., Iowa., Ky., Maine, Mich., Minn., Miss., Mo., Neb., N.Y., Ohio, Ore., Pa., Wis., N. M. and two in N.C.

Modern Edens—"and the Lord God planted a garden eastward in Eden" (Genesis 2) — have blossomed all over the map.

Communities named "Zion" — "For God will save Zion . . . and they that love his name shall dwell therein" (Psalms 69)—are located in many states:

Ark., Iowa, Ky., Md., Minn., Miss., Mo., Neb., N.J., Pa., S.C., Utah, Va., W.Va. and two in Ill.

There are some 240 places named after saints, many of them apostles, such as St. Paul — Minn., Ark., Ind., Kan., Ky., Minn., Mo., Neb., Ore. and Va; and St. James —Ark., Ill., La., Minn., Mich., Md. and N.Y.

There's an Angels, Pa., and Los Angeles (The Angels), Calif., and Tex., and towns like Devils Lake, N.D., and Devils Elbow, Mo.

Boy, 3½, Prefers Cigars To Candy

His mother, Mrs. Earl C. Welton, concedes now she made a mistake in teaching him to smoke more than a year ago "as a stunt."

"He spends one dollar a week for cigars," Mrs. Welton said. "He would rather have them than candy. He stands and bawls until I get him one. That's how much he likes them."

The child, interviewed through a haze of cigar smoke, said he likes a pipe, too, but prefers cigars. Mrs. Welton says she was advised by the family physician the smoking wouldn't hurt Gene, who weighs 50 pounds and wears size six clothing.

Gene said he doesn't like to light his own smokes because he's afraid of matches.

"Burn my hand," he explained.

Bricklayer Charged With Death Of Son

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md., May 3 (AP)—Eugene I. Stillman, 31-year-old burly bricklayer, was formally charged by a grand jury yesterday with beating and kicking his young deaf-mute son to death.

The Harford County Grand Jury returned the charge after morning and afternoon session during which they heard testimony about the death of 4-year-old Ronald Stillman.

The boy died in a hospital Feb. 18. An autopsy showed he had suffered a ruptured intestine and the cause of death was peritonitis.

15 Polio Cases Reported In Chicago Since Jan. 1

CHICAGO, May 3 (AP) — Fifteen cases of polio have been reported in Chicago since Jan. 1 — the largest number for the first four months of any year since 1910.

Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the Board of Health, said today three of the polio cases developed over the past weekend.

Up to this time last year Chicago had two polio cases.

Only one of the 15 polio cases—an 18-month-old boy who incurred the disease two weeks ago—had been inoculated with the new Salk polio vaccnie. He was inoculated with vaccine produced by Cutter Laboratories of Berkeley, Calif. The Cutter vaccine has been withdrawn, pending tests, by the U. S. Public Health Service.

Nevada Atom Tests, Despite Delays Have Doubled Rate Of Knowledge

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

CAMP MERCURY, Nev., May 3 (AP)—Why stage atomic tests in Nevada, and why the delays when they are done here?

Dr. Alvin C. Graves, chief weaponer of the Atomic Energy Commission, gave succinct answers in an interview this week:

Nevada tests have at least doubled the rate of knowledge of how to make new atomic weapons and their effects, as compared with the rate if only Pacific sites could be used.

What that means in averting war by creating an atomic edge for the United States, Dr. Graves leaves to your imagination.

Scheduled shots are delayed usually because of super-safety precautions to avoid injuring anyone by radioactive fall-out, and the AEC "has a right to be proud of its record."

"Up until 1948, we had only one atomic weapon, of only one size or yield, deliverable only by a large plane," Dr. Graves said.

"Since then, out of the test program, we have learned how to make smaller, varied, lighter weapons for the Air Force, Army and Navy. Some can be carried by fighter planes, some are adapted for artillery shells, antiaircraft shells, depth charges, almost any military application for which high explosives work.

It took two years to shoot three Pacific tests in 1946-48; three years in 1948-51 for four Pacific shots. In Nevada we will soon have completed 45 shots in four years."

One Nevada test requires a maximum of 25 men, compared with 140,000 in the Pacific. Total money costs are far less, valuable scientists lose less time from their work; distance and other problems are far easier, Dr. Graves said.

Strict standards to control fall-out make tests harder to get off in Nevada, said Dr. Graves.

Radiation experts set a permissible standard of 15.6 roentgens of radiation for a person per year. The AEC divides that by four, permitting only 3.9 roentgens per year for any community in the area where atomic clouds may go.

After about 140 miles, the fall-out is usually down to 4 roentgens or less, and the radiation rapidly becomes much less at distances beyond, Dr. Graves said.

Wind changes which may alter the fall-out are often cause to cancel a shot. But other factors are considered in reaching the final decision. One is whether all vital experiments are set; whether clouds will interfere with getting essential samples of the atomic cloud, whether atmospherics might make the blast wave bounce dangerously to smash windows in cities many miles away.

All these and other factors are weighed in reaching the decision to go ahead.

W.Va. GOP May Insist On Cut-Off Date For Tax Bill

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 3 (AP) — A Republican spokesman served notice today that he will insist on a firm string being tied to any new tax package passed by the special Legislature.

It was issued by House Minority Leader Underwood (R-Tyler), who said:

"In order to expedite and influence the proper legislative approach to this problem of school finance, I shall propose to the Republican caucus that we insist upon a 1957 or 1958 expiration date for whatever tax bill that may be passed to support a salary increase for teachers."

The Legislature has been called to meet in extraordinary session May 9, primarily to act on teacher salary raises.

Proposed as a means of financing the 8 million dollar program is an increase in the present 2 per cent consumers' sales tax to 3 per cent.

Organized labor groups have repeated their opposition to such a plan, which was fought to a deadlock in the regular 1955 session, even though the proposal would contain a 50-cent exemption on food items.

The potency of Republican "conditions" stands up in the light of sharp division on tax issues within the Democratic majority.

For example, when the sales tax bill passed the House during the regular session by a vote of 56-40, all but two of the 24 Republicans in the House were recorded as voting for the bill.

Underwood said the object of a cut-off date for any new tax measure voted at this time is to force the Legislature in later regular session to "come to grips with the whole problem of school finance."

There were stirrings on another pre-legislative front that easily could spell prolonging the session which leaders hope to confine to no more than one-week's time.

This was a disclosure that joint sponsors of a constitutional resolution to permit sale of liquor by the drink would again offer their proposal at next week's special session.

The resolution offered by Dels. Watson (D-Marion) and Fumich (D-Monongalia) failed to muster the required two-thirds majority at the regular session which adjourned March 14.

They have now written into the measure a provision for local option by the counties, and said they would again propose that the question be submitted to voters at the 1956 elections.

Missing Copper Returns Home

CATONSVILLE, Md., May 3 (AP)—Patrolman Thomas R. Hall, Baltimore County policeman who disappeared between his home and the Catonsville station house just before he was to go to work Sunday night, reported today he had returned home.

Sgt. Daniel Fitzpatrick ordered the 34-year-old officer to appear and explain his absence.

Sgt. Fitzpatrick said Hall called in from his home about 1 a.m. today. Hall's automobile was found late Monday in Druid Hill Park in Baltimore.

An automobile dealer meanwhile reported to police he had loaned a 1953 model to Hall for a demonstration but the car was not returned.

Hall, who is married and has two children, left his home Sunday night, in uniform and on time to report for his 11 p.m. tour of duty at the Catonsville station five blocks away.

Dentists Making $36 Hour Not Overpaid, Group Told

BALTIMORE, May 3 (AP) — A Rhode Island dentist today urged his Maryland colleagues to "sell good dental health" and declared that a dentist earning $36 an hour is not overpaid.

Professional men must make up for the years of costly study when they begin to "unwind the wheels of knowledge," Dr. A. James Kershaw said in a speech before the Maryland State Dental Assn.

"What you want to make is an individual problem. A man working harder is bound to earn more money," Dr. Kershaw told the dentists who are holding a convention here.

He said $36 per hour is not too much for a dentist when one considers the amount of training and skill required and the office overhead.

"I make no bones about it. You have to sell patients," the University of Maryland alumnus said.

He told Maryland dentists his own office in West Warwick, R. I., is kept free of distracting advertising matter.

Instead, dental literature is provided to give patients the ABC's of tooth decay. For further diversion, there is a cook book and a Bible.

"Why should we advertise a power mower costing $100. Maybe a dental bridge costs that too," he said.

Dr. Kershaw said he also has a printed office code on staff-patient cooperation in the matter of fees and appointments.

Always give the patient an estimate of what the work will cost him, the dentist advised.

"The day of the estimate, judgment day in the dental world, is very important," he indicated.

Dr. Kershaw said the presentation was largely a matter of leading up gradually.

Spotted Fever Is Reported In Area Near Sharpsburg

HAGERSTOWN, May 3 (AP)—The Washington County Board of Commissioners ordered the Sharpsburg area sprayed with DDT today after three suspected cases of Rocky Mountain spotted fever were reported.

Three children from the Sharpsburg vicinity are in the hospital here with what County Health Officer W. Ross Cameron said looks like spotted fever. Dr. Cameron said a definite diagnosis cannot be made until laboratory tests being made in Baltimore are completed.

The disease is spread by ticks. Dr. Cameron urged all parents in the area to examine their children carefully everyday for the presence of ticks. As a rule, he said, ticks must be present for several days before a person can contract the disease.

He also urged parents to be careful in removing the ticks, saying rubber gloves or tweezers should be used to avoid the danger of infection of the person removing the insect.

Spotted Fever Is Reported In Area Near Sharpsburg

HAGERSTOWN, May 3 (AP)—The Washington County Board of Commissioners ordered the Sharpsburg area sprayed with DDT today after three suspected cases of Rocky Mountain spotted fever were reported.

Three children from the Sharpsburg vicinity are in the hospital here with what County Health Officer W. Ross Cameron said looks like spotted fever. Dr. Cameron said a definite diagnosis cannot be made until laboratory tests being made in Baltimore are completed.

The disease is spread by ticks. Dr. Cameron urged all parents in the area to examine their children carefully everyday for the presence of ticks. As a rule, he said, ticks must be present for several days before a person can contract the disease.

He also urged parents to be careful in removing the ticks, saying rubber gloves or tweezers should be used to avoid the danger of infection of the person removing the insect.

Voting Machines Purchase Is Planned By January

At a meeting yesterday between the Allegany County Board of Commissioners and the Board of Election Supervisors, it was agreed that voting machines for the county would be purchased by next January 1.

William A. Wilson, chairman of the Board of Election Supervisors, told the commissioners that the law states the machines must be ready by the next general election, but the board felt that by having them ready for the primary in May of next year it would provide voters with experience in operating the machines.

Wilson also said there is a vast amount of work converting to the use of voting machines as the registration ledgers have to be rearranged and the entire system changed to conform to the voting machine procedure. He said the board hopes to start a number of "schools" for voters so that voters can be familiarized with operation of the devices.

What to do with the old ballot boxes and voting booths now poses a problem. An attempt will be made to sell them to some county in the tri-state area which does not have voting machines. It was said the repair cost each year to the outmoded booths and boxes runs between $400 and $500.

Meanwhile, the commissioners put off until Friday opening of bids on the voting machines. It was explained that no hour was set in the advertisement for opening the bids but it was stated they would be received until May 3.

The county will purchase 103 of the voting machines at a cost well over $100,000.

Organization Of Civic Units Being Planned

Committees were activated and a plan forwarded to organize Allegany County's civic improvement associations and similar bodies at Monday night's meeting of the LaVale Civic Improvement Association in the LaVale Fire Hall.

J. Kenneth Morgan, chairman of the board of directors, said the directors acted to re-affirm their continuing policy of promoting the general health, welfare and position of the residents of Cumberland's fastest growing suburb.

Morgan outlined committees and their functions. The plans for the coming year will have board members accepting committee assignments to provide assistance to the chairmen of the various committees.

Committees named include finance and budget, roads and streets, street lighting, recreation and playgrounds, sewage and sanitation, legislative, police protection, zoning and membership.

It was pointed out to the directors that the population of the LaVale area is estimated at 8,000 persons, and Morgan said the goal of the association is to have its membership into the thousands by the end of the year.

Also discussed was the possibility of inaugurating a civic federation comprised of several members of each of the various civic improvement associations or related bodies in Allegany County.

The directors pointed out that such an organization might well serve the entire county and each of the respective population centers in the county by promoting improvements of a larger scope than could normally be handled by a single group on an individual basis.

Morgan asked the investigation of such a movement and invited views from members and officers of other similar organizations.

Jane Kennedy Has Birthday Party

MT. SAVAGE — Mrs. Ellen Jean Kennedy entertained in honor of the eighth birthday of her daughter, Jane, at the home of Mrs. Edith L. Lancaster. Games were played and prizes were awarded to Carol Ann Windemuth, Frances Brannon and Bernadette Brailer. Other children attending were: Patricia Milhelm, Marie Deffenbaugh, Jean Ann Keel, Louise Ann Gracie, Mary Hughes, Rita Freno, Catherine Carney, Anita Cunningham, Mary Francis, Margaret Ann and Patricia Bennett and Rosemary Lancaster.

Blasting Caps Danger Cited By Flynn

Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn yesterday began distributing posters and other safety material in connection with an annual drive to alert children about the dangers of blasting caps in inexperienced hands.

The posters show four different type of caps and in large red letters admonish boys and girls "Don't Touch Blasting Caps."

Caps found by youngsters should be turned over to police, Flynn said, adding:

"Expansion in road building, quarrying, construction and other essential industries" has materially increased the demand for commercial explosives. "Where dynamite is used, whether it be for clearing a field of stumps or digging a foundation, blasting caps are also needed."

The caps are tubes of aluminum or copper, smaller around than an ordinary pencil and from one to five and a half inches long. Some are open at one end, others have fuses inserted and still others fired by electric current have insulated plastic covered wires at one end.

In themselves, the caps are dangerous since they contain a powder charge that can be set off by careless handling, shock or heat. When they explode, bits of metal fly in all directions.

Flynn pointed out that the flying fragments can tear off a child's finger or blind him and, in extreme cases, result in death.

Road Action Being Sought By Walsh

William C. Walsh, local attorney, yesterday requested the Allegany County Board of Commissioners to declare open four roads on the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company property at North Branch and then declare them closed.

This legal procedure was requested so that any possibility of a cloud on the property in connection with the road would be eliminated. Walsh explained that the roads, none of which has been used for years, are listed in old deeds on the property.

The title company which handled the deeds for the property when it was purchased asked that this action be followed to prevent any future trouble over rights of way, Walsh explained to the commissioners.

The board agreed to follow this course in order to clear the property from any possible future entanglement. There is more than 600 acres of land in the plant site and many years ago much of it was farmland. The old deeds carried the rights of way and listed certain roads but these thoroughfares have been only descriptions and not actual roadways for many years.

Judy Ann Perdew Marks Birthday

Attending were Diana Jones, Cathy Davis, Bonnie Johnson, Jane Babcock, Colleen Ann Perdew, Marilyn Atkinson, Linda Henry, Mary Susan Kreiling, Mary Catherin Perkins, Marjorie Layman, Kathy Lancaster.

John L. Mayo Named Head Of Miners

John L. Mayo, 819 Shawnee Avenue was named president of District 16, United Mine Workers, at the meeting of the UMW international executive board in Washington Monday.

His appointment as successor to John T. Jones, who died in March, was confirmed Monday by the international board. It became effective Sunday, May 1.

The new district 16 president was assigned to district headquarters in Cumberland in December 1950 as an international representative of the UMW.

He was born in Panama, Ill., in 1900, and became a member of the United Mine Workers local in that town in 1915.

This is the same local to which John L. Lewis, president of the UMW, belonged several years previously. Incidentally, Mayo served as town clerk of Panama in 1922, the same municipal position held by Lewis in Panama in 1909.

He has been an international representative since 1929. He was a member of the District 12 UMW board in Illinois in 1928.

Mayo will be in Washington the remainder of this week attending the international board sessions at UMW headquarters.

He did organizing for the United Mine Workers and for many years was with District 50, the UMW's catch-all unit that includes workers from many industries.

The late president of District 16, Mr. Jones, was also director of Labor's Non-Partisan League in Washington.

Acting director since his death has been Robert Howe, who worked under Mr. Jones for a number of years.

Mayo is the father of Jack Mayo, former Philadelphia Phillie outfielder in the National League, who also played with the International League Baltimore Orioles. He has two other sons and two daughters. A 32d Degree Mason, he is also a member of the Loyal Order of Moose.

Liquor Board Imposes Ban On Four Places

Four establishments licensed yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverage License Commissioners received immediate orders to suspend operations for various periods of time.

The four licensees were convicted in Circuit Court two weeks ago for liquor law violations, and their applications for 1955-56 licenses held in abeyance last week when the board granted licenses to other applicants.

The license of Helen S. Jenkins, who operates a tavern at Moscow, was suspended until May 11. She was fined $50 in court for allowing loitering on the premises by minors.

Suspensions of licenses until May 26 were given to the operators of the Clarysville Inn, Barton Hose Company and to Nutzy Ruffo, who has a tavern in Frostburg.

The Inn owners and Ruffo were each fined $500, and the fire company was fined $300.

A permit was issued by the board yesterday to Josephine R. Coleman for a package beer and wine business at 335 Fayette Street.

The liquor license for the Maryland Cocktail Lounge has expired, the board ruled yesterday and referred to the liquor laws which do not allow a licensee to hold or have an interest in two establishments. The permit had been in the name of Anton Squillari, who now operates a restaurant in the Fort Cumberland Hotel, which also holds a liquor license.

County Roads Report Given

The quarterly repor' of the Allegany County Roads Department has been submitted to the board of commissioners by J. Walker Chapman, supervisor.

He listed $76,028.76 spent by the department from January 1 through March 31. The expenditure included gas, oil, fuel and other items. Labor was the biggest item in the report with $51,198.21 for payrolls.

A breakdown also shows $13,998.83 for equipment, $102.27 for tolls, $730 for miscellaneous items, $8,944.25 for roads materials, $729.20 for sick pay and $326 for vacations. The department spent $2,892.33 for gas, $352.46 for oil and grease, $140.62 for fuel, $360.78 for tires, $64.92 for batteries, $6,938.99 for insurance, $1,102.40 for parts.

Christian Church Plans Bible School

A Vacation Bible School will be held at First Christian Church, 312 Bedford Street, June 20 through July 2.

Mrs. Carl Johnson Jr., superintendent of the children's department, is in charge of arrangements, assisted by Edward Walker, general Sunday School superintendent, and his assistant, B. D. Tichnell.

A number of teachers are still to be recruited for the sessions to be held Monday through Friday from 9:30 a. m. to 11:30 a. m.

Water Line Pact Airing Set Today

Officials of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company will meet with city officials today at 1:30 p. m., Mayor Roy W. Eves announced yesterday.

The meeting, to be held in the Mayor's office, will be concerned with the contract and plans for supplying the new plant at Mexico Farms with city water, Eves said.

Health, Traffic Hazards Elimination Is Planned

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday agreed to share part of the cost in eliminating health and traffic hazards due to sewage drainage in two cases.

Dr. Winter R. Frantz, county health officer, and J. Byron Dowling, state sanitarian here, conferred with the board and made recommendations for alleviating the hazards.

One case involved a bad condition in Potomac Park in an alley between Avenues O and I where 14 properties are involved. Sewage drains through a natural ditch and it poses a danger to the health of residents of that section, Dr. Frantz told the commissioners.

The problem will be eliminated by laying 150 feet of 18-inch pipe to carry off the sewage. The project will cost $512.20 and the county will pay half the cost. The property owners will pay the other half. The county is responsible to the extent that drainage from Avenue N, a county road, runs into the ditch.

The second case involves a sewage situation at the intersection of Route 40 and the Murley Branch Road at Flintstone.

It will require 72 feet of 15-inch pipe to be installed by the State Roads Commission and 162 feet of 12-inch pipe by the county to eliminate the problem.

Dowling explained that when the state and county jointly raised the grade of the Murley Branch Road some years ago they interfered with the drainage of a property owner's sewage. The property owner will share in the cost of the work. Estimated cost to the state would be $350 and to the county $514.90. The property owner will pay part of the county's cost.

Dowling also told the commissioners the Health Department is receiving numerous complaints over junk yards in county areas. He urged the board to set up rules and regulations for operation of these places.

Gorman E. Getty, board attorney, told the health officials that it would be impractical to make set rules as each individual case requires different measures. This the county has done in the past.

J. Walker Chapman, county roads supervisor, informed the board that roads workers have hauled 152 loads of trash from nine locations throughout the county along roadways. The trash was taken to dumps for disposal.

The nine locations were then either burned or covered to improve their appearance, Chapman said. The program is not yet completed.

Former Resident In Norfolk Play

A former Cumberlander will play a featured role next week in the Norfolk (Va.) Theatre Guild's production of "Amphitryon 38."

Ed Meyer, who resided in La Vale before moving to Norfolk last November, was given the role of Jupiter in the three-act comedy. Meyer will be remembered here for his work last year in the Cumberland Civic Theatre productions of "Ring Around Elizabeth" and "Boy Meets Girl."

Mapleside Playlot Group Plans Meet

Plans for improved facilities and a wider program will be discussed at the monthly meeting of the Mapleside Playground Association this Friday at 7:30 p. m. at Mapleside Methodist Church, Wilbur M. Hudson, secretary, said yesterday.

Pointing out that recent meetings have not been well attended, Hudson added that if parents of children in the playground area do not show more interest it probably will be necessary to curtail the 1955 program.

Liquor Board Imposes Ban On Four Places

Four establishments licensed yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverage License Commissioners received immediate orders to suspend operations for various periods of time.

The four licensees were convicted in Circuit Court two weeks ago for liquor law violations, and their applications for 1955-56 licenses held in abeyance last week when the board granted licenses to other applicants.

The license of Helen S. Jenkins, who operates a tavern at Moscow, was suspended until May 11. She was fined $50 in court for allowing loitering on the premises by minors.

Suspensions of licenses until May 26 were given to the operators of the Clarysville Inn, Barton Hose Company and to Nutzy Ruffo, who has a tavern in Frostburg.

The Inn owners and Ruffo were each fined $500, and the fire company was fined $300.

A permit was issued by the board yesterday to Josephine R. Coleman for a package beer and wine business at 335 Fayette Street.

The liquor license for the Maryland Cocktail Lounge has expired, the board ruled yesterday and referred to the liquor laws which do not allow a licensee to hold or have an interest in two establishments. The permit had been in the name of Anton Squillari, who now operates a restaurant in the Fort Cumberland Hotel, which also holds a liquor license.

County Roads Report Given

The quarterly repor' of the Allegany County Roads Department has been submitted to the board of commissioners by J. Walker Chapman, supervisor.

He listed $76,028.76 spent by the department from January 1 through March 31. The expenditure included gas, oil, fuel and other items. Labor was the biggest item in the report with $51,198.21 for payrolls.

A breakdown also shows $13,998.83 for equipment, $102.27 for tolls, $730 for miscellaneous items, $8,944.25 for roads materials, $729.20 for sick pay and $326 for vacations. The department spent $2,892.33 for gas, $352.46 for oil and grease, $140.62 for fuel, $360.78 for tires, $64.92 for batteries, $6,938.99 for insurance, $1,102.40 for parts.

Christian Church Plans Bible School

A Vacation Bible School will be held at First Christian Church, 312 Bedford Street, June 20 through July 2.

Mrs. Carl Johnson Jr., superintendent of the children's department, is in charge of arrangements, assisted by Edward Walker, general Sunday School superintendent, and his assistant, B. D. Tichnell.

A number of teachers are still to be recruited for the sessions to be held Monday through Friday from 9:30 a. m. to 11:30 a. m.

Water Line Pact Airing Set Today

Officials of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company will meet with city officials today at 1:30 p. m., Mayor Roy W. Eves announced yesterday.

The meeting, to be held in the Mayor's office, will be concerned with the contract and plans for supplying the new plant at Mexico Farms with city water, Eves said.

Health, Traffic Hazards Elimination Is Planned

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday agreed to share part of the cost in eliminating health and traffic hazards due to sewage drainage in two cases.

Dr. Winter R. Frantz, county health officer, and J. Byron Dowling, state sanitarian here, conferred with the board and made recommendations for alleviating the hazards.

One case involved a bad condition in Potomac Park in an alley between Avenues O and I where 14 properties are involved. Sewage drains through a natural ditch and it poses a danger to the health of residents of that section, Dr. Frantz told the commissioners.

The problem will be eliminated by laying 150 feet of 18-inch pipe to carry off the sewage. The project will cost $512.20 and the county will pay half the cost. The property owners will pay the other half. The county is responsible to the extent that drainage from Avenue N, a county road, runs into the ditch.

The second case involves a sewage situation at the intersection of Route 40 and the Murley Branch Road at Flintstone.

It will require 72 feet of 15-inch pipe to be installed by the State Roads Commission and 162 feet of 12-inch pipe by the county to eliminate the problem.

Dowling explained that when the state and county jointly raised the grade of the Murley Branch Road some years ago they interfered with the drainage of a property owner's sewage. The property owner will share in the cost of the work. Estimated cost to the state would be $350 and to the county $514.90. The property owner will pay part of the county's cost.

Dowling also told the commissioners the Health Department is receiving numerous complaints over junk yards in county areas. He urged the board to set up rules and regulations for operation of these places.

Gorman E. Getty, board attorney, told the health officials that it would be impractical to make set rules as each individual case requires different measures. This the county has done in the past.

J. Walker Chapman, county roads supervisor, informed the board that roads workers have hauled 152 loads of trash from nine locations throughout the county along roadways. The trash was taken to dumps for disposal.

The nine locations were then either burned or covered to improve their appearance, Chapman said. The program is not yet completed.

Former Resident In Norfolk Play

A former Cumberlander will play a featured role next week in the Norfolk (Va.) Theatre Guild's production of "Amphitryon 38."

Ed Meyer, who resided in La-Vale before moving to Norfolk last November, was given the role of Jupiter in the three-act comedy. Meyer will be remembered here for his work last year in the Cumberland Civic Theatre productions of "Ring Around Elizabeth" and "Boy Meets Girl."

Mapleside Playlot Group Plans Meet

Plans for improved facilities and a wider program will be discussed at the monthly meeting of the Mapleside Playground Association this Friday at 7:30 p. m. at Mapleside Methodist Church, Wilbur M. Hudson, secretary, said yesterday.

Pointing out that recent meetings have not been well attended, Hudson added that if parents of children in the playground area do not show more interest it probably will be necessary to curtail the 1955 program.

Judge's Decision Awaited In LaVale Junk Yard Case

A decision is being awaited from Chief Judge George Henderson in a case of a group of LaVale residents who seek an injunction against the operation of a junk yard by Abe Feldstein.

Testimony in the case was concluded Saturday.

The suit was filed by Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kammauf and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald L. Barb. They claim the junk yard in the rear of the LaVale Fire Hall operated by Feldstein constitutes a nuisance and affects the value of property in that section.

Fifteen witnesses were heard in the hearing April 25 and six more Saturday.

Mrs. Elmer Beachley, a resident of the south side of Route 40 in the fire hall vicinity, testified to the repair of a sewer line in Feldstein's property in the bottom along Braddock Run, the area to which the junk yard started in 1939 has been extended within the past few months.

Mrs. Joseph Ruffo and John W. Ritchie, also residents of that section, testified to the unsightliness of the junk yard. Ritchie stated that he owns lots in that section and had planned to build houses on them, but would not now because of the junk yard.

J. Byron Dowling, sanitarian for the State Health Department, told of being called to the junk yard property by Feldstein because of the broken sewer. He stated a court order had been obtained to make the users of the line repair it.

Dowling, in answer to questioning by William J. Gunter and William A. Gunter, attorneys for Feldstein, said rats breed on sewage, and added that there isn't an acceptable sewer in the junk yard area.

Robert E. Dean, the next defense witness, told of having entered into a contract with Feldstein on October 20, 1954, to exterminate the rats and mice in the junk yard area.

He claimed his company, the Hygienic Sanitation Company, had the rats under control, but admitted that there were still some about. He pointed to the difficulty of planting bait in the junk yard which is piled as high as ten feet in many places.

Dean also testified that sewage could be attractive for rats, but the water in the run was the main factor of drawing them. Rats have to have water, he added.

Michael J. Malone, freight agent for the C&P Branch of the Western Maryland Railway, told of the freight business in the Feldstein junk yard area over the past years.

John Stewart, an officer in Market Buildings, Inc., a real estate concern, testified that when the old distillery property, including the land behind the distillery and fire hall, was sold to Feldstein by his firm, there was no protest from the residents.

James W. Beacham, local realtor, testified that in his opinion as a property appraiser the value of homes and land in the section around the junk yard has not decreased because of its presence and operation.

W. Earle Cobey, attorney for the plaintiffs, by cross-examination brought out where Beacham had figured in the development of the old distillery property, by being agent for Market Buildings in its sale to Feldstein, and also acting for Feldstein in sale of portions to the LaVale Fire Company, Zimmerla Auto Shop, and Super Concrete Company. The bottoms, owned by the Super Concrete Company, and then sold back to Feldstein, contain the area west of the original junk yard where Feldstein is developing a new storage place for used metal.

LAS VEGAS, Nev., May 2 (INS) — Ed Furgol did not win the Tournament of Champions. He should have. In fact, even his fellow professionals would not have complained if he had. Ed led with 69 after the first round at the Desert Inn's $72,500 tournament, then blew apart in the peppering desert winds of the second day.

But it was a better tournament because Ed Furgol was in it. Every now and then in sports a man comes along whose very presence on the scene lends class to an occasion. He can be a hairy brute or an elfin master. The indefinable thing, class, is the same.

Ed Furgol's story must be pretty familiar by now, even to people who — to quote Joe E. Lewis — "don't even know which end of the caddy to use." When he was 11 years old (which is 27 years ago) he was badly hurt in a playground accident. His left arm was shattered to such a degree that the original medical studies called for amputation.

But a doctor took a chance, put together the broken crockery of the arm's bone structure, and saved it . . . or what was left of it. It is now 11 inches shorter than his right arm. It is a curved member, like a scimitar. Golfers are supposed to keep their left arms straight when they wind up on one of those treacherous little pills. Even Tommy Armour, the great dissenter, would agree to this. There is no way in which Furgol can keep his left arm straight. There hasn't been for more than a quarter of a century.

So he built a new-type golf swing with what he had. It is quite something to see. He appears to lunge, lurch and fall back. But in the process of these exertions he has summoned every available muscle and each has answered the call. The ball screams out off the tee and goes as far as Sam Snead can make it go. His irons ring out crisply. His putts sink more often than not.

Last summer at Baltusrol, in New Jersey, Ed Furgol fulfilled a dream that millions of golfers past and present have dreamed. He won the National Open in a field that included Ben Hogan, Snead, Gene Littler, Carry Middlecoff, Lloyd Mangrum and all the others.

It was an excruciating finish to watch. His final drive on the 72nd hole hooked into the trees. There was no way left for him to bat the ball back on the fairway and toward the hole. So he took a deep-dish iron of some kind and belted it out into an alternate fairway. This left a solid wall of humanity (golf fans in this case) standing between himself and the final green. I'll never forget his trooping across that pasture, calling out to the crowd to clear him a path, and gesturing with his arm — as if it would open that path.

"Give me a break," he asked the people, several times. It may have been the first time he ever said those words. He may never say them again.

The crowd clumsily formed a canyon down which he could shoot. His 7-iron was short. His chip skidded past the hole as if the green were made of ice. His putt was downhill and curving. But he made it. He was open champion.

The life of this bronzed, good-looking, soft-spoken man has changed a lot since that great victory. He is sought after by persons and organizations who ignored him bleakly before this.

But it hasn't made a bit of difference in the manner, mood and spirit of this good man . . . this good man who looked despair in the eye and made it quit.

Walk around a golf course behind Ed Furgol, and see what he has overcome, and suddenly most of your petty woes become too piddling to mention, even to your pillow.

Youths Admit Breaking Into Summer Camps

Two 17-year-old Paw Paw youths were placed on probation Monday after they confessed to a series of breaking and enterings at summer camps in Hampshire and Morgan counties.

Charged with being juvenile delinquents, the pair pleaded guilty at a hearing before Judge Decatur Rogers in Martinsburg. They had no previous records.

West Virginia authorities said the suspects admitted taking several hundred dollars worth of property from four camps. Most of the loot was recovered.

The youths hid some of the stolen goods in abandoned outbuildings. Some was thrown into Cacapon River at Clabaugh Rocks on State Route 9.

Owners of places broken into and robbed are Raymond Whisner, Great Cacapon; E. C. Ambrose, Paw Paw, and Marion Farris, Baltimore.

According to the pair, they deliberately made it appear that intoxicated persons had broken into the camps. At Whisner's they littered the floor with opened food cans and broke windows. Flour was thrown over a room at the Ambrose camp.

Stolen items included a circular saw, two rifles, shotguns, hunting coats, boots, blankets, a radio and apple peeler.

5 BASIC REASONS FOR PONTIAC'S RECORD-BREAKING SALES

1. PONTIAC COSTS LESS THAN ANY CAR EQUALLING ITS 200 HORSEPOWER

If you delight in flashing performance, here's all the reason you need to join the record-breaking thousands who are swinging to Pontiac. The 200 horsepower delivered by the economical Strato-Streak V-8 with the four-barrel carburetor, optional at low extra cost, is the highest power ever delivered by a car at Pontiac's price—higher than that of cars costing considerably more. For thrift and thrills it's Pontiac all the way!

2. PONTIAC COSTS LESS THAN ANY CAR EQUALLING ITS LONG WHEELBASE

Model for model, Pontiac has a longer wheelbase than any car at its price—122" or 124", depending on whether you select an 860, 870, or Star Chief model. And that's important because a long wheelbase is the reason for Pontiac's smooth, road-leveling ride and the roomy comfort of Pontiac's large, luxurious bodies—advantages that put Pontiac on a level with costly cars for sheer riding pleasure.

3. PONTIAC COSTS LESS THAN ANY CAR EQUALLING ITS LUXURY-CAR STABILITY

The big, husky Pontiac with rugged X-member frame gives you the safe, solid feel at cruising speeds that motorists have formerly paid high prices to enjoy. And it links this road-holding comfort with ease of control like that of costly sport cars. You travel in superlative comfort in a Pontiac for the lowest price ever placed on such big-car stability.

4. PONTIAC'S DISTINCTIVE BEAUTY IS UNMATCHED AT ANY PRICE

Pontiac gives you style and beauty that are a perfect match for its colorful performance. Future-fashioned lines, Vogue Two-Tone styling and Twin-Streaked hood provide dash and glamour unsurpassed by any other car at any price.

5. You can buy a big, powerful Pontiac for less than many models of the lowest-priced cars and much less than stripped economy models of higher-priced makes

The new district president, whose home is at Nitro, W. Va., had been secretary-treasurer under district President William Blizzard who retired April 1. A third Lewis brother, A. D. Lewis, is president of the UMW's District 50.

Appointment of the new District 17 president was ratified today by the UMW's executive board along with the following:

Robert Howe as director of labor's Nonpartisan League, the UMW's political branch, succeeding the late John T. Jones. Howe also is the union's legislative representative in Congress.

State Policeman Cites Statement In Keyser Trial

KEYSER—Statements given to Cpl. F. H. Tribett of the Keyser detachment of State Police by William Warner Wilson, 33, of the Bloomington area, concerning his assault upon Alex Breski of Beryl, were related to a Mineral County Circuit Court jury yesterday as Wilson's trial got under way.

Some four witnesses were heard yesterday. Court attaches expect the trial will last at least a day and a half more before going to the jury for its deliberation.

Wilson is the last of three recent jailbreakers to be tried. They escaped March 15. Judge Ernest A. See is presiding at the trial.

Cpl. Tribett said that Wilson asked him if Breski had died from injuries sustained last October 4. Judge See overruled a defense motion objecting to the admittance of such a conversation as evidence

The State Police officer testified that Wilson told him he struck the Beryl man with his fists and used no weapon. He also told Tribett, the officer added, that he took Breski's wallet out of his suit pocket and divided the loot with Arlie Ward Evans.

Although Evans faces a similar charge his case will be tried separately.

Breski, who observed his 69th birthday last July, was the first witness. He told the jury that he had gone to a bank on October 4 and had cashed a $100 check. In the late hours he visited in Piedmont and Westernport and then headed home.

While walking along a path toward his home he felt a sharp pain near his heart and fell to the ground. He admitted to the defense attorneys that he did not see anybody strike him but he asserted that he was robbed of his wallet.

The second witness, Mrs. Alice Beeman, a neighbor of Breski, testified she saw Wilson and Evans go up the path that Breski had taken and saw them return in a short time.

Another witness, Frank Welsh, assistant Mineral County jailer, said Wilson had refused to eat any food for a time and cut his wrist on another occasion, requiring treatment at Potomac Valley Hospital.

The jury hearing the case is composed of Ernest Umstot, William Eisenhour, W. K. Boor, Ray Carder, Brooks Evans, Eugene Kagey Jr., Walter Pulliam, Virgil Shirley, Bonner Hardegan, Albert Rohrbaugh, Robert Kalbaugh and Russell Bishop.

Jaycees To Elect New Officers

Two vice presidents, a secretary, treasurer and state director also will be elected. For vice presidents the candidates will be the defeated candidate for president, Dr. William S. Firey, Raymond H. Lapp Jr. and Joseph H. Pellerzi.

Other nominees are Arthur S. Davis Jr. and Kenneth J. Williams, for secretary; Conrad Hohing Jr. and John R. MacVeigh, for treasurer; Miles S. Amick, Ronald J. Screen and Richard A. Sell, for state director.

ESB Real Estate Deal To Get Top Probe Priority

BALTIMORE, May 3 (AP)—Attorney Joseph Sherbow, assigned to investigate the Department of Employment Security, today gave top priority to the probing of a real estate transaction involving high officials of the agency.

The decision was made after a meeting of State officials and Sherbow, who said priority for the Towson, Md., transaction had been requested by Robert B. Kimble, new head of the employment agency.

The real estate in question is the proposed site of a newbuilding in which a department field office would be located.

Courthouse records at Towson show that the proposed field office site was owned by William H. Mahaney, who resigned as department administrator April 14; David L. B. Fringer, job placement director of the agency, and John B. Henry, chief of personnel and accounts.

They made a profit of $2,500 by selling the property to an attorney who acted as an intermediary for Mrs. Ruth Z. Yaeger, the present owner.

Mrs. Yeager is the wife of Charles Yeager, director of the department's farm labor-placement program. The attorney deeded the property to Mrs. Yeager after sale of the lot by the three agency officials.

Sherbow began immediately the investigation. He also told of receiving a letter from Daniel E. Klein, Baltimore lawyer who resigned April 15 as chairman of the Employment Security Board.

The attorney general has ruled Klein was overpaid by more than $3,000 during his tenure. In the letter, Klein offered to assist Sherbow in his study of the department's affairs.

Highway Pact Is Reached In West Virginia

They are Local 1024, Carpenters Union, and Local 453, Teamsters Union, both AFL.

The new pact was agreed upon by contractors of that state affiliated with the Constructors Labor Council of West Virginia, Inc., and the Laborers, Operating Engineers, Teamsters and Carpenters Unions, all AFL.

The Cumberland unions are included in the pact because part of their territories are in West Virginia.

For a number of years, the pact included only the Teamsters, Operating Engineers and Laborers unions, but was strengthened last year by the addition of the Carpenters unions.

Both Charles E. Bramble, president of Local 453, Teamtsers Union, and F. Patrick Allender, business agent of Carpenters Local 1024, have taken an active part in the road construction pact.

In general, the pact sets up special working conditions which apply to highway work and heavy construction projects.

Standard wage rates, set up in three schedules, are also provided in the pact.

Truck drivers, straight or dump trucks up to three tons, $1.95, $1.70 and $1.60.

Common labor, $2.03, $1.78 and $1.58.

Bulldozer operators, $2.40, $2.30 and $2.20.

The observed mean daily flow of the North Branch of the Potomac River at Cumberland, the Wiley Ford gage, during the month of April was 1,343 cubic feet per second which represented 868 million gallons per day.

Ewell H. Mohler Jr., acting engineer in charge, reports that the amount of water is 59.2 per cent of the 25-year average.

The daily flow varied between 4,840 cfs or 3,128 mgd on April 26, and 568 cfs or 367 mgd on April 11.

Seasonal storage in Savage River Reservoir caused an average decrease of 184 cfs, 119 mgd or 13.7 per cent of the flow in the North Branch at Cumberland.

The total precipitation at Cumberland, as reported by the Weather Bureau was 3.24 inches, 0.36 inches above the April average. The average daily temperature was 56.9 degrees, which was 4.8 degrees above normal.

United Mineworkers Union Officials Named By Lewis

The new district president, whose home is at Nitro, W. Va., had been secretary-treasurer under district President William Blizzard who retired April 1. A third Lewis brother, A. D. Lewis, is president of the UMW's District 50.

Appointment of the new District 17 president was ratified today by the UMW's executive board along with the following:

Robert Howe as director of labor's Nonpartisan League, the UMW's political branch, succeeding the late John T. Jones. Howe also is the union's legislative representative in Congress.

Cresaptown Group Officers Installed

Walter Richardson was installed as president of the Cresaptown Civic Improvement Association last night by Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court.

Other officers installed include R. H. Yokum, vice president; Douglas Breedlove, secretary; Herbert C. Heineman, treasurer, and Joseph Wenrich, water commissioner. Only Wenrich is serving in the same position as before. The installation took place in the water office. They were elected Monday, April 4.

State Policeman Cites Statement In Keyser Trial

KEYSER—Statements given to Cpl. F. H. Tribett of the Keyser detachment of State Police by William Warner Wilson, 33, of the Bloomington area, concerning his assault upon Alex Breski of Beryl, were related to a Mineral County Circuit Court jury yesterday as Wilson's trial got under way.

Some four witnesses were heard yesterday. Court attaches expect the trial will last at least a day and a half more before going to the jury for its deliberation.

Wilson is the last of three recent jailbreakers to be tried. They escaped March 15. Judge Ernest A. See is presiding at the trial.

Cpl. Tribett said that Wilson asked him if Breski had died from injuries sustained last October 4. Judge See overruled a defense motion objecting to the admittance of such a conversation as evidence

The State Police officer testified that Wilson told him he struck the Beryl man with his fists and used no weapon. He also told Tribett, the officer added, that he took Breski's wallet out of his suit pocket and divided the loot with Arlie Ward Evans.

Although Evans faces a similar charge his case will be tried separately.

Breski, who observed his 69th birthday last July, was the first witness. He told the jury that he had gone to a bank on October 4 and had cashed a $100 check. In the late hours he visited in Piedmont and Westernport and then headed home.

While walking along a path toward his home he felt a sharp pain near his heart and fell to the ground. He admitted to the defense attorneys that he did not see anybody strike him but he asserted that he was robbed of his wallet.

The second witness, Mrs. Alice Beeman, a neighbor of Breski, testified she saw Wilson and Evans go up the path that Breski had taken and saw them return in a short time.

Another witness, Frank Welsh, assistant Mineral County jailer, said Wilson had refused to eat any food for a time and cut his wrist on another occasion, requiring treatment at Potomac Valley Hospital.

The jury hearing the case is composed of Ernest Umstot, William Eisenhour, W. K. Boor, Ray Carder, Brooks Evans, Eugene Kagey Jr., Walter Pulliam, Virgil Shirley, Bonner Hardegan, Albert Rohrbaugh, Robert Kalbaugh and Russell Bishop.

Jaycees To Elect New Officers

Officers for the coming year will be elected by the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce at its dinner meeting at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club at 6:30 o'clock this evening.

Two vice presidents, a secretary, treasurer and state director also will be elected. For vice presidents the candidates will be the defeated candidate for president, Dr. William S. Firey, Raymond H. Lapp Jr. and Joseph H. Pellerzi.

Other nominees are Arthur S. Davis Jr. and Kenneth J. Williams, for secretary; Conrad Hohing Jr. and John R. MacVeigh, for treasurer; Miles S. Amick, Ronald J. Screen and Richard A. Sell, for state director.

ESB Real Estate Deal To Get Top Probe Priority

BALTIMORE, May 3 (AP)—Attorney Joseph Sherbow, assigned to investigate the Department of Employment Security, today gave top priority to the probing of a real estate transaction involving high officials of the agency.

The decision was made after a meeting of State officials and Sherbow, who said priority for the Towson, Md., transaction had been requested by Robert B. Kimble, new head of the employment agency.

The real estate in question is the proposed site of a newbuilding in which a department field office would be located.

Courthouse records at Towson show that the proposed field office site was owned by William H. Mahaney, who resigned as department administrator April 14; David L. B. Fringer, job placement director of the agency, and John B. Henry, chief of personnel and accounts.

They made a profit of $2,500 by selling the property to an attorney who acted as an intermediary for Mrs. Ruth Z. Yaeger, the present owner.

Mrs. Yeager is the wife of Charles Yeager, director of the department's farm labor-placement program. The attorney deeded the property to Mrs. Yeager after sale of the lot by the three agency officials.

Sherbow began immediately the investigation. He also told of receiving a letter from Daniel E. Klein, Baltimore lawyer who resigned April 15 as chairman of the Employment Security Board.

The attorney general has ruled Klein was overpaid by more than $3,000 during his tenure. In the letter, Klein offered to assist Sherbow in his study of the department's affairs.

Highway Pact Is Reached In West Virginia

They are Local 1024, Carpenters Union, and Local 453, Teamsters Union, both AFL.

The new pact was agreed upon by contractors of that state affiliated with the Constructors Labor Council of West Virginia, Inc., and the Laborers, Operating Engineers, Teamsters and Carpenters Unions, all AFL.

For a number of years, the pact included only the Teamsters, Operating Engineers and Laborers unions, but was strengthened last year by the addition of the Carpenters unions.

Both Charles E. Bramble, president of Local 453, Teamtsers Union, and F. Patrick Allender, business agent of Carpenters Local 1024, have taken an active part in the road construction pact.

In general, the pact sets up special working conditions which apply to highway work and heavy construction projects.

Standard wage rates, set up in three schedules, are also provided in the pact.

Truck drivers, straight or dump trucks up to three tons, $1.95, $1.70 and $1.60.

Common labor, $2.03, $1.78 and $1.58.

How To Save Money By Better Buying

The Department of Defense could hope to save $340 million a year on what it costs to feed and clothe the armed services. That's a fair statement, in the light of the latest report by the Hoover Commission—even though Defense Department officials charged with this responsibility say that the commission's criticisms are "misleading" and even "not factual."

Certainly it should not be difficult for the Defense Department to find ways of improving its buying to save money. When the Navy has a stock of canned hamburgers big enough to last nearly 60 years, anybody can see that it has money tied up in an investment that brings no return but does occupy expensive warehouse space.

The Navy says that part of this supply is "basic battle ration" in the nation's reserve stockpile; but, even so, the rest of it is more than the Navy needs if the current rate of consumption means anything. The Navy should not buy any more canned hamburgers and should eat up part of what it has.

What the Commission on Organization of the Executive Branch of the Government recommends, however, is a more fundamental solution. It would have the Defense Department set up central purchasing agencies for all three services. Then it should be possible to eliminate such horrible examples of wasteful buying as the one that cropped up in 1951, when the Army shipped 807,000 pounds of tomatoes from California to New York while the Navy was shipping 775,000 pounds of tomatoes from the East Coast to California.

That probably does an injustice, in a way, to the men who do this huge job—it runs up to a total of $1.7 billion a year—for the three services. But it illustrates what can happen and it points to the remedy. The commission's estimate that a 20 per cent saving could be effected by handling the job through two central agencies, one for food and one for clothing, doesn't sound unreasonable.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Words At Large

Two years ago, if anyone said "Conformity!" most people would wonder what he was talking about because in this country there is no rigid conformity except among teen-age gals who must do as their class at school does even if it gives them a tail like a horse.

Some propagandists got to using the word, conformity, and made a sin of it. After all, in some ways of life we all conform to patterns. We wear clothes which are fairly uniform, and advertising has taught us to eat the same breakfasts, although I, the conservative, eat neither eggs nor cereals, preferring meat or fish to start the day. We, most of us, stop at a red light and go when it is green. We pay our taxes, which we hate, and grumble almost in unison.

But what those, who most violently object to conformity, resent vehemently is the cultivation of a national ideal of life, namely, our people accepting the same concepts or being oppressed or coerced into believing them.

And yet, most of us do conform about generalities or we should have an anarchy. Most Americans believe that there is a God, a Divine Intelligence, although they can get into the fiercest kinds of arguments as to what He is and how He is to be worshipped. The fundamental remains, however.

And nearly all of us believe that ours is a good country, to which we try to be loyal according to our lights. Again there are vast and annoying differences of opinion as to how one can be most effectively loyal to his country—but the need for loyalty is not denied, and traitors are despised as unworthy and indecent.

Then most of us believe in the family and we should like to see our own preserved through life from beginning to the end. We do not, some of us, succeed in that, perhaps through selfishness or inflexibility or just plain cussedness. But the worst offenders speak well of the family although they have made a mess of their own.

We, in this country, are becoming somewhat confused about our economics because we live in a kind of mixed socialist-capitalist system. Two wars and a great depression have made our economy to go into by-ways. Nevertheless, most of us believe in good old-fashioned capitalism, if we could get a try at it again. However, we should not like to give up any of the benefits that came to us from the give-aways, that is, when we get something for nothing.

So we argue over the economy and some are for this and some for that but on the whole, it is the details we quarrel about, not the general principles. The Marxists and Keynesians and similar theorists have made smaller headway in this country than might have been expected seeing how much effort has gone into their propaganda.

Most Americans believe that their Constitution is a great instrument of government, particularly as it protects our liberties. But we are all, in this land, lawyers of various stages of amateurishness and each one of us knows exactly what the government should do, the Congress pass on, and the Supreme Court decide. That is why we are a free people. And let no one silence the citizen who wishes to air his views, as long as he keeps himself a free man. In the end, good sense generally prevails although it sometimes takes a long time to show good sense.

What then is all this outcry against conformity? It would seem that a minority of folks want most of us to conform to their notions. They raised a storm about "book-burning" but they use foul means to kill books in the market place; they raise an outcry against informers for the government, but they form committees to inform each other about whom they love and hate. In other words, instead of accepting the majority as the norm, they want a particular minority opinion to be the norm. And they raise the cry of "Conformity!" much as a pickpocket shouts, "Stop Thief!"

Well, it is all in a lifetime and if one lives long enough, the protest against a pattern in one decade becomes the pattern of the next, as Benjamin Franklin would say if he saw his fellow-publishers in 1955 in long trousers.

Operation Squeeze Play!

Spain Example Of Inconsistency By U. N. Members

By David Lawrence

MADRID—This is a place where they can enjoy a big laugh at the expense of the various statesmen of the world who lately have been proclaiming that it doesn't matter what kind of government they have in Peiping—admission to the United Nations should be granted, anyhow. Yet the record shows that a resolution by the United Nations Assembly adopted December 12, 1946, did assert that the form of government in a given country is a matter for approval or disapproval by the United Nations.

The present government here is of course, in complete control of every inch of Spanish territory, including all offshore islands. If international law and custom alone is the basis, Spain is entitled to admission into the United Nations. But there is another point, and that is whether an applicant government is or is not "peace loving" or whether its behavior constitutes a threat to peace. Spain has not manifested any threats against any other nation and is "peace loving" in every sense of the word.

Ruled Out By Resolution

Then why isn't the government of Spain admitted to the United Nations? The words of the 1946 resolution set forth the qualifications for Spain's admission. The resolution read in part as follows:

"The General Assembly, . . . further desiring to secure the participation of all peace-loving peoples, including the people of Spain, in the community of nations,

"Recommends that if, within a reasonable time, there is not established a government which derives its authority from the consent of the governed, committed to respect freedom of speech, religion and assembly and to the prompt holding of an election in which the Spanish people, free from force and intimidation and regardless of party, may express their will, the Security Council consider the adequate measures to be taken in order to remedy the situation;

"Recommends that all members of the United Nations immediately recall from Madrid their ambassadors and ministers plenipotentiary accredited there.

"The General Assembly further recommends that the states members of the organization report to the secretary-general and to the next session of the Assembly what action they have taken in accordance with this recommendation."

The foregoing sounds strangely unlike the speeches which British spokesmen, for example, have been making in the United States lately telling audiences that it isn't a matter of approval or disapproval of a particular government when admission to the United Nations or even diplomatic recognition is involved. Indeed between November 1936 and May 1939 53 governments of the world, including Great Britain, the United States and France extended diplomatic recognition to the present government of Spain, and not one expressed any reservation or allegation that the government here was not independent or free.

Considers Itself Responsible

Today, however, if the resolution of 1946 by the United Nations means anything, it means that recognition must be withdrawn from the Soviet Union and the government at Peiping, or at least that ambassadors must be recalled. Certainly the resolution means also that the United Nations considers itself responsible for the establishment of free governments through free elections.

But everybody knows today that the United Nations doesn't practice what it has preached. In fact, probably most of the members who voted for the 1946 resolution would like to see it expunged from the records because it contains a very troublesome precedent. Yet, if the principle is to be buried and governments like those at Moscow and Peiping are to be accepted as worthy members hereafter, then what possible excuse is there any longer for refusing to admit the government of Spain?

It so happens that the Spaniards are not knocking at the door of the United Nations. They still remember the unkind action of 1946, and they do not care to apply for admission to a club from which they have been blackballed.

Spain can get along without membership in the United Nations, but the big question is, how long can the members of the United Nations remain guilty of hypocrisy and inconsistency by arguing so fervently nowadays for admission of Red China, whose government just recently was declared to be an "aggressor?" The Spanish folks hereabouts smile at the discomfiture of their onetime critics.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Looks like the Democratic nomination is going begging. Neither Adlai nor Averell want to grab the tin cup.

We have a flicker of suspicion that Governor Harriman might carry the banner over the Albany-Washington axis. Provided Mr. Stevenson would make up his mind faster than a lady with two heads in a millinery shop.

But Adlai is doing a time-step on pogo sticks. He can be governor again, senator from Illinois or in a pinch one of Godfrey's friends.

He has built up a terrific prestige in the Democratic party. But he is apt to over-talk the point like a vacuum-cleaner salesman in a shack with a dirt floor.

If Adlai doesn't want it then Averell will play the music master. He will beat his chest on the side away from the cigars and repeat Dave Warfield's immoral, "If you don't vant her, I vant her."

Another candidate who stands head and shoulders over his necktie is Estes Kefauver. The last time we saw Estes was at the convention in Chicago. He tried to do some hoss-trading in the stock yards. It did Estes no good and gave the place a bad name.

Eisenhower, Puerto Rican Governor Joke About Nationalist Assassins

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Gov. Luis Munoz Marin, first Puerto Rican ever elected governor of Puerto Rico, and the best governor the island has ever known, was conferring with President Eisenhower regarding various Caribbean problems. Among other things he doesn't want too high a minimum wage fixed for Puerto Rico and pointed out that the present average wage in the island—58 cents an hour—is higher than the minimum wage in England, France and Italy.

He also urged President Eisenhower to help set up a Caribbean commission including every British, Dutch and French possession in the Caribbean as well as Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, in order to secure better cultural and economic cooperation in that area.

The President was sympathetic to both ideas. During the conference they got to talking about the Puerto Rican nationalists who had attempted to assassinate President Truman and had shot several congressmen.

"I was driving through New York," remarked the President, "when a friend pointed out a building which he said was the headquarters of the Puerto Rican Nationalists."

"That must have been the jail," replied Governor Munoz, "because all I know are in jail."

"I don't see why they should want to shoot me," continued Eisenhower jokingly. "I have announced that I was for independence if Puerto Rico wants independence. You're the man they should shoot, not me."

"They've already tried," replied the governor, a little ruefully, doubtless having in mind the occasion when the Nationalists stormed his home about a year ago.

NOTE—Governor Munoz Marin is getting excellent cooperation from both President Eisenhower and Secretary of the Interior McKay in handling Puerto Rican problems.

Behind Formosa Switch

Here's the inside story of how the State Department issued a statement one day that the U.S.A. would not discuss a cease-fire with Red China without Chiang Kai-shek; then three days later said we would discuss a cease-fire without Chiang Kai-shek.

This was not a minor snafu perpetrated by a minor State Department official. Nor was it entirely the fault of Herbert Hoover Jr., the undersecretary of state who originated the first statement. He phoned a copy to Gettysburg, talked to the President about an hour on the phone.

Later, two things happened. First, Senator George of Georgia got a tremendous ovation when he told the American Society of Newspaper Editors that we should talk to the Red Chinese about peace no matter what the circumstances. White House staff members, always sensitive to public opinion, were present. Impressed by the ovation, they reported it to Ike.

Ali Vs. Nehru

At the Bandung conference, Red China's tough-talking Premier Chou En-lai had two conferences with the two rival leaders of what was once British India, now are Pakistan and India.

According to the secret cabled reports of U. S. diplomats, Chou's talk with idealistic premier Nehru was a flop. Nehru tried to be the peacemaker of Asia, but got cold-shouldered.

Though Nehru wanted the Red Chinese leader to guarantee the neutrality of all non-Communist Viet Nam, Chou would guarantee only the small and unimportant states of Laos and Cambodia. Implication was the Reds would penetrate the rest of Indochina—namely, the much richer, more powerful Viet Nam now undergoing revolt.

Anyway he told Mohammed Ali, according to the four-page cable Ali sent Dulles, that Red China wants the two offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu as the price for a cease-fire in the Formosa Strait.

Ali also reported he was convinced Red China really wants to end the Formosa crisis. He said Chou complained the Allied blockade of China is keeping his country from buying strategic materials and he indicated that this ban would have to be lifted before he agreed to a cease-fire.

It was after the receipt of this four-page cable from Premier Mohammed Ali that Dulles advised Ike that the original Eisenhower policy of insisting that Chiang Kai-shek sit in on any cease-fire talks be reversed—regardless of the ire of Senator Knowland of California.

Newsweek's Circulation

It's good business when you can get it, though most magazines can't get it. However, Newsweek magazine, stanchly pro-Eisenhower, got the benefit of Agriculture Department stenographers who were ordered to address publicity post cards to persons on the mailing list of the Agricultural Research Service telling them to read Newsweek.

The cards called attention to a Newsweek article dealing with the Council for Agricultural and Chemurgic Research, whose president, Henry McKnight, just happens to be secretary of Ike's National Agricultural Advisory Commission.

The council's board chairman also happens to be Wheeler McMillan, another big Ike-man, publisher of the Farm Journal and father of Agriculture Secretary Benson's public relations adviser, Robert McMillan.

So the taxpayer ended up paying to boost Newsweek's circulation.

Merry-Go-Round

Readers of the Clarksburg, W. Va., Exponent rubbed their eyes in amazement when they saw Westbrook Pegler's name over a column praising Franklin Roosevelt on the tenth anniversary of his death. They wondered whether Pag had a reformation or a stroke. What happened was that a typesetter put Pegler's name over my column printed on the anniversary of Roosevelt's death . . . The House Anti-Monopoly Committee will investigate bank mergers as its first order of business. Instead of inviting Administration officials to start off the testimony, however, the committee will listen to Congressmen first . . . Norris Nelson, the executive director of the Republican Education Foundation, boasts that he never graduated from high school. Yet he's in charge of an educational foundation. This is the foundation which arranged for the birthday celebration of the Grand Old Party in Wisconsin recently . . . The Navy hopes to build a fleet of midget submarines, powered by small, compact atomic power plants. The Russians have surrounded their key cities with rocket-powered fighters, which can fly short distances at tremendous speeds.

First Class Snafu

By Bob Considine

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — (INS) — "Operation Miscue" has had, as of this writing, all the ingredients of a first class snafu. If lesser souls were involved, it could have long since developed into a real rhubarb.

As one frustrating all-night vigil at Yucca Flat followed another, with no bomb, a series of foggy rumors began to take shape over the heads of the thousands of fretting souls on hand for the occasion. It was said that the television networks were behind this determination to shoot the bomb off at any price because it was costing them $14,000 a day to keep their big operation going. Then there was the story that the real mastermind behind the sleepless nights was Val Peterson, federal Civil Defense administator, who was pictured as a man who had a Monday appointment in Washington and wanted to get the whole thing over with because failure to shoot the thing would be politically embarrassing for him.

The legend began to grow that FCDA fears of pinched appropriations, in the light of Big Four peace talks and the comical aspects of repeated delays, played a role in the determined efforts to get the test on its fiery way. It was said openly in Las Vegas that meteorologists were being high-pressured into promising good weather at scheduled test time, no matter how gloomy the prospect.

On the part of the Civil Defense people on hand—many of whom were using up their vacation periods and spending more money than they could afford—there was a frantic realignment of tickets out of town, and finally reluctant departure by the hundreds. Not many of those who left looked forward to getting back to their home towns and facing friends who, in some cases, had raised the money for them to go to the big test and help them comprehend the task of survival in the atomic age.

Actually, there was nothing sinister about this at all, except the bomb itself. A fine man named Al Graves, who gave part of an eye to it, and all of his recent adult life, was the man who was behind the buildup and the delays. His people in the weather department assured him there was a good chance the bomb could be touched off each time the people were dispatched to the desert. His people told him, some hours later, that this or that had changed in the weather, as is always possible. Graves made the ultimate decision. It had nothing to do with television, newspapers, politics or anything else, save the safety of human beings. Graves is the kind of man who would declare a 10-year or a 100-year postponement in an atomic test, if conditions were not right. A couple of little settlements you never heard of, Alamo and Elgin, Nevada, had had what the AEC considers enough radioactive happy dust this year. Prof. Graves would see that these people got no more, because of vagrant winds.

That's all.

Chest Pain May Stem From Injury Caused By Cough

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Many years ago a German physician, Dr. A. Tietze, described a peculiar chest condition caused by severe coughing. Pain developed just to the left of the breastbone which stemmed from a spot that was swollen, sore, and tender to the touch. Some victims feared they had heart trouble; others were certain that cancer was responsible. Dr. Tietze was equally concerned because he thought pain might be due to tuberculosis.

We now know that this type of chest pain comes from an injury to the chest wall caused by coughing. The structure that bears the brunt is the cartilaginous joint connecting one of the ribs to the breastbone. The affected parts are dislocated by violent or repeated coughing and it is little wonder the area is swollen and tender to the touch.

Initially, the feeling is that of a heavy weight pressing on the chest. Soreness is aggravated by any movement including coughing, deep breathing, or lifting an object. Lying down offers no relief; if anything, pain increases. The intensity varies from hour to hour and week to week. It may last for several days only to disappear and recur at intervals thereafter.

In others, months elapse and the person thinks he is cured. But the syndrome returns with the next cold or during a period of overwork when the sufferer becomes run down. Recurrences also take place during inclement weather, pregnancy, and anxiety.

No one dies of Tietze's disease but apprehension is common when a heart disturbance or cancer is blamed for the chest pain. But the physician knows the distress produced by these conditions does not resemble Tietze's disease. When the victim learns the truth, his worries are likely to vanish.

During the painful stage heat and aspirin offer temporary relief. Hot, moist towels, the electric pad, or an infra-red lamp are preferred to the heavier hot water bag, which causes additional pressure on the chest. Injection of an anesthetic solution such as novocaine also is helpful and now and then X-ray therapy is of value. Complete recovery is the rule.

Chest injuries following severe coughing are by no means unusual. In some instances, muscles are torn or a rib is fractured. Occasionally, strain ruptures one or more air sacs of the lung or displaces a vertebra in the spine.

The callus of an old fractured rib has been known to separate when the individual indulged in violent hacking. All these complications are serious because pain is difficult to control so long as coughing continues.

PITUITARY AND STATURE

D. T. writes: How can my pituitary gland be stimulated so that I can grow taller? I'm 25 and 5 feet 3 inches.

REPLY

The pituitary gland has more than one function and if it is stimulated, conditions may arise that are worse than short stature. Furthermore, if the gland is normal, pituitary extract would have no effect on growth.

LONG LIST

G. L. writes: Please list all the foods that could cause allergy.

REPLY

The next time you go to a super market, ask the manager for his inventory and that will be it. On the other hand, the most common offenders are egg, sea food, strawberries, wheat, corn, and chocolate.

ALCOHOL AND LIVER

J. R. writes: Does the use of alcohol bring on hepatitis?

REPLY

Hepatitis is a liver infection and is not caused by the use of alcohol. Nevertheless, when the disease is present, alcoholic beverages should not be taken as they aggravate hepatitis.

GOOD PULSE

C. A. writes: What is the normal pulse for a man of 65? Mine remains 60 — rain, snow, or sunshine.

REPLY

From 50 to 100. A rate of 60 is ideal because it is on the slow side of normal.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Doctors, inured to being yanked out of bed at all hours of the night by inconsiderate patients, got a measure of satisfaction in Seattle some time ago. How To Save Money By Better Buying

The Department of Defense could hope to save $340 million a year on what it costs to feed and clothe the armed services. That's a fair statement, in the light of the latest report by the Hoover Commission—even though Defense Department officials charged with this responsibility say that the commission's criticisms are "misleading" and even "not factual."

Certainly it should not be difficult for the Defense Department to find ways of improving its buying to save money. When the Navy has a stock of canned hamburgers big enough to last nearly 60 years, anybody can see that it has money tied up in an investment that brings no return but does occupy expensive warehouse space.

The Navy says that part of this supply is "basic battle ration" in the nation's reserve stockpile; but, even so, the rest of it is more than the Navy needs if the current rate of consumption means anything. The Navy should not buy any more canned hamburgers and should eat up part of what it has.

What the Commission on Organization of the Executive Branch of the Government recommends, however, is a more fundamental solution. It would have the Defense Department set up central purchasing agencies for all three services. Then it should be possible to eliminate such horrible examples of wasteful buying as the one that cropped up in 1951, when the Army shipped 807,000 pounds of tomatoes from California to New York while the Navy was shipping 775,000 pounds of tomatoes from the East Coast to California.

That probably does an injustice, in a way, to the men who do this huge job—it runs up to a total of $1.7 billion a year—for the three services. But it illustrates what can happen and it points to the remedy. The commission's estimate that a 20 per cent saving could be effected by handling the job through two central agencies, one for food and one for clothing, doesn't sound unreasonable.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Words At Large

Two years ago, if anyone said "Conformity!" most people would wonder what he was talking about because in this country there is no rigid conformity except among teen-age gals who must do as their class at school does even if it gives them a tail like a horse.

Some propagandists got to using the word, conformity, and made a sin of it. After all, in some ways of life we all conform to patterns. We wear clothes which are fairly uniform, and advertising has taught us to eat the same breakfasts, although I, the conservative, eat neither eggs nor cereals, preferring meat or fish to start the day. We, most of us, stop at a red light and go when it is green. We pay our taxes, which we hate, and grumble almost in unison.

But what those, who most violently object to conformity, resent vehemently is the cultivation of a national ideal of life, namely, our people accepting the same concepts or being oppressed or coerced into believing them.

And yet, most of us do conform about generalities or we should have an anarchy. Most Americans believe that there is a God, a Divine Intelligence, although they can get into the fiercest kinds of arguments as to what He is and how He is to be worshipped. The fundamental remains, however.

And nearly all of us believe that ours is a good country, to which we try to be loyal according to our lights. Again there are vast and annoying differences of opinion as to how one can be most effectively loyal to his country—but the need for loyalty is not denied, and traitors are despised as unworthy and indecent.

Then most of us believe in the family and we should like to see our own preserved through life from beginning to the end. We do not, some of us, succeed in that, perhaps through selfishness or inflexibility or just plain cussedness. But the worst offenders speak well of the family although they have made a mess of their own.

We, in this country, are becoming somewhat confused about our economics because we live in a kind of mixed socialist-capitalist system. Two wars and a great depression have made our economy to go into by-ways. Nevertheless, most of us believe in good old-fashioned capitalism, if we could get a try at it again. However, we should not like to give up any of the benefits that came to us from the give-aways, that is, when we get something for nothing.

So we argue over the economy and some are for this and some for that but on the whole, it is the details we quarrel about, not the general principles. The Marxists and Keynesians and similar theorists have made smaller headway in this country than might have been expected seeing how much effort has gone into their propaganda.

Most Americans believe that their Constitution is a great instrument of government, particularly as it protects our liberties. But we are all, in this land, lawyers of various stages of amateurishness and each one of us knows exactly what the government should do, the Congress pass on, and the Supreme Court decide. That is why we are a free people. And let no one silence the citizen who wishes to air his views, as long as he keeps himself a free man. In the end, good sense generally prevails although it sometimes takes a long time to show good sense.

What then is all this outcry against conformity? It would seem that a minority of folks want most of us to conform to their notions. They raised a storm about "book-burning" but they use foul means to kill books in the market place; they raise an outcry against informers for the government, but they form committees to inform each other about whom they love and hate. In other words, instead of accepting the majority as the norm, they want a particular minority opinion to be the norm. And they raise the cry of "Conformity!" much as a pickpocket shouts, "Stop Thief!"

Well, it is all in a lifetime and if one lives long enough, the protest against a pattern in one decade becomes the pattern of the next, as Benjamin Franklin would say if he saw his fellow-publishers in 1955 in long trousers.

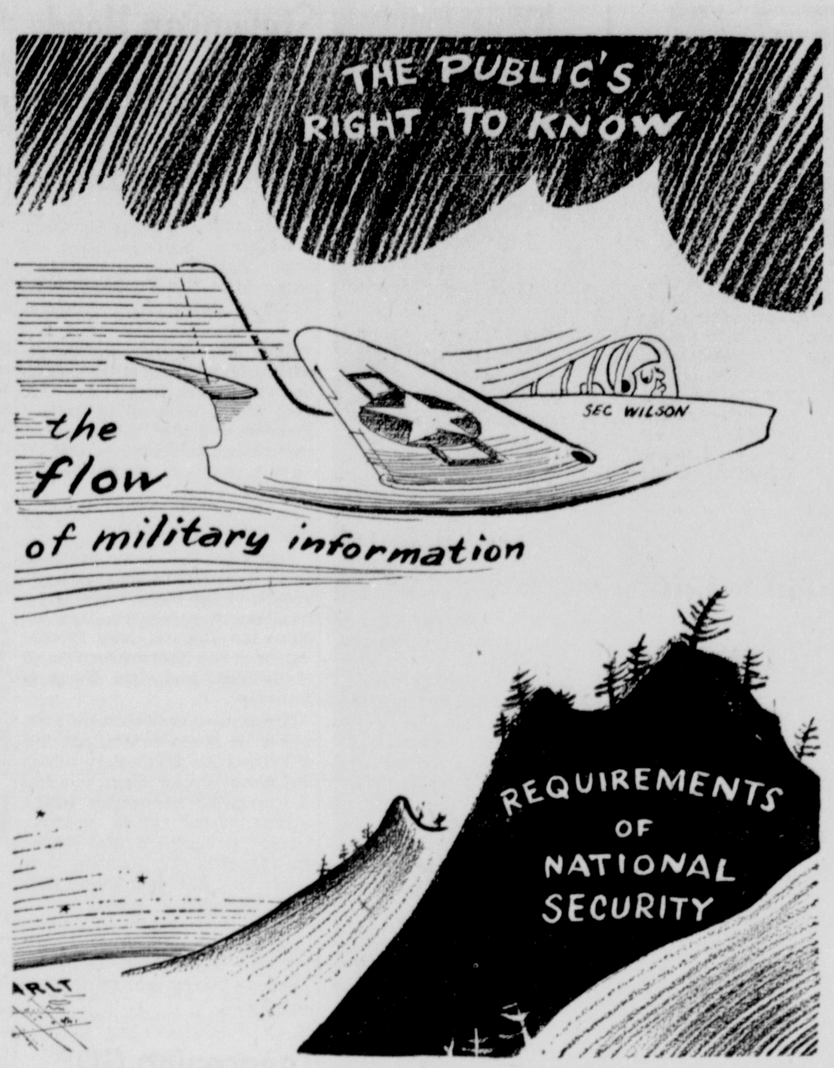
Operation Squeeze Play!



Spain Example Of Inconsistency By U. N. Members

By David Lawrence

MADRID—This is a place where they can enjoy a big laugh at the expense of the various statesmen of the world who lately have been proclaiming that it doesn't matter what kind of government they have in Peiping—admission to the United Nations should be granted, anyhow. Yet the record shows that a resolution by the United Nations Assembly adopted December 12, 1946, did assert that the form of government in a given country is a matter for approval or disapproval by the United Nations.

The present government here is of course, in complete control of every inch of Spanish territory, including all offshore islands. If international law and custom alone is the basis, Spain is entitled to admission into the United Nations. But there is another point, and that is whether an applicant government is or is not "peace loving" or whether its behavior constitutes a threat to peace. Spain has not manifested any threats against any other nation and is "peace loving" in every sense of the word.

Ruled Out By Resolution

Then why isn't the government of Spain admitted to the United Nations? The words of the 1946 resolution set forth the qualifications for Spain's admission. The resolution read in part as follows:

"The General Assembly, . . . further desiring to secure the participation of all peace-loving peoples, including the people of Spain, in the community of nations,

"Recommends that if, within a reasonable time, there is not established a government which derives its authority from the consent of the governed, committed to respect freedom of speech, religion and assembly and to the prompt holding of an election in which the Spanish people, free from force and intimidation and regardless of party, may express their will, the Security Council consider the adequate measures to be taken in order to remedy the situation;

"Recommends that all members of the United Nations immediately recall from Madrid their ambassadors and ministers plenipotentiary accredited there.

"The General Assembly further recommends that the states members of the organization report to the secretary-general and to the next session of the Assembly what action they have taken in accordance with this recommendation."

The foregoing sounds strangely unlike the speeches which British spokesmen, for example, have been making in the United States lately telling audiences that it isn't a matter of approval or disapproval of a particular government when admission to the United Nations or even diplomatic recognition is involved. Indeed between November 1936 and May 1939 53 governments of the world, including Great Britain, the United States and France extended diplomatic recognition to the present government of Spain, and not one expressed any reservation or allegation that the government here was not independent or free.

Considers Itself Responsible

Today, however, if the resolution of 1946 by the United Nations means anything, it means that recognition must be withdrawn from the Soviet Union and the government at Peiping, or at least that ambassadors must be recalled. Certainly the resolution means also that the United Nations considers itself responsible for the establishment of free governments through free elections.

But everybody knows today that the United Nations doesn't practice what it has preached. In fact, probably most of the members who voted for the 1946 resolution would like to see it expunged from the records because it contains a very troublesome precedent. Yet, if the principle is to be buried and governments like those at Moscow and Peiping are to be accepted as worthy members hereafter, then what possible excuse is there any longer for refusing to admit the government of Spain?

It so happens that the Spaniards are not knocking at the door of the United Nations. They still remember the unkind action of 1946, and they do not care to apply for admission to a club from which they have been blackballed.

Spain can get along without membership in the United Nations, but the big question is, how long can the members of the United Nations remain guilty of hypocrisy and inconsistency by arguing so fervently nowadays for admission of Red China, whose government just recently was declared to be an "aggressor?" The Spanish folks hereabouts smile at the discomfiture of their onetime critics.

Looks like the Democratic nomination is going begging. Neither Adlai nor Averell want to grab the tin cup.

We have a flicker of suspicion that Governor Harriman might carry the banner over the Albany-Washington axis. Provided Mr. Stevenson would make up his mind faster than a lady with two heads in a millinery shop.

But Adlai is doing a time-step on pogo sticks. He can be governor again, senator from Illinois or in a pinch one of Godfrey's friends.

He has built up a terrific prestige in the Democratic party. But he is apt to over-talk the point like a vacuum-cleaner salesman in a shack with a dirt floor.

Eisenhower, Puerto Rican Governor Joke About Nationalist Assassins

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Gov. Luis Munoz Marin, first Puerto Rican ever elected governor of Puerto Rico, and the best governor the island has ever known, was conferring with President Eisenhower regarding various Caribbean problems. Among other things he doesn't want too high a minimum wage fixed for Puerto Rico and pointed out that the present average wage in the island—58 cents an hour—is higher than the minimum wage in England, France and Italy.

He also urged President Eisenhower to help set up a Caribbean commission including every British, Dutch and French possession in the Caribbean as well as Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, in order to secure better cultural and economic cooperation in that area.

The President was sympathetic to both ideas. During the conference they got to talking about the Puerto Rican nationalists who had attempted to assassinate President Truman and had shot several congressmen.

"I was driving through New York," remarked the President, "when a friend pointed out a building which he said was the headquarters of the Puerto Rican Nationalists."

"They've already tried," replied the governor, a little ruefully, doubtless having in mind the occasion when the Nationalists stormed his home about a year ago.

NOTE—Governor Munoz Marin is getting excellent cooperation from both President Eisenhower and Secretary of the Interior McKay in handling Puerto Rican problems.

At the Bandung conference, Red China's tough-talking Premier Chou En-lai had two conferences with the two rival leaders of what was once British India, now are Pakistan and India.

According to the secret cabled reports of U. S. diplomats, Chou's talk with idealistic premier Nehru was a flop. Nehru tried to be the peacemaker of Asia, but got cold-shouldered.

Though Nehru wanted the Red Chinese leader to guarantee the neutrality of all non-Communist Viet Nam, Chou would guarantee only the small and unimportant states of Laos and Cambodia. Implication was the Reds would penetrate the rest of Indochina—namely, the much richer, more powerful Viet Nam now undergoing revolt.

Anyway he told Mohammed Ali, according to the four-page cable Ali sent Dulles, that Red China wants the two offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu as the price for a cease-fire in the Formosa Strait.

Ali also reported he was convinced Red China really wants to end the Formosa crisis. He said Chou complained the Allied blockade of China is keeping his country from buying strategic materials and he indicated that this ban would have to be lifted before he agreed to a cease-fire.

It was after the receipt of this four-page cable from Premier Mohammed Ali that Dulles advised Ike that the original Eisenhower policy of insisting that Chiang Kai-shek sit in on any cease-fire talks be reversed—regardless of the ire of Senator Knowland of California.

Newsweek's Circulation

It's good business when you can get it, though most magazines can't get it. However, Newsweek magazine, stanchly pro-Eisenhower, got the benefit of Agriculture Department stenographers who were ordered to address publicity post cards to persons on the mailing list of the Agricultural Research Service telling them to read Newsweek.

The cards called attention to a Newsweek article dealing with the Council for Agricultural and Chemurgic Research, whose president, Henry McKnight, just happens to be secretary of Ike's National Agricultural Advisory Commission.

The council's board chairman also happens to be Wheeler McMillan, another big Ike-man, publisher of the Farm Journal and father of Agriculture Secretary Benson's public relations adviser, Robert McMillan.

So the taxpayer ended up paying to boost Newsweek's circulation.

By Bob Considine

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — (INS) — "Operation Miscue" has had, as of this writing, all the ingredients of a first class snafu. If lesser souls were involved, it could have long since developed into a real rhubarb.

As one frustrating all-night vigil at Yucca Flat followed another, with no bomb, a series of foggy rumors began to take shape over the heads of the thousands of fretting souls on hand for the occasion. It was said that the television networks were behind this determination to shoot the bomb off at any price because it was costing them $14,000 a day to keep their big operation going. Then there was the story that the real mastermind behind the sleepless nights was Val Peterson, federal Civil Defense administator, who was pictured as a man who had a Monday appointment in Washington and wanted to get the whole thing over with because failure to shoot the thing would be politically embarrassing for him.

The legend began to grow that FCDA fears of pinched appropriations, in the light of Big Four peace talks and the comical aspects of repeated delays, played a role in the determined efforts to get the test on its fiery way. It was said openly in Las Vegas that meteorologists were being high-pressured into promising good weather at scheduled test time, no matter how gloomy the prospect.

On the part of the Civil Defense people on hand—many of whom were using up their vacation periods and spending more money than they could afford—there was a frantic realignment of tickets out of town, and finally reluctant departure by the hundreds. Not many of those who left looked forward to getting back to their home towns and facing friends who, in some cases, had raised the money for them to go to the big test and help them comprehend the task of survival in the atomic age.

Actually, there was nothing sinister about this at all, except the bomb itself. A fine man named Al Graves, who gave part of an eye to it, and all of his recent adult life, was the man who was behind the buildup and the delays. His people in the weather department assured him there was a good chance the bomb could be touched off each time the people were dispatched to the desert. His people told him, some hours later, that this or that had changed in the weather, as is always possible. Graves made the ultimate decision. It had nothing to do with television, newspapers, politics or anything else, save the safety of human beings. Graves is the kind of man who would declare a 10-year or a 100-year postponement in an atomic test, if conditions were not right. A couple of little settlements you never heard of, Alamo and Elgin, Nevada, had had what the AEC considers enough radioactive happy dust this year. Prof. Graves would see that these people got no more, because of vagrant winds.

That's all.

PITUITARY AND STATURE

D. T. writes: How can my pituitary gland be stimulated so that I can grow taller? I'm 25 and 5 feet 3 inches.

REPLY

The pituitary gland has more than one function and if it is stimulated, conditions may arise that are worse than short stature. Furthermore, if the gland is normal, pituitary extract would have no effect on growth.

Mothers To Meet

FROSTBURG — The Hill Street Kindergarten Mothers Club will meet this evening, 7:45 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Margaret Faulk, 81 West Main Street. Mrs. Ruth Kreitzburg will be co-hostess. Mrs. Rae Pugh will preside at the meeting and Miss Esther Carter will be the guest speaker.

Piedmont Man Retires As Machinist With B&O

With over a half century of service with the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, William T. Kelly, of 55 West Harrison Street, Piedmont, has decided it's about time for the younger boys to see that the railroad keeps going.

Upon his retirement, he was presented luggage by railroad and union officials, and he aims to put it to use in travel. Railroading was in his blood as his father, grandfather and uncles were all B&O employes.

Actually Kelly completed nearly 54 years with the B&O since back in September of 1901, at the age of 16, he went to work with the railroad.

First Job

His first job was that of a tool boy, which included such duties as loading tools on the steam engines, putting ice on the locomotives as well as filling the headlights and markers with coal oil.

Wages at that time were six cents an hour for a 10-hour day, which went quite a way with the low cost of living. In 1902, Kelly started on his trade at the old Piedmont shops. He, Thomas Carey and George Kight, were about the last three men to start on their machinist trade in Piedmnot.

Four years later in 1906 he completed his time and qualified as a machinist. While working at his trade, Kelly went to the Cumberland shops and later returned to Keyser.

Traveled To Ohio

After being furloughed for several months, he traveled to Chillicothe, Ohio and worked with the B&O Southwestern. Back in Keyser in 1913 he became engine house foreman and about 1934 went to the tool room of the car shops from where he retired.

Recalling how he used to be called out when a tire was off the wheel of a locomotive, Kelly said that one call he will never forget was the day the thermometer at Altamont registered 28 degrees below zero with plenty of snow on the ground.

"Mighty cold," was his description. Although most of his experience ranged from 1600 and 1800 "helpers" to the larger type steam locomotives of today, Kelly didn't work much with the Diesels. However, he says they are a means of quicker transportation and cheaper to operate.

Other Relatives

At the age of 12, an uncle, Dennis, carried water on the B&O. Later he was master mechanic at Baltimore and Cumberland. Another uncle, Owen, was master mechanic in Baltimore, Parkersburg, Cumberland and Weston, W. Va.

Kelly's father, James F. Kelly, was an engineer. During the 1890's his engine was train No. 412 and he ran it from Keyser to Grafton. His father was both passenger and freight engineer. Probably the highlight of his railroading career was being one of the first engineers to use the air brake on the 17-mile grade.

Another uncle, Jack "fired" on the the B&O for years. Believing in the union, Kelly joined Local 246, International Association of Machinists in July, 1905. For the past 10 years, he has been treasurer of that unit.

A member of St. Peter's Catholic Church, Westernport, he also belongs to the Holy Name Society of the church, Piedmont Council 685, Knights of Columbus and the Keyser B&O Veterans, from which he received a 50-year pin.

Putters In Garden

Upon retirement he is now "puttering" around in his garden and expects a bumper crop of potatoes as well as Bermuda onions and other vegetables.

Television is another enjoyable pastime in his spare moments. And once in a while he gets a bit of pleasure out of canasta and other card games. Otherwise he plans on taking it easy.

Kelly is the father of eight children. One of his sons, Philip, a machinist at the Keyser shops, brings the family tradition up-to-date by keeping the Diesels running.

Piedmont Man Retires As Machinist With B&O

With over a half century of service with the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, William T. Kelly, of 55 West Harrison Street, Piedmont, has decided it's about time for the younger boys to see that the railroad keeps going.

Four years later in 1906 he completed his time and qualified as a machinist. While working at his trade, Kelly went to the Cumberland shops and later returned to Keyser.

Traveled To Ohio

After being furlo·ghed for several months, he traveled to Chillicothe, Ohio and worked with the B&O Southwestern. Back in Keyser in 1913 he became engine house foreman and about 1934 went to the tool room of the car shops from where he retired.

Recalling how he used to be called out when a tire was off the wheel of a locomotive, Kelly said that one call he will never forget was the day the thermometer at Altamont registered 28 degrees below zero with plenty of snow on the ground.

"Mighty cold," was his description. Although most of his experience ranged from 1600 and 1800 "helpers" to the larger type steam locomotives of today, Kelly didn't work much with the Diesels. However, he says they are a means of quicker transportation and cheaper to operate.

Kelly's grandfather, John Kelly, was foreman in charge of laying track from Piedmont up the 17-mile grade toward Altamont. Today a section of the track at the foot of the grade, opposite the Luke plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company bears his name and is known as Kelly Curve.

Other Relatives

At the age of 12, an uncle, Dennis, carried water on the B&O. Later he was master mechanic at Baltimore and Cumberland. Another uncle, Owen, was master mechanic in Baltimore, Parkersburg, Cumberland and Weston, W. Va.

Kelly's father, James F. Kelly, was an engineer. During the 1890's his engine was train No. 412 and he ran it from Keyser to Grafton. His father was both passenger and freight engineer. Probably the highlight of his railroading career was being one of the first engineers to use the air brake on the 17-mile grade.

Another uncle, Jack "fired" on the the B&O for years. Believing in the union, Kelly joined Local 246, International Association of Machinists in July, 1905. For the past 10 years, he has been treasurer of that unit.

A member of St. Peter's Catholic Church, Westernport, he also belongs to the Holy Name Society of the church, Piedmont Council 685, Knights of Columbus and the Keyser B&O Veterans, from which he received a 50-year pin.

Putters In Garden

Upon retirement he is now "puttering" around in his garden and expects a bumper crop of potatoes as well as Bermuda onions and other vegetables.

Television is another enjoyable pastime in his spare moments. And once in a while he gets a bit of pleasure out of canasta and other card games. Otherwise he plans on taking it easy.

Kelly is the father of eight children. One of his sons, Philip, a machinist at the Keyser shops, brings the family tradition up-to-date by keeping the Diesels running.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, May 3 (INS) — Excitedly waving a cablegram, Joe Mankiewicz stopped work on "Guys and Dolls" to tell me that Audrey Hepburn has agreed to do "Twelfth Night" for him.

Audrey will play the dual role of Viola and Sebastian, her brother — the first time the same person has played the two roles.

Said Joe, "As soon as I finish 'Guys and Dolls' I am going to work on the script. We'll make it in England in February 1956. I haven't decided whether I'll use the traditional Elizabethan score or get new music. It will be, in a way, a musical."

James Stewart took off for Morocco today. He'll meet Doris Day and Director Alfred Hitchcock there to start "The Man Who Knew Too Much." Gloria Mrs. Stewart) went along with him — "just because she speaks French," Jimmy laughed.

Alfred Hitchcock told me before he left that as soon as he finishes his current thriller he's going to make "Flamingo Feathers," a suspense drama by Laurens van Der Post.

"Paramount bought it," he said, "and it's about a white planter in Africa who quells a native Communist inspired uprising. It's got a lot of suspense."

Hitch will make some of the scenes in Africa, but he doesn't expect to get started until next spring.

I had a chance to ask Marisa Pavan about Anna Magnani and she said: "When Anna Magnani is making a picture she becomes the person she is playing. She forgets everything else. It's strenuous but, believe me, I'd be glad to make another picture with her. She taught me a lot. I think she's one of the greatest actresses I've ever met."

"Then you didn't mind all her roughness in 'Rose Tattoo'?" I asked.

"No, because I don't think she meant to be rough. She was just playing the role of the mother," said Marisa.

Marisa told me that her twin, Pier Angeli, is so much better that she is looking for a house, all on one floor, for herself and Vic Damone.

Louis B. Mayer and Lorean sail on the S.S. United States May 26 for Europe. They'll be accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Brown and go directly to Montecantini, a famous spa near Florence.

Then they'll meet L. B.'s daughter, Mrs. Irene Selznick, in London where she is working on her new play, "The Chalk Garden," which Irene, herself, will direct.

Suzanne Mayer will not accompany her family because she returns to summer school at Stanford University. More than anything in the world Suzanne wants to be a doctor. That would have made Suzanne's godfather very happy.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

At Chasen's where I had dinner with George Delacorte, Mona Freeman and Bing Crosby were seated at a table for two.

At the baby shower June Havoc gave for Mrs. James Mason, Portie had more fun than anyone opening the packages. Pamela is expecting the baby a week from Thursday, May 12 — and she wants another girl.

Joan Bennett brought Steffie who has grown to be a tall girl. Mrs. Nunnally Johnson, Mrs. Ray Stark, Mrs. Kirk Douglas (who is also expecting a baby), Mrs. Henry Hathaway, and Freddie De Cordova's ma, who leaves for Honolulu, toasted the expected baby in pink champagne.

Good to see the big lines outside the theatre showing "Strategic Air Command." In two days they took in over $18,000.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Attractiveness? How do we measure it? To me, an attractive woman is one who tells you at first glance that she has made the most of herself. She keeps her beauty and charm at peak level. She is pleasing to look at, charming to be with and hear. She has feminine magnetism and a vitality of manner.

What about you? When you see an outstandingly attractive woman do you sigh, "Oh, if I took all the time she does . . . and, anyway I can't change." This attitude is an enemy that destroys your chances before you start. There is nothing attractive about a woman who is stuck in a rut. Boost yourself out of it . . . you can do anything you seriously want to. You do have the time to make the most of yourself . . . it's not as time-consuming as you think.

Daily care—if only ten organized minutes in the morning and twenty at night — puts you on your sweet way to attractiveness. Actually what it takes is will power in the beginning. Then, in a few short weeks the routine will become a habit.

Don't think that famous beauties got that way as the result of some magic potion or expensive beauty treatments in fabulous salons. I've had the opportunity to work with and direct many of them. They would laugh at the thought. The trick is they never miss a day. Their attractiveness is of their own making. It's the day in and day out beauty habit that has paid off tremendous beauty dividends.

One of the most wonderful things about making yourself more attractive to people is that in the process you'll find how much more life has to offer you. And, when you look in the mirror you can glow with pride and ask your reflection, "Isn't it worth it?"

Keyser Court House Gets New Doors

KEYSER — New double doors have been installed at the Armstrong Street entrance to the Mineral County Court House by order of the County Court. The doors that were replaced, probably the original doors installed when the building was new, were kept at the entrance despite the fact they were a contradiction to the state law that calls for doors to all public buildings "to open outward."

This attitude is an enemy that destroys your chances before you start. There is nothing attractive about a woman who is stuck in a rut. Boost yourself out of it . . . you can do anything you seriously want to. You do have the time to make the most of yourself . . . it's not as time-consuming as you think.

Daily care—if only ten organized minutes in the morning and twenty at night — puts you on your sweet way to attractiveness. Actually what it takes is will power in the beginning. Then, in a few short weeks the routine will become a habit.

Don't think that famous beauties got that way as the result of some magic potion or expensive beauty treatments in fabulous salons. I've had the opportunity to work with and direct many of them. They would laugh at the thought. The trick is they never miss a day. Their attractiveness is of their own making. It's the day in and day out beauty habit that has paid off tremendous beauty dividends.

One of the most wonderful things about making yourself more attractive to people is that in the process you'll find how much more life has to offer you. And, when you look in the mirror you can glow with pride and ask your reflection, "Isn't it worth it?"

Keyser Court House Gets New Doors

KEYSER — New double doors have been installed at the Armstrong Street entrance to the Mineral County Court House by order of the County Court. The doors that were replaced, probably the original doors installed when the building was new, were kept at the entrance despite the fact they were a contradiction to the state law that calls for doors to all public buildings "to open outward."

Cleveland Indians Whip Yankees In Series Opener, 7-4

Tribe Defeats Old Nemesis Ed Lopat; 24,813 See Game

CLEVELAND, May 3 (INS) — The league-leading Cleveland Indians helped even the score with Eddie Lopat, an old-time nemesis tonight by defeating the one-time Tribe hurler and his New York Yankee teammates, 7 to 4, at Municipal Stadium.

Lopat, who usually makes a habit in beating Cleveland, was driven off the mound when the Indians rallied to score four runs in the seventh inning.

A crowd of 24,813 fans watched Cleveland's burly right hander Mike Garcia pick up his second win of the season against three losses although he was replaced in the eighth inning by Hal Newhouser.

Cleveland took a 1 to 0 lead in the first inning on right fielder Al Smith's third homer of the season. Ralph Kiner blasted a two-run homer for the Tribe in the fourth inning. It was Kiner's fourth homer of the year.

New York got one run in the fifth on Joe Collins' double and a single by Billy Hunter.

Mickey Mantle of the Yanks gave his teammates a brief lead when he rifled a homer in the sixth inning with two mates aboard.

The roof fell in on Lopat in the seventh when Cleveland scored four runs. Three of the runs were unearned.

Redlegs Blast Phils

PHILADELPHIA, May 3 (INS)—Big Ted Kluszewski blasted two home runs and Cincinnati's power boys broke their long silence tonight as the Redlegs defeated the Philadelphia Phillies, 7 to 5.

The Redlegs slammed four homers and made 11 hits account for 26 total bases. They broke a 5-5 tie in the seventh on homers by Kluszewski and Chuck Harmon off rookie Jack Spring.

Gus Bell got the other Cincinnati circuit clout.

Bill Riggins Dies

Sala Is Bricklayer

"Skeets" To Return

Double Or Nothing

By C. V. BURNS

He was noted as the "Handy Andy" man of Midland baseball teams because he was able to play several positions on the diamond and played them well.

Bill played a leading role in two championship series won by Midland.

In 1912 he scored a 2-1 pitching triumph over Piedmont and helped Midland cop a best-of-three series and the Imperial Cup, offered by Arthur Steinweg, Cumberland merchant, to the county championship team.

Riggins was a spitball pitcher, possessed a powerful arm, generally played third base when not on the firing line and was a good hitter.

Bill moved to Pennsylvania about 1917 but Midland called him back for the county title series with Cumberland two years later.

Lefty Fike beat Lefty Grove in the opening game, 2-0. Riggins saved the second game (6-5) after Grove suffered a hand injury and was forced to quit in the 5th inning. In the 3rd tilt Riggins decisioned Fike, 4-2, but Cumberland tied it up when Fike won over Grove in the 4th contest, 12-4. Riggins and Fike hooked up in the next game that lasted 13 innings and ended in a 1-1 deadlock. Bill was unable to get here for the 6th and final contest and southpaw Charley Dye hurled Midland to the championship, 3-1.

That probably was the most interesting baseball series that has been staged in the county in the past 40 years.

CARL HUGHES, Pittsburgh Press sports columnist, writes:

"Remember Lee Sala, as controversial a fighter as ever trod the local canvas? He's now a bricklayer in Donora, Pa."

Local fight fans will remember Sala. He scored two quick knockouts here in 1951 and appeared in the last show staged here.

DIDJA NOTICE the payoff on Nimble Lady in the first race at Laurel the other day?

The prices were $77.60 to win, $36 to place and $20.40 for show. Coupled with Folderol in the daily double Nimble Lady returned $802.20.

Nimble Lady is the filly that won the Clifton W. White Memorial at Fairgo on the last day of the Cumberland Fair Association's meeting last June.

"Skeets" kayoed Cecil Graf in the third round at Detroit Jan. 14, 1953, before he was inducted into the army. He has won 27 out of 29 pro fights. His only losses were to Harold Sampson and Lalu Sabotin.

ONLY three starting pitchers went the route against the Brooklyn Dodgers in the first 18 games of the season and all were defeated. They were Maglie, Giants; Rush, Cubs, and Conley of the Milwaukee Braves.

BROTHER FRANCIS Borgia, F. S. C., 78, who died Friday at Ammendale, was director of athletics at LaSalle Institute in the early 1920s when the school was located on Fayette Street.

LaSalle had soccer and cage teams at that time and played its home basketball games at the K. of C. Home. Ursuline Academy also was in the W.M.I. Basketball League and appeared in the preliminary contests.

Brother Francis was born John V. Blake and was a native of Eckhart.

PINCH-HITTERS in the Bi-State Conference are being given two turns at bat this season.

In the Mt. Savage-LaSalle game last Thursday, Eddie Williams went in to bat for Charley Shaffer and drew a base on balls in the 7th inning. When the Indians batted around and scored five runs, Williams hit into a double play to end the game.

Ray Reuse, of Allegany, was inserted to pinch-hit for Bob Paye in the fifth inning of Friday's game with Bruce High. He grounded out twice in that frame as the Campers scored seven runs before the fire was put out.

Pittsburgh Options Smith And Roberts

PITTSBURGH, May 3 (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates cut their roster to 31 players tonight, optioning outfielder Earl Smith to New Orleans of the Southern Association and infielder Curt Roberts to Hollywood of the Pacific Coast League.

Smith had only one hit in 14 trips to the plate. Last season he had a .387 batting average with Phoenix of the Class C Arizona-Texas League.

Littlefield Scores Over Warren Spahn

PITTSBURGH, May 3 (INS) — The Pittsburgh Pirates, working behind Lefty Dick Littlefield, won their third in a row tonight, blanking the Milwaukee Braves, 4 to 0, before a crowd of 10,784.

Littlefield scattered seven singles in notching the shutout, the second for the Pirates in the past three games. Warren Spahn was the loser. Spahn lasted only two innings.

Successive errors by Johnny Logan and Joe Adcock in the second admitted another Pirate run, Dale Long scoring to pad the Pirate lead to 3-0. Spahn was then removed for a pinch hitter at the start of the third with Umberto Robinson taking over

Cubs Top Giants, 6-0

NEW YORK, May 3 (INS) — Veteran righthander Bob Rush scored his first victory of the 1955 season tonight when he hurled the surprising Chicago Cubs to a 6-to-0 shutout over the New York Giants.

Rush rationed the World Champions to four hits as the second place Bruins notched their fourth straight win.

The Cubs made only five hits off Jim Hearn, Hoyt Wilhelm and Al Corwin, but they scored three unearned runs in the first inning off Hearn and that was all Rush needed.

By PAT ROBINSON

NEW YORK, May 3—(INS)—Somebody asked Fresco Thompson, vice president of the Brooklyn Dodgers, to what he attributed the amazing early rush of the Dodgers this season.

Nothing new seemed to have been added—same old veteran infielders, outfielders, catcher and pitchers. Also the same manager and coaches. Fresco smiled as he replied:

"Oh, yes, somebody has been added, but you haven't noticed him. See that big fellow catching down there in the bullpen? That's Joe Becker, the new pitching coach. He's the big difference in our pitching staff."

Fresco is second to none in his admiration of such able coaches of pitchers as Jim Turner of the Yanks, Frank Shellenback of the Giants and several others. But he declared he wouldn't swap Becker for any of them. He continued:

"Becker never was a big league star himself, but his many years of catching and managing in the minors demonstrated his ability to teach young players.

"Joe knows all the fine points of the game, and his chief admonition to pitchers is 'keep it low.' He has been a wonderful help to our throwers. He's turned them into pitchers."

Fresco pointed out that the Dodgers pitchers always had enough natural talent to win, but not all of them knew how to use it.

Becker has been able to help even a big winner like Carl Erskine. He has taught Erskine and the rest of the staff if they must throw a bad curve to keep it low.

"It's better," says Becker, "to have the catcher dig a curve out of the dirt where it's only a ball, than to have a curve hang high around the eyes where the chances are good it will be a home run."

Thompson says that Becker is responsible for the selection of a relief pitcher, and he points out:

"That fellow can tell wiithin a minute whether a fellow he is warming up has his stuff.

"He can tell after a few pitches whether the pitcher is loose in his delivery or whether his curve isn't sharp or his fast ball isn't taking off.

"He invariably picks the right man for relief, and you know how important that can be in a tight ball game."

So, should the Dodgers win the pennant this year, give a little thought to that forgotten guy in the bullpen—Joe Becker.

Percy Bassett's Eye Injury Is Serious

PARIS, May 3 (INS) — Featherweight contender Percy Bassett of Philadelphia—who may never fight again because of an eye ailment—is scheduled to fly home tonight for treatment and a possible operation.

The 26-year-old fighter's manager, Quenzall McCall, said Bassett was examined by a French doctor and his trouble was diagnosed as a detached retina.

Dr. Louis Negre, who examined Bassett, said it was a "very serious" case and that he had "grave doubts" as to whether the boxer will ever return to the ring.

Elliott Stars As Moose Win

Floyd "Pete" Elliott pitched a two-hitter yesterday as the Loyal Order of Moose defeated the Outdoor Club by the score of 6-1 in the opening game of the Rocking Chair Softball League season yesterday at Stitcher Field.

Elliott issued 14 bases on balls. Two snappy double plays executed by Frank Williams, Joe Wagner and Bob Wade and Bill Thompson to Grimes helped him out of two ticklish situations. Vern Penner and Ted Durbin got the ODC hits.

Elliott also paced the Moose stickers with a double and two singles while Thompson pounded a triple and single.

Mayor Roy W. Eves tossed the first ball to Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan at the opening day ceremonies.

At Campobello, the B.P.O. Elks rallied for six runs in the fifth inning to whip the F. O. Eagles by the score of 8-6.

Twenty-one hits were chalked up by the teams. Jim Fradiska, Harry Minnicks, Jim Gaffney and Clay Ingram of the Eagles and Lou Baker and "Buddy" Giles of the Elks garnered two hits each. The shortfielders, Dick Bruce of the Elks and Fritz Palmer of the Eagles, featured with nice catches.

Rams Quit In 10th Following Dispute

FROSTBURG, May 3—Shepherd College forfeited to Frostburg State Teachers College today when Coach Cletus Lowe ordered his team from the field following a dispute over whether Dave Marple had committed a balk in the top of the 10th inning with the score knotted at 7-7.

Jimmy Wilson opened the 10th with a single and with Tom Palamer at bat, Coach Lowe charged that Marple had committed a balk. During the argument that ensued Wilson advanced to second base. The umpires, Casey Thompson and Kenneth Grimes, disallowed the claim of balk and ordered Wilson to return to first base. Coach Lowe then ordered his team from the field and the arbiters declared Frostburg the winner via the forfeit route.

The Bobcats spotted the Rams seven runs in the second inning then cut down the visitors' lead in the late inning and tied the score in the ninth.

Frostburg outhit Shepherd 14 to 8 and Marple mowed down 13 of the Rams in strikeouts. John Keister and Marple had three hits each for the Bobcats while Palamer and Hall shared four of the visitors' eight blows. The score:

Fort Hill Hosts Flintstone High

Valley At Allegany, Mt. Savage At Beall

With LaSalle's co-champions of 1954 breathing down their backs, Fort Hill High's Sentinels are hopeful of boosting their lead in the Bi-State Conference to 1½ games when they play last place Flintstone High School today at 4 o'clock at Fort Hill Field.

Coach "Bobby" Cavanaugh's team leads the high school basketball race with a 5-1 record but LaSalle, idle today, has bagged four in a row since dropping its first two starts, and occupies the runner-up spot with a 4-2 mark. A Fort Hill loss would reduce the Sentinels' lead to a half game. Flintstone has won only one of five league contests.

Allegany High goes after its third straight win today when it hosts Valley High of Lonaconing at Campobello. A victory would give the Campers a 3-3 record for the season. Valley is tied with Flintstone for last place in the league.

Mt. Savage (3-3) will tackle the Beall High Mountaineers (3-2) at Frostburg today. Coach "Ebbie" Finzel's outfit could tie LaSalle for second place by winning today's contest.

Tribe Defeats Old Nemesis Ed Lopat; 24,813 See Game

CLEVELAND, May 3 (INS) — The league-leading Cleveland Indians helped even the score with Eddie Lopat, an old-time nemesis tonight by defeating the one-time Tribe hurler and his New York Yankee teammates, 7 to 4, at Municipal Stadium.

Lopat, who usually makes a habit in beating Cleveland, was driven off the mound when the Indians rallied to score four runs in the seventh inning.

Cleveland took a 1 to 0 lead in the first inning on right fielder Al Smith's third homer of the season. Ralph Kiner blasted a two-run homer for the Tribe in the fourth inning. It was Kiner's fourth homer of the year.

New York got one run in the fifth on Joe Collins' double and a single by Billy Hunter.

Mickey Mantle of the Yanks gave his teammates a brief lead when he rifled a homer in the sixth inning with two mates aboard.

The roof fell in on Lopat in the seventh when Cleveland scored four runs. Three of the runs were unearned.

Redlegs Blast Phils

PHILADELPHIA, May 3 (INS)—Big Ted Kluszewski blasted two home runs and Cincinnati's power boys broke their long silence tonight as the Redlegs defeated the Philadelphia Phillies, 7 to 5.

The Redlegs slammed four homers and made 11 hits account for 26 total bases. They broke a 5-5 tie in the seventh on homers by Kluszewski and Chuck Harmon off rookie Jack Spring.

Gus Bell got the other Cincinnati circuit clout.

Bill Riggins Dies • • • Sala Is Bricklayer

"Skeets" To Return • • • Double Or Nothing

By C. V. BURNS

He was noted as the "Handy Andy" man of Midland baseball teams because he was able to play several positions on the diamond and played them well.

Bill played a leading role in two championship series won by Midland.

In 1912 he scored a 2-1 pitching triumph over Piedmont and helped Midland cop a best-of-three series and the Imperial Cup, offered by Arthur Steinweg, Cumberland merchant, to the county championship team.

Riggins was a spitball pitcher, possessed a powerful arm, generally played third base when not on the firing line and was a good hitter.

Bill moved to Pennsylvania about 1917 but Midland called him back for the county title series with Cumberland two years later.

Lefty Fike beat Lefty Grove in the opening game, 2-0. Riggins saved the second game (6-5) after Grove suffered a hand injury and was forced to quit in the 5th inning. In the 3rd tilt Riggins decisioned Fike, 4-2, but Cumberland tied it up when Fike won over Grove in the 4th contest, 12-4. Riggins and Fike hooked up in the next game that lasted 13 innings and ended in a 1-1 deadlock. Bill was unable to get here for the 6th and final contest and southpaw Charley Dye hurled Midland to the championship, 3-1.

That probably was the most interesting baseball series that has been staged in the county in the past 40 years.

CARL HUGHES, Pittsburgh Press sports columnist, writes:

"Remember Lee Sala, as controversial a fighter as ever trod the local canvas? He's now a bricklayer in Donora, Pa."

Local fight fans will remember Sala. He scored two quick knockouts here in 1951 and appeared in the last show staged here.

Nimble Lady is the filly that won the Clifton W. White Memorial at Fairgo on the last day of the Cumberland Fair Association's meeting last June.

"Skeets" kayoed Cecil Graf in the third round at Detroit Jan. 14, 1953, before he was inducted into the army. He has won 27 out of 29 pro fights. His only losses were to Harold Sampson and Lalu Sabotin.

ONLY three starting pitchers went the route against the Brooklyn Dodgers in the first 18 games of the season and all were defeated. They were Maglie, Giants; Rush, Cubs, and Conley of the Milwaukee Braves.

BROTHER FRANCIS Borgia, F. S. C., 78, who died Friday at Ammendale, was director of athletics at LaSalle Institute in the early 1920s when the school was located on Fayette Street.

LaSalle had soccer and cage teams at that time and played its home basketball games at the K. of C. Home. Ursuline Academy also was in the W.M.I. Basketball League and appeared in the preliminary contests.

Brother Francis was born John V. Blake and was a native of Eckhart.

PINCH-HITTERS in the Bi-State Conference are being given two turns at bat this season.

In the Mt. Savage-LaSalle game last Thursday, Eddie Williams went in to bat for Charley Shaffer and drew a base on balls in the 7th inning. When the Indians batted around and scored five runs, Williams hit into a double play to end the game.

Ray Reuse, of Allegany, was inserted to pinch-hit for Bob Paye in the fifth inning of Friday's game with Bruce High. He grounded out twice in that frame as the Campers scored seven runs before the fire was put out.

Pittsburgh Options Smith And Roberts

PITTSBURGH, May 3 (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates cut their roster to 31 players tonight, optioning outfielder Earl Smith to New Orleans of the Southern Association and infielder Curt Roberts to Hollywood of the Pacific Coast League.

Smith had only one hit in 14 trips to the plate. Last season he had a .387 batting average with Phoenix of the Class C Arizona-Texas League.

Littlefield Scores Over Warren Spahn

PITTSBURGH, May 3 (INS) — The Pittsburgh Pirates, working behind Lefty Dick Littlefield, won their third in a row tonight, blanking the Milwaukee Braves, 4 to 0, before a crowd of 10,784.

Littlefield scattered seven singles in notching the shutout, the second for the Pirates in the past three games. Warren Spahn was the loser. Spahn lasted only two innings.

Successive errors by Johnny Logan and Joe Adcock in the second admitted another Pirate run, Dale Long scoring to pad the Pirate lead to 3-0. Spahn was then removed for a pinch hitter at the start of the third with Umberto Robinson taking over

Cubs Top Giants, 6-0

NEW YORK, May 3 (INS) — Veteran righthander Bob Rush scored his first victory of the 1955 season tonight when he hurled the surprising Chicago Cubs to a 6-to-0 shutout over the New York Giants.

Rush rationed the World Champions to four hits as the second place Bruins notched their fourth straight win.

The Cubs made only five hits off Jim Hearn, Hoyt Wilhelm and Al Corwin, but they scored three unearned runs in the first inning off Hearn and that was all Rush needed.

By PAT ROBINSON

NEW YORK, May 3—(INS)—Somebody asked Fresco Thompson, vice president of the Brooklyn Dodgers, to what he attributed the amazing early rush of the Dodgers this season.

Nothing new seemed to have been added—same old veteran infielders, outfielders, catcher and pitchers. Also the same manager and coaches. Fresco smiled as he replied:

"Oh, yes, somebody has been added, but you haven't noticed him. See that big fellow catching down there in the bullpen? That's Joe Becker, the new pitching coach. He's the big difference in our pitching staff."

Fresco is second to none in his admiration of such able coaches of pitchers as Jim Turner of the Yanks, Frank Shellenback of the Giants and several others. But he declared he wouldn't swap Becker for any of them. He continued:

"Becker never was a big league star himself, but his many years of catching and managing in the minors demonstrated his ability to teach young players.

"Joe knows all the fine points of the game, and his chief admonition to pitchers is 'keep it low.' He has been a wonderful help to our throwers. He's turned them into pitchers."

Fresco pointed out that the Dodgers pitchers always had enough natural talent to win, but not all of them knew how to use it.

Becker has been able to help even a big winner like Carl Erskine. He has taught Erskine and the rest of the staff if they must throw a bad curve to keep it low.

"It's better," says Becker, "to have the catcher dig a curve out of the dirt where it's only a ball, than to have a curve hang high around the eyes where the chances are good it will be a home run."

Thompson says that Becker is responsible for the selection of a relief pitcher, and he points out:

"That fellow can tell wiithin a minute whether a fellow he is warming up has his stuff.

Percy Bassett's Eye Injury Is Serious

PARIS, May 3 (INS) — Featherweight contender Percy Bassett of Philadelphia—who may never fight again because of an eye ailment—is scheduled to fly home tonight for treatment and a possible operation.

The 26-year-old fighter's manager, Quenzall McCall, said Bassett was examined by a French doctor and his trouble was diagnosed as a detached retina.

Dr. Louis Negre, who examined Bassett, said it was a "very serious" case and that he had "grave doubts" as to whether the boxer will ever return to the ring.

Floyd "Pete" Elliott pitched a two-hitter yesterday as the Loyal Order of Moose defeated the Outdoor Club by the score of 6-1 in the opening game of the Rocking Chair Softball League season yesterday at Stitcher Field.

Elliott issued 14 bases on balls. Two snappy double plays executed by Frank Williams, Joe Wagner and Bob Wade and Bill Thompson to Grimes helped him out of two ticklish situations. Vern Penner and Ted Durbin got the ODC hits.

At Campobello, the B.P.O. Elks rallied for six runs in the fifth inning to whip the F. O. Eagles by the score of 8-6.

Twenty-one hits were chalked up by the teams. Jim Fradiska, Harry Minnicks, Jim Gaffney and Clay Ingram of the Eagles and Lou Baker and "Buddy" Giles of the Elks garnered two hits each. The shortfielders, Dick Bruce of the Elks and Fritz Palmer of the Eagles, featured with nice catches. Scores:

Rams Quit In 10th Following Dispute

FROSTBURG, May 3—Shepherd College forfeited to Frostburg State Teachers College today when Coach Cletus Lowe ordered his team from the field following a dispute over whether Dave Marple had committed a balk in the top of the 10th inning with the score knotted at 7-7.

Jimmy Wilson opened the 10th with a single and with Tom Palamer at bat, Coach Lowe charged that Marple had committed a balk. During the argument that ensued Wilson advanced to second base. The umpires, Casey Thompson and Kenneth Grimes, disallowed the claim of balk and ordered Wilson to return to first base. Coach Lowe then ordered his team from the field and the arbiters declared Frostburg the winner via the forfeit route.

The Bobcats spotted the Rams seven runs in the second inning then cut down the visitors' lead in the late inning and tied the score in the ninth.

Frostburg outhit Shepherd 14 to 8 and Marple mowed down 13 of the Rams in strikeouts. John Keister and Marple had three hits each for the Bobcats while Palamer and Hall shared four of the visitors' eight blows. The score:

Fort Hill Hosts Flintstone High

Valley At Allegany, Mt. Savage At Beall

With LaSalle's co-champions of 1954 breathing down their backs, Fort Hill High's Sentinels are hopeful of boosting their lead in the Bi-State Conference to 1½ games when they play last place Flintstone High School today at 4 o'clock at Fort Hill Field.

Coach "Bobby" Cavanaugh's team leads the high school basketball race with a 5-1 record but LaSalle, idle today, has bagged four in a row since dropping its first two starts, and occupies the runner-up spot with a 4-2 mark. A Fort Hill loss would reduce the Sentinels' lead to a half game. Flintstone has won only one of five league contests.

Allegany High goes after its third straight win today when it hosts Valley High of Lonaconing at Campobello. A victory would give the Campers a 3-3 record for the season. Valley is tied with Flintstone for last place in the league.

Mt. Savage (3-3) will tackle the Beall High Mountaineers (3-2) at Frostburg today. Coach "Ebbie" Finzel's outfit could tie LaSalle for second place by winning today's contest.

Hoeft, Kaline Star As Tigers Top Bosox, 4-2

Boston Suffers 6th Consecutive Defeat

DETROIT, May 3 (AP)—Al Kaline, Detroit's boy-turned-slugger, hammered a two-run homer high into the upper left field seats today, giving Billy Hoeft and the Tigers a 4-2 triumph over the Boston Red Sox.

The victory moved the Tigers into a temporary tie with Cleveland for first place in the American League pending the Indians night game with the New York Yankees.

The loss was the sixth straight for the Red Sox.

Hoeft went all the way for the third straight game, running his record to 3-1. The 24-year-old southpaw had little difficulty after giving up two runs in the third.

Robinson And Panter To Meet In Detroit

DETROIT, May 3 (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson continues his comeback tomorrow night when he meets Garth Panter of Salt Lake City in a non-televised 10-rounder in Olympia Stadium.

It will be the fifth fight in Robinson's not-too-impressive comeback, which he eventually hopes will lead to a title shot at middleweight champion Carl (Bobo) Olson.

Robinson has won three while losing one in his return to the ring after an absence of 30 months. He knocked out Joe Rindone in the same Olympic ring in the first start of the comeback campaign, lost a decisive 10-round decision to Ralph (Tiger) Jones, beat Johnny Lombardo in 10 and stopped Ted Olla in three.

In Panter, Robinson will be meeting a once-promising fighter who has lost six of his last seven starts.

Team To Practice

The Central Quick Lunch softball team, formerly Andy's Liquor Store, will practice today at 6 p. m. at Fort Hill Field.

Hoeft, Kaline Star As Tigers Top Bosox, 4-2

Boston Suffers 6th Consecutive Defeat

DETROIT, May 3 (AP)—Al Kaline, Detroit's boy-turned-slugger, hammered a two-run homer high into the upper left field seats today, giving Billy Hoeft and the Tigers a 4-2 triumph over the Boston Red Sox.

The victory moved the Tigers into a temporary tie with Cleveland for first place in the American League pending the Indians night game with the New York Yankees.

The loss was the sixth straight for the Red Sox.

Kaline, the Tigers' sensational 20-year-old outfielder, connected for his sixth home run with Harvey Kuenn on base in the fifth. He drove one of Ike Delock's serves down the line but well back into the upper seats.

The blow erased Boston's 2-1 lead and put the Tigers ahead to stay. It also knocked Delock out of the game, squaring his record at 2-2.

Hoeft went all the way for the third straight game, running his record to 3-1. The 24-year-old southpaw had little difficulty after giving up two runs in the third.

Robinson And Panter To Meet In Detroit

DETROIT, May 3 (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson continues his comeback tomorrow night when he meets Garth Panter of Salt Lake City in a non-televised 10-rounder in Olympia Stadium.

It will be the fifth fight in Robinson's not-too-impressive comeback, which he eventually hopes will lead to a title shot at middleweight champion Carl (Bobo) Olson.

Robinson has won three while losing one in his return to the ring after an absence of 30 months. He knocked out Joe Rindone in the same Olympic ring in the first start of the comeback campaign, lost a decisive 10-round decision to Ralph (Tiger) Jones, beat Johnny Lombardo in 10 and stopped Ted Olla in three.

In Panter, Robinson will be meeting a once-promising fighter who has lost six of his last seven starts.

Team To Practice

The Central Quick Lunch softball team, formerly Andy's Liquor Store, will practice today at 6 p. m. at Fort Hill Field.

Jean's Joe Is Loser By Nose, Nabesna Third

Honey's Alibi 4th In Field Of Nine; Winner Pays $7.80

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 3 (AP)—Flying Fury gave the Cain Hoy Stable of Capt. Harry F. Guggenheim a powerful one-two punch for the Kentucky Derby when he captured the $14,850 Derby Trial today.

The son of Nasrullah, ridden for the first time by that famous come-from-behind jockey Conn McCreary, will team up Saturday with Racing Fool, a speedster with a record of four straight wins. They will threaten the highly regarded Nashua and Summer Tan in Saturday's classic at Churchill Downs.

Edges Jean's Joe

McCreary, twice winner of the Derby, brought Flying Fury through on the rail to edge by a nose Jean's Joe from the Murcain Stable of Mrs. Virginia Murchison and Mrs. Effie Cain.

Nabesna, an outsider carrying the silks of Clifford Moorers, was third and Honey's Alibi from Harry M. Warner's W. L. Ranch fourth in the field of nine 3-year-olds.

Flying Fury, out of the money in three previous starts this year, stepped the mile in 1 minute 38 seconds. This was three seconds off the record hung up by Hasty Road in winning the 1954 Derby Trial.

Three Won Derby

Three horses—Citation, Hill Gail and Dark Star—have gone on from the Derby Trial to victory in the Derby.

Flying Fury paid $7.80, $3.60 and $3.40. Jean's Joe, choice of the crowd of 16,500, returned $2.80 and $2.60. A $2 show ticket on Nabesna was worth $6.80.

Earlier today Flying Fury worked out the Derby distance of a mile and a quarter as did Nebesna. Fury was clocked in 2:07 and Nabesna in 2:06 4-5. The Derby record is 2 minutes, 1 2-5 seconds, set by Whirlaway in 1941.

But Nashua held the interest of the fans as he worked a mile in 1:37 3-5 and finished out the Derby distance in 2:05 3-5.

Nashua Works Out

Eddie Arcaro was up on Nashua just as he'll be Saturday in quest of his sixth Derby win.

Jean's Joe Is Loser By Nose, Nabesna Third

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 3 (AP)—Flying Fury gave the Cain Hoy Stable of Capt. Harry F. Guggenheim a powerful one-two punch for the Kentucky Derby when he captured the $14,850 Derby Trial today.

The son of Nasrullah, ridden for the first time by that famous come-from-behind jockey Conn McCreary, will team up Saturday with Racing Fool, a speedster with a record of four straight wins. They will threaten the highly regarded Nashua and Summer Tan in Saturday's classic at Churchill Downs.

Edges Jean's Joe

McCreary, twice winner of the Derby, brought Flying Fury through on the rail to edge by a nose Jean's Joe from the Murcain Stable of Mrs. Virginia Murchison and Mrs. Effie Cain.

Nabesna, an outsider carrying the silks of Clifford Moorers, was third and Honey's Alibi from Harry M. Warner's W. L. Ranch fourth in the field of nine 3-year-olds.

Flying Fury, out of the money in three previous starts this year, stepped the mile in 1 minute 38 seconds. This was three seconds off the record hung up by Hasty Road in winning the 1954 Derby Trial.

Three Won Derby

Three horses—Citation, Hill Gail and Dark Star—have gone on from the Derby Trial to victory in the Derby.

Flying Fury paid $7.80, $3.60 and $3.40. Jean's Joe, choice of the crowd of 16,500, returned $2.80 and $2.60. A $2 show ticket on Nabesna was worth $6.80.

Earlier today Flying Fury worked out the Derby distance of a mile and a quarter as did Nebesna. Fury was clocked in 2:07 and Nabesna in 2:06 4-5. The Derby record is 2 minutes, 1 2-5 seconds, set by Whirlaway in 1941.

But Nashua held the interest of the fans as he worked a mile in 1:37 3-5 and finished out the Derby distance in 2:05 3-5.

Nashua Works Out

This Malarkey About Ratings

Look magazine recently quoted Ed Sullivan on the subject of ratings, which—in lieu of a boxoffice—are what entertainers live and die on in television.

"Everything comes to a boil (on rating day)," said Sullivan. "At 9:30, I hear my Trendex rating for the show the night before. I tell you I die a thousand deaths in the 30 seconds between saying hello and hearing my rating. Everyone in television telephones Trendex the same way and everyone feels the same horrible suspense. It's in those 30 seconds that the Milton Berles and the Jackie Gleasons collapse, no other time. Somebody's got to be hurt and the people on the opposition show worked as hard as you did. Well, then the rating comes. If it's good news, I'm in heaven. All this past season I've been in heaven. But I tell you, in previous years when my ratings were down, I felt as if I were watching the blood run out of me. Your rating is the entire expression of your work."

I'm afraid that's the way things are in this business. But could anything be more ridiculous? Trendex ratings are taken in 10 cities only. And even in those 10 cities, the samplings are small, scattered and—in my opinion—worthless. Yet there are four or five rating systems in which the various shows are scattered all over the place. A guy may be third in somebody's rating list and twenty-second on somebody else's. Yet that is the index on which depends whether the guy works next year—or doesn't.

It's pretty rough on the guy. And it's also pretty rough on us because the rating determine what you and I are to look at. There's no reason on earth for Ed Sullivan or anyone else to die a thousand deaths while waiting for his trendex rating because Trendex conflicts violently with the other ratings. There is no reason for an ad agency to cancel a show because it has a bad Trendex (in 10 cities) or for it to renew a show because it has a good Neilsen (which samples some 700 out of 44,000,000 television homes) or for it to pay the slightest attention at all.

Yet they do. Why? I could have told the Philip Morris people a long time ago there was something the matter with "I Love Lucy" ratings because people stopped talking about it in saloons. A small sampling, you say—the people I talk to in saloons. Sure it is—but not much smaller than Neilsen's. Still, sales didn't at all reflect "Lucy's" tremendous ratings and Philip Morris dropped the show. I recall bumping into a downcast chap from the Colgate Comedy Hour who'd just received a telegram telling him his show had placed quite a bit below Sullivan's the previous Sunday.

"How's business?" I asked.

"Colgate had the greatest year of its life last year," he said—and shuffled off, still dispirited.

So what's the matter with that as an index of a show's popularity? You can't argue with the bank account. But you sure can argue with every rating system now in operation.

According to Television Digest, television may surpass the movie boxoffice business next year. It'll be the biggest and richest entertainment industry in the world. And yet it'll continue to measure how good or bad an actor is by a handful of phone calls or by a scattering of audimeters.

I never met a soul in radio or television that believed ratings were an even remotely plausible way of counting the house. Yet everyone uses them. And Mr. Sullivan has to die a thousand deaths every Monday morning to hear a number that, I'm willing to bet, he has no faith in at all. How silly can you get?

Forgery Case Results In Deadlocked Jury

BALTIMORE, May 3 (AP)—A Federal Court jury deliberated more than four hours today but could not agree whether Charles W. Foxwell, 30-year-old Cambridge, Md., truck driver, was guilty of forging a check.

Judge Calvin W. Chesnut dismissed the jurors when they reported they were hopelessly deadlocked.

He was accused of taking a Christmas club check made out to Mrs. Dorothy Brambel from the mail box in an apartment house where both lived.

223 Marriage Licenses Issued During April

During April of this year, there were 223 marriage licenses issued at Allegany County Court House.

According to figures compiled in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Circuit Court, this number was three more than during April 1954.

Contract Bridge

by Josephine Culbertson

ALL'S WELL THAT ENDS WELL

SOUTH'S bid in the hand below looks pretty bad in the light of what could have happened, but there was more than a grain of logic in his decision—and in any case, it worked out.

North dealer.
North-South vulnerable.

North: ♠ A J ♥ 10 8 ♦ K 7 6 4 3 ♣ A K 8 2
West: ♠ 5 2 ♥ J 7 6 4 3 2 ♦ J 5 ♣ Q 10 7
East: ♠ Q 9 7 6 3 ♥ A Q 9 5 ♦ 10 ♣ J 6 4
South: ♠ K 10 8 4 ♥ K ♦ A Q 9 8 2 ♣ 9 5 3

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 ♠	1 ♠	2 NT	Pass
3 NT	Pass	Pass	Pass

It is plain that East-West could have run off six heart tricks at the start—but let's skip that unpleasant fact (i.e., unpleasant for North-South, if it had transpired) in order to analyze the bidding.

When East overcalled the opening diamond bid with a spade, South was placed in something of a dilemma. His first thought, as he explained later, was to bid three diamonds, but on examination this call did not seem quite satisfactory. South had a fairly good hand, but if there was duplication in the heart suit—if North had the ace or the A-Q—the enemy might win three tricks off the reel. Thus, the five-diamond contract might and might not be advisable. It was certainly unlikely, considering South's own spades, that North would be able to bid three notrump over three diamonds, and even if he could bid three hearts, reassuring South about that suit, South would have to worry about clubs before he himself could risk three notrump.

Thus, South's leap to two notrump, though unquestionably dangerous because of his singleton heart and his weakness in clubs, was not quite as illogical as it may appear; and North's raise to three notrump was of course automatic.

Now, back to the play. West couldn't believe that the opponents were wide open in his own six-card suit, and so he opened a spade. Thus, North-South did very well, after all!

This Malarkey About Ratings

Look magazine recently quoted Ed Sullivan on the subject of ratings, which—in lieu of a boxoffice—are what entertainers live and die on in television.

"Everything comes to a boil (on rating day)," said Sullivan. "At 9:30, I hear my Trendex rating for the show the night before. I tell you I die a thousand deaths in the 30 seconds between saying hello and hearing my rating. Everyone in television telephones Trendex the same way and everyone feels the same horrible suspense. It's in those 30 seconds that the Milton Berles and the Jackie Gleasons collapse, no other time. Somebody's got to be hurt and the people on the opposition show worked as hard as you did. Well, then the rating comes. If it's good news, I'm in heaven. All this past season I've been in heaven. But I tell you, in previous years when my ratings were down, I felt as if I were watching the blood run out of me. Your rating is the entire expression of your work."

I'm afraid that's the way things are in this business. But could anything be more ridiculous? Trendex ratings are taken in 10 cities only. And even in those 10 cities, the samplings are small, scattered and—in my opinion—worthless. Yet there are four or five rating systems in which the various shows are scattered all over the place. A guy may be third in somebody's rating list and twenty-second on somebody else's. Yet that is the index on which depends whether the guy works next year—or doesn't.

It's pretty rough on the guy. And it's also pretty rough on us because the rating determine what you and I are to look at. There's no reason on earth for Ed Sullivan or anyone else to die a thousand deaths while waiting for his trendex rating because Trendex conflicts violently with the other ratings. There is no reason for an ad agency to cancel a show because it has a bad Trendex (in 10 cities) or for it to renew a show because it has a good Neilsen (which samples some 700 out of 44,000,000 television homes) or for it to pay the slightest attention at all.

Yet they do. Why? I could have told the Philip Morris people a long time ago there was something the matter with "I Love Lucy" ratings because people stopped talking about it in saloons. A small sampling, you say—the people I talk to in saloons. Sure it is—but not much smaller than Neilsen's. Still, sales didn't at all reflect "Lucy's" tremendous ratings and Philip Morris dropped the show. I recall bumping into a downcast chap from the Colgate Comedy Hour who'd just received a telegram telling him his show had placed quite a bit below Sullivan's the previous Sunday.

"How's business?" I asked.

"Colgate had the greatest year of its life last year," he said—and shuffled off, still dispirited.

So what's the matter with that as an index of a show's popularity? You can't argue with the bank account. But you sure can argue with every rating system now in operation.

According to Television Digest, television may surpass the movie boxoffice business next year. It'll be the biggest and richest entertainment industry in the world. And yet it'll continue to measure how good or bad an actor is by a handful of phone calls or by a scattering of audimeters.

I never met a soul in radio or television that believed ratings were an even remotely plausible way of counting the house. Yet everyone uses them. Contract Bridge

by Josephine Culbertson

ALL'S WELL THAT ENDS WELL

SOUTH'S bid in the hand below looks pretty bad in the light of what could have happened, but there was more than a grain of logic in his decision—and in any case, it worked out.

North dealer.
North-South vulnerable.

	♠ A J ♥ 10 8 ♦ K 7 6 4 3 ♣ A K 8 2
♠ 5 2 ♥ J 7 6 4 3 2 ♦ J 5 ♣ Q 10 7	N W E S	♠ Q 9 7 6 3 ♥ A Q 9 5 ♦ 10 ♣ J 6 4
	♠ K 10 8 4 ♥ K ♦ A Q 9 8 2 ♣ 9 5 3

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 ♠	1 ♠	2 NT	Pass
3 NT	Pass	Pass	Pass

It is plain that East-West could have run off six heart tricks at the start—but let's skip that unpleasant fact (i.e., unpleasant for North-South, if it had transpired) in order to analyze the bidding.

When East overcalled the opening diamond bid with a spade, South was placed in something of a dilemma. His first thought, as he explained later, was to bid three diamonds, but on examination this call did not seem quite satisfactory. South had a fairly good hand, but if there was duplication in the heart suit—if North had the ace or the A-Q—the enemy might win three tricks off the reel. Thus, the five-diamond contract might and might not be advisable. It was certainly unlikely, considering South's own spades, that North would be able to bid three notrump over three diamonds, and even if he could bid three hearts, reassuring South about that suit, South would have to worry about clubs before he himself could risk three notrump.

Thus, South's leap to two notrump, though unquestionably dangerous because of his singleton heart and his weakness in clubs, was not quite as illogical as it may appear; and North's raise to three notrump was of course automatic.

Now, back to the play. West couldn't believe that the opponents were wide open in his own six-card suit, and so he opened a spade. Thus, North-South did very well, after all!

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear husband and father, Robert E. Brown, who passed away May 4, 1949.
God saw the road was getting rough,
The hills were hard to climb;
He gently closed his loving eyes
And whispered, "Peace be thine."
His weary hours, his days of pain,
His weary nights are past;
His ever patient, worn-out frame
Has found sweet rest at last.
Sadly missed by his loving wife, Abbie;
Sons, George, Benjamin, Claude, Jack; Daughters, Marie and Airetta

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear husband and father, Robert E. Brown, who passed away May 4, 1949.
God saw the road was getting rough,
The hills were hard to climb;
He gently closed his loving eyes
And whispered, "Peace be thine."
His weary hours, his days of pain,
His weary nights are past;
His ever patient, worn-out frame
Sadly missed by his loving wife, Abbie; Sons, George, Benjamin, Claude, Jack; Daughters, Marie and Airetta

Pole Wants To Ship Collection To U. S.

LONDON, May 3 (AP)—Stanislaw Mackiewicz, anti-Communist Polish exile leader, said last night he wants to ship a collection of his country's historical treasures to Washington.

Mackiewicz, told newsmen the collection is "deteriorating in storage" in Quebec. He said it is valued at 60 million dollars.

The collection includes the lance of St. Maurice, reputed to be the ance with which Christ was pierced on the cross.

The Poles removed the collection from Poland during the German invasion of 1939.

Stock Prices Weakened By Short Selling Burst

NEW YORK, May 3 (AP) — A short burst of concentrated selling weakened prices today in the stock market.

Aircrafts were a selling target. They have been among the greatest recent gainers. Also involved in the selling were the steels, rubbers, railroads, and motors.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off $1.80 at $163.00. The average held unchanged yesterday. The industrial component was lower by $2.10, railroads were off $2.70, and utilities were down 40 cents.

Five of the 10 most active issues were aircrafts, all lower. General Dynamics headed the list off 3⅝ at 61 on 56,800 shares. It was followed by Boeing off 2 at 61, Canadian Pacific up ¾ at 31⅛ (the only stock in the most active list to close higher), Curtiss-Wright off ⅜ at 20⅛, and Glenn Martin off 1⅝ at 27⅛.

Among other losers were Bethlehem Steel off 2¾, Chrysler ½, Goodyear 1⅝, United Aircraft 2¼, RCA ⅝, Zenith Radio 2¼, Western Union 2¾, Kennecott Copper 1¾, Westinghouse Electric 1¼, Babcock & Wilcox 5¼, Newport News Shipbuilding 3¾, American Viscose 1, Reynolds Metals 4, Santa Fe Railroad 4¼, Southern Railway 1¾, Southern Pacific 2⅜, Royal Dutch Petroleum 1¼, Pan American World Airways ⅜, and International Business Machines 9½ at 419.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W
One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Stock Prices Weakened By Short Selling Burst

NEW YORK, May 3 (AP) — A short burst of concentrated selling weakened prices today in the stock market.

Aircrafts were a selling target. They have been among the greatest recent gainers. Also involved in the selling were the steels, rubbers, railroads, and motors.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off $1.80 at $163.00. The average held unchanged yesterday. The industrial component was lower by $2.10, railroads were off $2.70, and utilities were down 40 cents.

Five of the 10 most active issues were aircrafts, all lower. General Dynamics headed the list off 3⅝ at 61 on 56,800 shares. It was followed by Boeing off 2 at 61, Canadian Pacific up ¾ at 31⅛ (the only stock in the most active list to close higher), Curtiss-Wright off ⅜ at 20⅛, and Glenn Martin off 1⅝ at 27⅛.

Among other losers were Bethlehem Steel off 2¾, Chrysler ½, Goodyear 1⅝, United Aircraft 2¼, RCA ⅝, Zenith Radio 2¼, Western Union 2¾, Kennecott Copper 1¾, Westinghouse Electric 1¼, Babcock & Wilcox 5¼, Newport News Shipbuilding 3¾, American Viscose 1, Reynolds Metals 4, Santa Fe Railroad 4¼, Southern Railway 1¾, Southern Pacific 2⅜, Royal Dutch Petroleum 1¼, Pan American World Airways ⅜, and International Business Machines 9½ at 419.

One out of every eight of the four million persons gainfully employed in the New York City harbor area draws his livelihood directly or indirectly from port commerce.

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Bicentennial Bids For Rare Papers

Offers $200 For Washington's Journal

The Fort Cumberland Bicentennial Committee will be among the bidders when Washington's Journal, one of the great rarities of Americana, is sold at public auction in New York City on May 10.

One of eight known copies of the first edition of the 28-page pamphlet, which is of special interest to citizens of Western Maryland, the precious document will be sold by the Parke-Bernet Galleries, Inc., next Tuesday night.

The Fort Cumberland Bicentennial Committee will submit a token bid of $200 for the volume—$1 for each year since the founding of the historic fort at Wills Creek.

The volume to be sold is the rare edition of George Washington's first printed work and came from the library of Sir Thomas Phillips, renowned bibliophile. It is being offered for sale by a London dealer who purchased it in 1946.

One copy of the book was sold for $560 in 1880 and has been, for decades, in the New York Public Library.

The title page of the Journal reads:

"The Journal of Major George Washington, sent by the Hon. Robert Dinwiddie, Esq., His Majesty's Lieutenant Governor, and Commander in Chief of Virginia, to the Commandant of the French Forces on Ohio. To which are added, the Governor's Letter, and a translation of the French Officer's Answer."

It was printed in Williamsburg, Va., by William Hunter in 1754.

The contents of only one page shows why the Fort Cumberland Bicentennial Committee is interested in the rare volume. Page 3, dated Wednesday, October 31, 1753, reads:

"I was commissioned and appointed by the Honorable Robert Dinwiddie, Esq. Governor, Etc. of Virginia, to visit and deliver a Letter to the Commandant of the French Forces on the Ohio, and set out on the intended journey the same day; the next,I arrived at Fredericksburg, and engaged Mr. Jacob Vanbraam, to be my French interpreter; and proceeded with him to Alexandria, where we provided Necessaries; from thence we went to Winchester, and got Baggage, Horses, Etc. and from thence we pursued the new Road to Wills-Creek, where we arrived the 14th of November.

"Here I engaged Mr. Gist to pilot us out, and also hired four others as Servitors, Barnaby Currin, and John MacQuire, Indian Traders, Henry Steward, and William Jenkins, and in Company with those Persons, left the Inhabitants the Day following.

"The excessive Rains and vast Quantity of Snow that had fallen, prevented our reaching Mr. Frazier's an Indian Trader, at the Mouth of Turtle-Creek, on Monongahela, till Thursday the 22d. We were informed here, that Expresses were sent a few Days ago to the Traders down the River, to acquaint them with the French General's Death and the Return . . ."

SRC Cooperates In Plans For Sewer Line

Don't do too much speculating if you see survey crews working along the route of the proposed Industrial Highway section of the $10,000,000 plus crosstown expressway program.

They are State Roads Commission workers, but they are only running the center line for the proposed route so the City of Cumberland will be able to locate a force main leading to its $2,000,000 sewage treatment plant which is being built at the end of Offutt Street.

Construction of the big program which includes a six-lane overhead bridge, the West Side expressway and the Industrial Highway in South Cumberland, is held up pending action of the Maryland Court of Appeals on an appeal filed by W. Wallace McKaig, local industralist, to an unanimous decision handed down by the three judges of the Fourth Judicial Circuit.

Late last month, Mayor Roy W. Eves asked the SRC to proceed with such engineering work as is necessary to determine the exact right of way for the highway, so that it could furnish the city with the limits of easements needed for the highway.

The City of Cumberland must have this information so it can locate a 10-inch force main, which is to be laid just outside the SRC's easement line along some 2,500 feet of the highway, from a pumping station at Evitts Creek to the treatment plant.

Culvert Sought To Aid Industry In Lonaconing

Two requests for action on the part of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners in fixing a culvert into the new building site for the Tach-Fast Manufacturing Company, Inc., of Lonaconing were referred to County Roads Supervisor J. Walker Chapman yesterday for his investigation.

One of the letters was from Arthur G. Phillips, secretary of the industrial committee of the Lonaconing Business Men's Association, and the other came from the company itself.

Phillips noted in his letter that the company has been employing from 40 to 60 persons regularly since establishing in Lonaconing several years ago.

Now the company has come to the stage that is is necessary to expand and in so doing seeks to use a former pasture at Clicks Crossing on the east end of Lonaconing. The only access to this property, Phillips states, is an old bridge of questionable condition which can easily be replaced by a small culvert.

No work on the new building can be started until the culvert is installed because it is considered unsafe to allow heavy trucks carrying steel and building products to use the present bridge.

Bonds of four more trial magistrates were approved yesterday by the county commissioners. They were for Donald W. Mason, Cumberland magistrate; William Meagher, Cresaptown magistrate; Robert C. Pollock of Mt. Savage, new substitute magistrate, and Thomas Nash, committing magistrate for McCoole.

Weather

Yesterday was the second hottest day of the year and fair and warmer weather is promised today. The thermometer jumped to 81 yesterday, two degrees short of the April 19 year's record, and high humidity and threatening clouds made it seem even warmer. The official low was 50 and it was 64 at 8:30 p. m. A few drops of rain fell in mid morning and afternoon. The relative humidity at 6 p. m. was 64 per cent.

Guard Armory Discussion Set Here Today

Adjutant General Will Visit City

Cumberland may get a new National Guard Armory. At least plans are now under way to rehabilitate the present Armory on South Centre Street, according to Major General Milton A. Reckord, adjutant general of the Maryland National Guard.

General Reckord last night said he and Colonel Chester Simmons, who is in charge of the construction section of the military department of the guard, will visit Cumberland this evening.

While here the two military men expect to confer with Mayor Roy W. Eves and Chief Judge George Henderson, as well as Col. Randolph Millholland, commanding officer of the 115th Infantry Regiment and Lt. Col. Robert C. Matlick, commanding officer of the First Battalion of the regiment.

He is planning to hold an "informal meeting" with local officials and discuss another possible solution to the armory problem.

The present building has become overcrowded. General Reckord also plans to make a final inspection of the new armories constructed in Oakland and Frostburg. He will visit those two communities tomorrow and expects to be in Cumberland tomorrow evening.

The informal meeting is scheduled for the Fort Cumberland Hotel where the general and Col. Simmons plan to stay overnight. General Reckord has offices in the Fifth Regiment Armory in Baltimore.

Witnesses Will Meet Here Friday

Jehovah's witnesses will open their three-day Circuit Assembly Friday at 7 p. m., at Fort Hill High School, a spokesman for the group announced yesterday.

Featured speaker for the semi-annual event will be L. L. Roper, Brooklyn, N. Y. Roper is a traveling district minister and appears as the speaker at assemblies throughout the Middle Atlantic and Eastern States.

After being graduated from the Watchtower Bible School of Gilead, he served as a missionary in Central America. He appears on the program each of the three days and will deliver the talk, "Why a New World is Possible."

The local congregation of Jehovah's witnesses will be host to about 800 visiting witnesses, according to P. C. Nicewarner, presiding minister. Sessions are free and the public is invited.

Westernport To Prepare Damage List

Will Submit Details To County Board

The Mayor and Commissioners of Westernport decided at a meeting yesterday with the Allegany County Board of Commissioners and the Upper Potomac River Commission at the Cumberland Country Club to prepare a detailed claim of damages to their water system caused by the Savage River Dam.

Mayor Okey E. Michael said last night that City Attorney Horace P. Whitworth Sr. of Westernport will begin preparing the claim immediately in hopes that it can be submitted to the county commissioners at their meeting Friday.

House Bill 471, adopted at the recent session of the General Assembly, enables the county commissioners to pay up to $50,000 to the Mayor and Commissioners of Westernport for alleged damage to the water system as a result of the Savage River Dam.

William H. Lemmert, chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, said that after the claim is submitted, the commissioners plan to meet again with the Upper Potomac River Commission for further action.

There is no money in the budget for the 1955-56 fiscal year starting July 1 for payment by the county commissioners to Westernport. Any payment would have to come from the contingency fund and be made up next year.

Judge Overrules Defense Motion

An opinion overruling a motion for a judgment in favor of the defendant despite a maximum $10,000 jury verdict for the plaintiff in a dispute between two women lawyers was filed yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court by Chief Judge George Henderson.

Miss Selma C. Arderson of Washington had brought suit for $10,000 damages against Miss Ada L. Taylor, now of this city. Miss Anderson was seriously injured in an automobile accident nea Milford, Del., June 14, 1953. She was a passenger in an automobile owned by Miss Taylor. Both worked for the Veterans Administration.

The trial here February 23 and 24 attracted considerable local interest because nine lawyers figured in the case. Both parties were attorneys, as were two other women who were witnesses. They also were riding in the car. In addition the plaintiff was represented in court by three attorneys and the defendant by two.

Judge Henderson acknowledged in his opinion that the damages are greater than would have been awarded had he been sitting as a jury. However, he said, that is not enough to warrant granting a new trial.

In the opinion he also discusses the loss of salary and the question of whether the verdict was against the evidence and finally decides that it was not. Besides the opinion a judgment in favor of the plaintiff for $10,000 also was entered in the case yesterday.

New Dining Hall Dedicated

F. Perry Smith Jr. (left) hands over the keys to the new dining hall and community room in Central YMCA, which was dedicated at a dinner meeting yesterday, to Harold D. Barber, vice president of the board of directors of the YMCA. Smith, president of the Rotary Club of Cumberland which underwrote the basic cost of construction of the new dining facilities as part of the 50th anniversary of the local Rotary Club, turned over the keys at the dedication ceremonies in the dining hall yesterday. Approximately 130 persons attended the event at which Dr. Charles L. Kopp, District 264 Rotary International governor, reviewed the golden anniversary of the local club. Winfield H. Adam, general secretary of the YMCA, announced at the meeting that furniture for the community room lobby was donated by Mr. and Mrs. George Phillippi and that folding doors in the dining hall were furnished by the local Kiwanis Club. The new first-floor dining room will seat 200 persons.

Winners Shake Hands

Robert Moses (Lefty) Grove (left) shakes hands with Mayor Virgil Alexander of Lonaconing as the two wound up a campaign which brought victory to both. Alexander was re-elected to this third term, and Grove was elected to the City Council, the first political office he ever has held.

Rescue Call Feature Of Fire Report

A call to the rescue of a child who was electrically shocked while taking a bath last November featured the annual report of the Cresaptown Volunteer Fire Company made by Fire Chief Arthur Winters at last night's regular meeting.

The call for the resuscitator was among the 28 alarms which the volunteer company answered between May 4, 1954 and April 28 of this year, Chief Winters reported.

A daughter of Leroy Michaels, Winchester Road, was shocked on November 3, 1954 when an electrical drop cord and light, hanging over the bathtub in the Michaels home, was accidentally pulled into the tub where the girl was bathing.

Quick action by the father, who was trained in first aid methods, was credited with saving the girl's life, Chief Winters' report indicated. Firemen were called to the Michaels home at 7:40 p. m. but did not need the resuscitator as the child had been revived by the father. A doctor was then called to treat the girl for some burns and shock she received.

Among the other calls received by the Cresaptown group were nine brush fires, 12 building calls, two automobile alarms, two miscellaneous rubbish fires, a false alarm and a mutual aid call to help another fire company.

Getty May Call GOP State Central Meeting In 10 Days

James S. Getty, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee of Allegany County, said yesterday he hopes to call a meeting of the group within the "next 10 days or so" to decide on a successor to State Sen. Robert B. Kimble.

Getty stated yesterday that he is anxious to have the successor to the senator named as "there is no doubt some work which was not completed by Sen. Kimble when he resigned which should be looked after as quickly as possible."

There has been much speculation in Allegany County GOP circles as to who will step into the unfilled term of the Allegany County senator who was recently named head of the State Employment Security Board.

Allegany County senior public high schools will conduct their commencement exercises June 2, 3 and 4, Assistant Superintendent of Schools Richard T. Rizer announced yesterday following a meeting with the supervisors and high school principals at the Board of Education office.

At yesterday's meeting the subject for discussion was the strength and weakness of the high school curriculum. There was considerable discussion of the special education program provided in the different schools. It was the first meeting of Miss M. Jean Camper, new supervisor of special education, with the principals.

More than a dozen other gifts are set for Saturday, May 20, and Saturday, May 28, with grand prizes of a mink scarf and an air conditioner.

Virgil Alexander Re-Elected Mayor Of Lonaconing

Lefty Grove Among Four Councilmen

Mayor Virgil Alexander was re-elected to his third term as mayor of Lonaconing and two incumbent councilmen were returned to office in yesterday's municipal election.

Virgil Alexander, 431
William F. Lyden, 102
FOR TOWN COUNCIL:
John G. Thomas, 382
Wilmonth F. Garlitz, 295
Robert M. Grove, 261
William H. Berry, 251
Douglas Waddell, 231
James L. Nightengale, 165
John R. Merrbach, 145
Harold McGregor, 126

Robert Moses "Lefty" Grove, member of baseball's Hall of Fame who was making his first venture into politics, was elected to the council along with incumbents Berry and Garlitz and newcomer Thomas, who led the ticket.

Four councilmen are elected under the new charter setup in Lonaconing and the mayor will appoint a police commissioner, streets and light commissioner, finance officer, and roads commissioner as his first official duties when sworn in June 6.

Running for re-election but losing out were Waddel, president of the council, and a member of the council for over 20 years, Merrbach, member of the roads committee and Nightengale, commissioner of streets and light.

The new municipal officers will take their seats on June 6 when Clerk of Circuit Court Joseph F. Boden will swear in Alexander who in turn will swear in the council members for their two-year terms.

City Officials Asked To Back Student Project

A student committee of the Citizenship Class of Allegany High School twice has met with the Mayor and Council soliciting council support of a resolution in Congress to abolish the Electoral College.

Mayor Roy W. Eves said the project of the class, under the direction of Miss Mary Murray, was outlined by a committee of juniors from the school, Peggy Thompson, Sondra Wagner and Barbara Gronback, who asked the Council to express its approval of the proposed resolution which has been introduced by Rep. DeWitt S. Hyde of the Sixth Congressional District of Maryland.

17 Can Control

The students pointed out that under the Electoral College system 17 states can control an election, and they noted that on three occasions the candidate in a Presidential election receiving the greater number of popular votes was defeated by receiving the smaller number of electoral votes.

Two other elections were noted wherein the popular vote was close but the winning candidate received a majority of 4 or 5 to 1 in the electoral vote.

Samuel J. Tilden lost to Rutherford B. Hayes in the same manner in 1876, receiving 4,285,964 popular votes to Hayes' 4,033,950. But Hayes was elected by the House of Representatives after neither candidate got a majority in the Electoral College.

Had More Votes

Grover Cleveland lost the presidency to Benjamin Harris in 1888 when the electoral votes were 233 to 168 for Harrison, although Cleveland had more popular votes, 5,540,050 to 5,444,337.

The 1908 election found William H. Taft with a majority of popular votes, 7,679,006, to 6,409,106 for William J. Bryan, but Taft's electoral college vote was much greater, 321 to 162.

In 1912 Woodrow Wilson defeated Progressive Theodore Roosevelt and Taft, Republican, by a small plurality of popular votes but the electoral vote was a landslide for Wilson, 435 to 88, and Taft got 8. Together, Taft and Roosevelt polled one and a half million more popular votes than Wilson.

Two of the students, Barbara Gronbach and Sondra Wagner, will speak before the dinner meeting of the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce tonight at 6:30 o'clock at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club on the proposed resolution.

Bicentennial Bids For Rare Papers

Offers $200 For Washington's Journal

The Fort Cumberland Bicentennial Committee will be among the bidders when Washington's Journal, one of the great rarities of Americana, is sold at public auction in New York City on May 10.

One of eight known copies of the first edition of the 28-page pamphlet, which is of special interest to citizens of Western Maryland, the precious document will be sold by the Parke-Bernet Galleries, Inc., next Tuesday night.

The Fort Cumberland Bicentennial Committee will submit a token bid of $200 for the volume—$1 for each year since the founding of the historic fort at Wills Creek.

The volume to be sold is the rare edition of George Washington's first printed work and came from the library of Sir Thomas Phillips, renowned bibliophile. It is being offered for sale by a London dealer who purchased it in 1946.

One copy of the book was sold for $560 in 1880 and has been, for decades, in the New York Public Library.

The title page of the Journal reads:

"The Journal of Major George Washington, sent by the Hon. Robert Dinwiddie, Esq., His Majesty's Lieutenant Governor, and Commander in Chief of Virginia, to the Commandant of the French Forces on Ohio. To which are added, the Governor's Letter, and a translation of the French Officer's Answer."

It was printed in Williamsburg, Va., by William Hunter in 1754.

The contents of only one page shows why the Fort Cumberland Bicentennial Committee is interested in the rare volume. Page 3, dated Wednesday, October 31, 1753, reads:

"I was commissioned and appointed by the Honorable Robert Dinwiddie, Esq. Governor, Etc. of Virginia, to visit and deliver a Letter to the Commandant of the French Forces on the Ohio, and set out on the intended journey the same day; the next,I arrived at Fredericksburg, and engaged Mr. Jacob Vanbraam, to be my French interpreter; and proceeded with him to Alexandria, where we provided Necessaries; from thence we went to Winchester, and got Baggage, Horses, Etc. and from thence we pursued the new Road to Wills-Creek, where we arrived the 14th of November.

"Here I engaged Mr. Gist to pilot us out, and also hired four others as Servitors, Barnaby Currin, and John MacQuire, Indian Traders, Henry Steward, and William Jenkins, and in Company with those Persons, left the Inhabitants the Day following.

"The excessive Rains and vast Quantity of Snow that had fallen, prevented our reaching Mr. Frazier's an Indian Trader, at the Mouth of Turtle-Creek, on Monongahela, till Thursday the 22d. We were informed here, that Expresses were sent a few Days ago to the Traders down the River, to acquaint them with the French General's Death and the Return . . ."

SRC Cooperates In Plans For Sewer Line

Don't do too much speculating if you see survey crews working along the route of the proposed Industrial Highway section of the $10,000,000 plus crosstown expressway program.

They are State Roads Commission workers, but they are only running the center line for the proposed route so the City of Cumberland will be able to locate a force main leading to its $2,000,000 sewage treatment plant which is being built at the end of Offutt Street.

Construction of the big program which includes a six-lane overhead bridge, the West Side expressway and the Industrial Highway in South Cumberland, is held up pending action of the Maryland Court of Appeals on an appeal filed by W. Wallace McKaig, local industralist, to an unanimous decision handed down by the three judges of the Fourth Judicial Circuit.

A decision is expected from the Court of Appeals next month.

Late last month, Mayor Roy W. Eves asked the SRC to proceed with such engineering work as is necessary to determine the exact right of way for the highway, so that it could furnish the city with the limits of easements needed for the highway.

The City of Cumberland must have this information so it can locate a 10-inch force main, which is to be laid just outside the SRC's easement line along some 2,500 feet of the highway, from a pumping station at Evitts Creek to the treatment plant.

Culvert Sought To Aid Industry In Lonaconing

Two requests for action on the part of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners in fixing a culvert into the new building site for the Tach-Fast Manufacturing Company, Inc., of Lonaconing were referred to County Roads Supervisor J. Walker Chapman yesterday for his investigation.

One of the letters was from Arthur G. Phillips, secretary of the industrial committee of the Lonaconing Business Men's Association, and the other came from the company itself.

Phillips noted in his letter that the company has been employing from 40 to 60 persons regularly since establishing in Lonaconing several years ago.

Now the company has come to the stage that is is necessary to expand and in so doing seeks to use a former pasture at Clicks Crossing on the east end of Lonaconing. The only access to this property, Phillips states, is an old bridge of questionable condition which can easily be replaced by a small culvert.

No work on the new building can be started until the culvert is installed because it is considered unsafe to allow heavy trucks carrying steel and building products to use the present bridge.

Bonds of four more trial magistrates were approved yesterday by the county commissioners. They were for Donald W. Mason, Cumberland magistrate; William Meagher, Cresaptown magistrate; Robert C. Pollock of Mt. Savage, new substitute magistrate, and Thomas Nash, committing magistrate for McCoole.

Weather

Yesterday was the second hottest day of the year and fair and warmer weather is promised today. Guard Armory Discussion Set Here Today

Adjutant General Will Visit City

Cumberland may get a new National Guard Armory. At least plans are now under way to rehabilitate the present Armory on South Centre Street, according to Major General Milton A. Reckord, adjutant general of the Maryland National Guard.

General Reckord last night said he and Colonel Chester Simmons, who is in charge of the construction section of the military department of the guard, will visit Cumberland this evening.

While here the two military men expect to confer with Mayor Roy W. Eves and Chief Judge George Henderson, as well as Col. Randolph Millholland, commanding officer of the 115th Infantry Regiment and Lt. Col. Robert C. Matlick, commanding officer of the First Battalion of the regiment.

General Reckord pointed out that he is ready to rehabilitate the present armory and spend some $100,000 on the program.

He is planning to hold an "informal meeting" with local officials and discuss another possible solution to the armory problem.

The present building has become overcrowded. General Reckord also plans to make a final inspection of the new armories constructed in Oakland and Frostburg. He will visit those two communities tomorrow and expects to be in Cumberland tomorrow evening.

The informal meeting is scheduled for the Fort Cumberland Hotel where the general and Col. Simmons plan to stay overnight. General Reckord has offices in the Fifth Regiment Armory in Baltimore.

Westernport To Prepare Damage List

Will Submit Details To County Board

The Mayor and Commissioners of Westernport decided at a meeting yesterday with the Allegany County Board of Commissioners and the Upper Potomac River Commission at the Cumberland Country Club to prepare a detailed claim of damages to their water system caused by the Savage River Dam.

Mayor Okey E. Michael said last night that City Attorney Horace P. Whitworth Sr. of Westernport will begin preparing the claim immediately in hopes that it can be submitted to the county commissioners at their meeting Friday.

House Bill 471, adopted at the recent session of the General Assembly, enables the county commissioners to pay up to $50,000 to the Mayor and Commissioners of Westernport for alleged damage to the water system as a result of the Savage River Dam.

The bill leaves with the county commissioners the authority to investigate the damages to determine their extent.

William H. Lemmert, chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, said that after the claim is submitted, the commissioners plan to meet again with the Upper Potomac River Commission for further action.

There is no money in the budget for the 1955-56 fiscal year starting July 1 for payment by the county commissioners to Westernport. Any payment would have to come from the contingency fund and be made up next year.

Judge Overrules Defense Motion

An opinion overruling a motion for a judgment in favor of the defendant despite a maximum $10,000 jury verdict for the plaintiff in a dispute between two women lawyers was filed yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court by Chief Judge George Henderson.

Miss Selma C. Arderson of Washington had brought suit for $10,000 damages against Miss Ada L. Taylor, now of this city. Miss Anderson was seriously injured in an automobile accident nea Milford, Del., June 14, 1953. She was a passenger in an automobile owned by Miss Taylor. Both worked for the Veterans Administration.

The trial here February 23 and 24 attracted considerable local interest because nine lawyers figured in the case. Both parties were attorneys, as were two other women who were witnesses. They also were riding in the car. In addition the plaintiff was represented in court by three attorneys and the defendant by two.

Judge Henderson acknowledged in his opinion that the damages are greater than would have been awarded had he been sitting as a jury. However, he said, that is not enough to warrant granting a new trial.

In the opinion he also discusses the loss of salary and the question of whether the verdict was against the evidence and finally decides that it was not. Besides the opinion a judgment in favor of the plaintiff for $10,000 also was entered in the case yesterday.

Rescue Call Feature Of Fire Report

A call to the rescue of a child who was electrically shocked while taking a bath last November featured the annual report of the Cresaptown Volunteer Fire Company made by Fire Chief Arthur Winters at last night's regular meeting.

The call for the resuscitator was among the 28 alarms which the volunteer company answered between May 4, 1954 and April 26 of this year, Chief Winters reported.

A daughter of Leroy Michaels, Winchester Road, was shocked on November 3, 1954 when an electrical drop cord and light, hanging over the bathtub in the Michaels home, was accidentally pulled into the tub where the girl was bathing.

Quick action by the father, who was trained in first aid methods, was credited with saving the girl's life, Chief Winters' report indicated. Firemen were called to the Michaels home at 7:40 p. m. but did not need the resuscitator as the child had been revived by the father. A doctor was then called to treat the girl for some burns and shock she received.

After completing necessary first aid before the arrival of the doctor, firemen returned to the fire hall about 35 minutes later.

Among the other calls received by the Cresaptown group were nine brush fires, 12 building calls, two automobile alarms, two miscellaneous rubbish fires, a false alarm and a mutual aid call to help another fire company.

Chief Winters' report showed an average of 15 men answered each alarm and that property loss for the year amounted to only $1,175.

Grover Cleveland lost the presidency to Benjamin Harris in 1888 when the electoral votes were 233 to 168 for Harrison, although Cleveland had more popular votes, 5,540,050 to 5,444,337.

The 1908 election found William H. Taft with a majority of popular votes, 7,679,006, to 6,409,106 for William J. Bryan, but Taft's electoral college vote was much greater, 321 to 162.

In 1912 Woodrow Wilson defeated Progressive Theodore Roosevelt and Taft, Republican, by a small plurality of popular votes but the electoral vote was a landslide for Wilson, 435 to 88, and Taft got 8. Together, Taft and Roosevelt polled one and a half million more popular votes than Wilson.

The Mayor and City Council did not take any formal action on the students' proposal.

Two of the students, Barbara Gronbach and Sondra Wagner, will speak before the dinner meeting of the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce tonight at 6:30 o'clock at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club on the proposed resolution.
